What Is Life?
It Will Be Hoover,
Mars, China, Far Away,
Don't Despise the Pig.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

WHAT IS life? Said Shakespeare:

"A poor player, that struts and frets his hour upon the stage, a tale told by an idiot, full of sound and fury, signifying nothing."

Mazzini called life "a mission," and his was that.

"Life is real, life is earnest," said Longfellow, and Ben Franklin called it "a state of embryo," saying:

"A man is not completely born until he has passed through death."

Said Burke, when he lost his son:

"What shadows we are, and what shadows we pursue."

Goethe called life "the childhood of immortality," and Coleridge said:

"Life is but a thought."

OPINIONS ON life differ, even among moderns. Yesterday, Pauline Lodge, forty-five years old, working in Russia's New York headquarters, killed herself jumping from a window, and left this note:

"Bury me like a dog."

Her employer said:

"Miss Lodge was disgusted with life."

AT THE SAME time, Patrolman John Kennedy, who has had twelve operations since he was shot in the spine, insisted on a thirteenth operation, the removal of his right leg. Doctors said it might enable him to work, but chances were a thousand to one that it would kill him.

Kennedy said he must live usefully, on account of his wife and son, and insisted on the operation. He had it, and may live.

IF YOU HAD any doubt, which you probably hadn't, you know positively this morning that Mr. Hoover will be nominated by the Republicans. Instructed delegations give him more than the convention majority necessary for nomination.

The Democrat, whoever he may be, must get two-thirds of all the votes, an ingenious arrangement that makes it easier for political bosses to control a nomination. Getting two-thirds is not so easy.

IF IT WERE told on reliable scientific authority that strange, brass-colored inhabitants on Mars, with four pairs of hands and with four pairs of feet, were dying in tens of thousands, we should be interested, but not particularly sympathetic. They are so far away.

Newspapers give eight or ten lines to the fact that 30,000 Chinese flood refugees in the Hankow district will soon die of hunger because they cannot get more American wheat. Even that doesn't interest us much, for though they live on our planet, they also are far away. If one child were drowned in a bath tub, next door to you, that would mean something.

WE HAVE underestimated the pig. The University of Cincinnati says that gastric juice, taken from the stomachs of swine, injected into the muscles of an anemic patient, gives quick relief.

The University of Michigan had previously used extracts from the pig's stomach in fighting anemia.

Harvard medical school had achieved results with liver extract. But the gastric juice from the stomachs of swine appears to be most efficacious, immediately increasing the number of red blood corpuscles in the human patient.

Respect the poor pig, and remember that he would be clean if men would let him.

TWO YOUNG girls at the University of Oklahoma have recently died, and doctors are accused of performing criminal operations, causing death.

The public prosecutor says "a ring of at least a dozen doctors" have been performing operations on girls at the university, causing a number of deaths. The school and state authorities are making an investigation.

Facts should be published to convince some young people of 1932 that old-fashioned ideas of conduct are not all "silly and narrow-minded."

YESTERDAY FRANCE achieved a new high record in gold accumulation. Its surplus in Paris amounted to seventy-seven billion four hundred and eighty million francs, a nice collection, not counting large sums "ear marked" here and in other countries. When gold comes to Paris the French call it "repatriation," which means that the gold has come back to its own country.

The British supply of gold has also increased, and there may be something in the suggestion that Britain is using the new 150,000,000 pound special fund, easy to print now that England is off the gold basis, to buy gold dollars.

Some of those foreigners seem to know things about money that this innocent, high-minded nation does not know.

SOME OF US, apparently, still have money. Mr. Mills, new Secretary of the Treasury, said he would like to borrow four hundred and fifty million dollars on two per cent certificates and three per cent notes. He is offered ten times as much money as he asked for, and both notes and certificates sell at a premium.

GERMANY PLANS to employ 400,000 workers building great numbers of small suburban homes and in rural settlements.

STREET CAR MEN ACCEPT PAY CUT

Employes Vote 1,394 to 249 For Compromise Agreement With Railways Officials

The wage rift between the Pittsburgh Railways Company and the carmen was settled finally this afternoon when the employes voted to accept a percent compromise wage reduction of 7½ by a count of 1,394 to 249.

The officials had previously asked the men to accept a 10 per cent cut, but a last-minute compromise effected by the union and traction officials sent the men to the polls to vote on the 7½ per cent basis.

Long before the official count was announced there was strong indication that the reduction would be accepted. The new scale is for two years.

It reduces operators of one-man cars to 74 cents from 80 cents an hour, and on two-men cars from 70 cents to 65 cents.

The existing two-year wage pact expires at midnight tomorrow.

There were 1,645 ballots cast. Of these two were blank, it was reported.

Street Undermined In Heart of Detroit

DETROIT, April 29.—(AP.)—Acting on complaints from automobile drivers who said the pavement of Woodward avenue, Detroit's principal thoroughfare, "seemed to sink" as they drove over it, city officials last night found a hole, 20 feet deep, under the pavement near the Kirby avenue intersection, large enough to hold a street car and several automobiles.

Employes of the Department of Public Works said they believed sand and dirt around a large sewer pipe had been carried away by water escaping from the pipe.

J. Frederic Byers Named Board Head

J. Frederic Byers, vice president of the A. M. Byers Company, has been elected chairman of the board of directors, it was announced at the office of the company today. He succeeds E. M. Byers, who died recently following the use of water containing radium.

George A. Blackmore, vice president and general manager of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company, was elected a director of the A. M. Byers Company.

Piazza Arrested In Mysterious Fire

Philip Piazza, 19, for whom the river was dragged last November when his car was found abandoned on the Sixteenth Street Bridge, was taken into custody today in connection with a mysterious fire that damaged a vacant house in the 400 block Shadeland avenue, Tuesday, according to a police report.

Philip's brother, Michael, and his father, Anthony, all of Luzerne street, North Side, were released pending further investigation.

Shanghai Bomb Injures Envoy, Jap Generals

By MORRIS J. HARRIS

SHANGHAI, China, April 29.—(AP.)—Five high ranking Japanese army, navy and diplomatic officials were critically wounded today when a bomb burst among them as they sat in a reviewing stand watching a military parade in honor of the birthday of Emperor Hirohito.

All of them were in serious condition tonight, but the doctors thought they had a chance to recover.

Scores of foreign military officers, including a number of Americans, had left the reviewing stand a few minutes before the bomb was thrown.

TROOPS OUT

Japanese troops appeared in the streets of the Hongkew district immediately, resuming the military patrol withdrawn after the fighting in this area stopped two months ago. No one knew what the effect of this incident would be on the long-drawnout peace parleys between the Chinese and Japanese, but it appeared certain that these negotiations would suffer.

A mob of spectators swirled about the man someone spotted as the bomb thrower and beat him

WIFE OF SLAIN MAN BEATEN

While police sought her assailants, Mrs. Alberta Gregory, 23, wife of William J. Gregory, barrel-murder victim, was in a serious condition in West Penn Hospital today, her skull probably fractured.

Mrs. Gregory, who lives at 117 East Diamond street, North Side, was found unconscious at Twelfth street and Spring way last night.

She told detectives five men forced her into their automobile in Second avenue, beat her after a short ride, then tossed her from the car.

Detectives said they were interested in certain mysterious letters they heard Mrs. Gregory had received.

Five men arrested early today at Anderson and Lacock street, participating, police said, in a battle with eggs taken from a dairyman's truck, were turned over to detectives who said they answered the description of Mrs. Gregory's assailants. They are to be viewed by Mrs. Gregory.

Treasurer Extends Hours for Taxes

City Treasurer Richard W. Thompson today announced that the Treasurer's office would be open until 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to receive payments for second quarter city, school and water taxes. Tomorrow is the last day on which the tax may be paid at face.

Victoria Cross Hero Ends Life With Gun

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 29.—(AP.)—Maj. Evert W. Smith, V. C., retired British army officer, who was superintendent of communications for the Dominion of Canada during the World War, shot himself to death today in his home here.

VOTE DEVICE FEE PROBE PUSHED

Hirsh Company Books to Be Scanned in Quiz Tracing $169,000 in Commissions

Assistant County Solicitor Ralph H. Frank and M. C. Conick, auditor for Main & Co., aided by the Citizens' Committee, today were seeking further light on the $169,000 commission paid in the $1,000,000 sale of vote machines to Allegheny County.

They first planned to examine the books of the Electromatic Voting Machine Company, 811 City-County Building, which office is also occupied by Attorney H. D. Hirsh, counsel for the Poole Engineering and Machine Company, of Baltimore, makers of the machines.

AGREES TO PROBE

At the bankruptcy hearing of the Poole company in Baltimore yesterday, Hirsh offered to permit examination of all books and records of the Electromatic company, organized to sell the machines.

Frank said he had been unable to get in touch with Hirsh up to this afternoon. Conick said it was planned to question Hirsh later.

Hirsh was reported to have been delayed in leaving Baltimore.

C. G. Brown, secretary-treasurer of the Electromatic company, to whom the huge commissions were paid, could not be located yesterday or today. At his office in the Grant Building, which also is occupied by Attorney Hirsh, it was said Brown was out of the city. At his home members of his family said he was out of town and probably would not be back for a week.

CITIZENS JOIN PROBE

Chet Cooke, an official of the Poole company, who is also listed to be questioned, informed Solicitor Frank, through a third person that he had been detained in Baltimore and could not get to Pittsburgh today, Frank said.

State Senator Frank J. Harris, chairman of the Allegheny County Citizens Committee, named Attorney Alexander P. Lindsay to represent that organization in the investigation.

The Citizens Committee, which adopted a resolution to join in the

Hindenburg Election Contested by Hitler

BERLIN, April 29.—(INS.)—Adolf Hitler, Fascist leader, today formally challenged the constitutionality of the recent election to the presidency of Paul von Hindenburg, who defeated Hitler in the second or run-off poll.

Fascist headquarters announced suit had been filed on behalf of Hitler in the Federal Election Court, charging that Hitlerites had been illegally prohibited from broadcasting speeches during the campaign and had been subjected to police persecution.

VICTORY GOES TO STADTFELD

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—(AP.)—Judge Joseph Stadtfeld, Allegheny County, today was assured third place in the contest for State Superior Court when returns from 7,078 of the 8,181 districts in the state continued to give a lead of more than 93,000 votes.

The incomplete unofficial vote showed the four leaders' standing as follows:

Arthur H. James, Luzerne County, 668,439.

William M. Parker, Venango County, 660,506.

Joseph Stadtfeld, Allegheny County, 633,821.

Robert S. Gawthrop, Chester County, 540,002.

Returns from 7,841 districts today gave Senator James J. Davis a plurality of 186,243 over Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler for the Republican senatorial nomination. The totals were Davis, 883,742; Butler, 697,499.

Blimp 'Puritan' Soars Over City

The blimp Puritan, of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company passed over Bettis Airport early today en route to Akron, O., on a test flight from the naval proving grounds at Aberdeen, Md.

The ship, recently equipped with new type motors, has been at the naval grounds for several months, airport officials said. Radio communication was established as the ship passed over the airport. An Associated Press dispatch from Akron said the blimp landed at its home port at dawn.

Director Lang's Car Hits Tarentum Girl

Seeking to cross Fifth avenue, above Wood street, through a parade of cars, Miss Katheryn Fuherman, 24, of 308 Fifth avenue, Tarentum, was knocked down and bruised slightly when hit by the automobile of Director Edward G. Lang, of the Public Works Department.

Director Lang, Patrolman Daniel Walsh and Max Hollander, of Tarentum, placed Miss Fuherman in Hollander's car and took her to the Mercy Hospital.

Three P.C.W. Girls Win Whiteman Radio Prize

Made Debut on Air In Unexpected Audition

Fate just seems determined that three Pennsylvania College for Women girls must face a "mike" for careers. They were awarded their second radio recognition within three weeks today as Paul Whiteman, popular orchestra leader, selected them at KDKA to be heard on a coast-to-coast hookup with him tonight.

The trio, who won honors from a field of 25 finalists following auditions held here throughout the week, are Miss Virginia Miller, 21, of 820 Fordham street, Brookline; Miss Gene Llewellyn, 20, R. F. D. No. 1, Wilkinsburg, and Miss Alice McCorkle, 7021 Penn avenue, Point Breeze. The award was made by Whiteman, his fourteenth in as many cities. Ten of the 13 previous winners have since received broadcasting contracts.

The auditions were held in conjunction with Whiteman's appearance at the Stanley Theater for a week, beginning today, and the Pontiac automobile broadcast, which will be heard from KDKA at 10 o'clock. The runner-up for honors was "Chickie" Moss, of 1305 Beechview avenue, Beechview.

The winners started their harmonizing career unexpectedly three weeks ago. Miss McCorkle was scheduled for an audition at Station WWSW. Miss Llewellyn went along as accompanist. Miss Miller joined her pals at the station. While waiting for the audition, the girls sat at a piano and hummed a tune as Walter Sickle, substitute audition director, entered. Sickle asked that the three girls sing the number. Not knowing the words, they went over the number with "do-do-dadas." They were asked to put numbers together for a 15-minute program, and two weeks ago became "The Three So-and-Sos."

The unexpected tryout in the studio marked the first time the three girls had ever sung together. When Pontiac announced the opportunity for local radio aspirants to be heard on its weekly program tonight, the girls, hopeful, went into the contest.

'HIGHBALL' TAX BOOSTED

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(INS.)—Highballs fell a victim to the "soak everybody" policy of the Senate Finance Committee today.

By an almost unanimous vote the committee agreed to impose a 5 cents-a-gallon tax on carbonated waters. This is an increase of 3 cents a gallon over the House rate. The House rate on non-carbonated water was unchanged. The tax on grape juice was boosted 9 cents over the House rate to 11 cents a gallon and the excise on grape concentrate increased 4 per cent to 44 per cent.

On near beer, however, the House rate was reduced from 2 cents a gallon to 1¼ cents. Near beer brewers had testified that they were unable to compete with the illegal brewing of real beer.

Meanwhile, Senator Reed (Rep.), of Pennsylvania, said he would move to have the general sales tax adopted as an alternative to the high income and excise taxes making up the bill now under consideration.

NOTES WARN PROSECUTOR AND JUDGE

Police Redouble Armed Guard After Threats; Verdict Deadlock in Third Day

BULLETIN.

International News Service.

HONOLULU, T. H., April 29.—After 40 hours' deliberation, the "honor slaying" jury was reported today to be 11 to 1 for acquittal, with a white man as the lone holdout for conviction.

By JAMES ADAM

(Copyright, 1932, International News Service, Inc.)

HONOLULU, T. H., April 29.—Guards surrounding the ancient "Hall of the Chiefs," the scene of the Fortescue-Massie "honor slaying" trial, were redoubled today and the jury room was searched for infernal machines and secret wiring.

As the polyglot jury weighing the evidence in the case entered its third day of deadlocked deliberation, threatening letters were received by Prosecutor John C. Kelley and Judge Charles S. Davis.

A thorough search failed to reveal any bombs, but police refused to relax their vigilance as both Kelley and Judge Davis have been forewarned of possible violence.

DEFENDANTS NERVOUS

Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue and two naval enlisted men, Albert O. Jones and E. J. Lord, co-defendants in the trial, accused of the second degree murder of Joseph Kahahawai, remained in seclusion at their hotel, their nerves wracked by the long wait.

The case was placed in the jury's hands Wednesday at 4:24 p. m., Honolulu time. Unverified rumors placed the vote still at 10 to 2 for acquittal.

A flurry of excitement was caused by the police search of the jury rooms. Every nook and cranny was combed in vain. New guards were placed directly below the jury room, which is on the second floor of the "Hall of the Chiefs," and police were posted under the balcony opening off from the scene of the deliberations.

Honolulu itself remained calm, with no sign of racial disorders.

Moose Lodge Fined For Rum Violation

Latrobe Lodge, L. O. O. M., was fined $200 and the steward, William Prentice, was placed on probation for a year today by Judge F. P. Schoonmaker in United States District Court when a plea of guilty to violation of the liquor laws entered in connection with a raid December 31.

Killer Battles Guards, Cheats Chair for Hour

EDDYVILLE, Ky., April 29.—(AP.)—The grimmest drama ever enacted in Western State Penitentiary here marked the electrocution early today of three Negroes. Only after a guard had been stabbed and tear gas bombs had been brought into use to subdue one of the three men were the executions completed.

After resisting for an hour and a half efforts of officers to lead him from his cell in death row to the electric chair, Walter Holmes, 31, of Chicago, surrendered and followed his two companions in death.

The other two men, A. B. Cooksey, 23, of Madisonville, Ky., and Charles Rodgers, 23, of Chicago, went peacefully.

When prison officers then went to Holmes' cell he threw a bucket of water on them. Then he brandished an iron pipe, broken from a water connection, and defied the guards to take him. After efforts to conciliate him failed, Warden Tom Logan ordered the officers to use tear gas bombs to dislodge the prisoner. Three bombs were hurled into Holmes' cell before he capitulated.

Yesterday Holmes inflicted a slight wound on Claude Ramey, a guard, when Ramey, with other guards, took him his breakfast.

Cooksey was convicted of the murder of Police Chief John H. Ashby, of Madisonville. Rodgers and Holmes were sentenced for the fatal shooting of Tom Tillery, Elizabethtown farmer, in April, 1931.

Gem Robbery Mystery Girl Named in Society Revels

NEW YORK, April 29.—(INS.)—The New York Evening Journal, in an exclusive story today, says it has identified Helen Smith, the mystery woman in the $305,000 Glenby jewel robbery, as Buda Godman internationally famous lure in "Dapper Don" Collins' $1,000,000 blackmail syndicate, The Journal says.

"Today the Journal is able to tear aside some of the veil of mystery that has surrounded the woman since her arrest for the Glenby robbery and unfold some of the underworld history which links the woman with some of the important figures of the underworld, of Broadway, of Park avenue.

"Rothstein, Fallon, Rendigs, William Butler, Owney Madden, Charles A. Stoneham, members of the bench and bar, members of the sporting fraternity, race track figures, stars of the stage, celebrities of the sporting world.

"They all moved across the stage where Buda Godman played a leading role.

"For seven years Buda Godman was known to the occupants of 110 West Fifty-fifth street as Mrs. Stoneham. Her apartment was the scene of wild parties, gatherings of dope addicts and criminals.

"Collins brought his Park avenue society friends. Here Buda was showered with jewels and gold by the men of her world. Heavy bolts and chains guarded the doors to the apartment against intrusion by the uninitiated."

ROOSEVELT CARRIES COUNTY BUT MAY LOSE DELEGATES

N. Y. GOVERNOR WINS POPULAR MAJORITY

Smith Leader Here Sees 'Happy Warrior' Get Support at Convention

Gov. Roosevelt, of New York, on the face of unofficial returns, has received a popular majority in Allegheny County over Al Smith as a Democratic presidential preference, yet Smith is entitled to at least seven, and possibly eight, of the county's 18 delegate votes on the first official ballot at Chicago.

Roosevelt's plurality was made possible by a strong vote in the Thirtieth Congressional District, in which are Millvale, Etna and Sharpsburg, the county's biggest Democratic sections. In the Thirty-second, Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth, Smith appears to have the edge.

Roosevelt delegates in all districts were pledged to abide by the preference vote of their constituents. Smith delegates ran uninstructed. Where the preference vote was for Smith, Roosevelt delegates are placed in the contradictory position of having to support the New York Governor under their pledges.

In the Thirty-first District, where the Roosevelt-Smith vote is extremely close, one of the delegates elected is uninstructed and for Smith, apparently the only one of the out-and-out Smith delegates to have been successful.

Charles A. Jones, leader of the Smith faction here, today expressed satisfaction with the outcome and predicted that Smith would get more than a score of votes from Pennsylvania on the first ballot. To this setback for Roosevelt, whose managers had forecast at least 66 out of 76 votes for their man, is joined yesterday's result in Connecticut, where Smith handily defeated Roosevelt.

Luzerne Returns Cut Roosevelt State Lead

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—(AP.)—Unofficial returns from 330 districts out of 400 in Luzerne County today reduced the plurality of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, over Alfred E. Smith in last Tuesday's primary.

Unofficial figures from 6,677 of the 8,181 districts in the state, make Roosevelt's lead stand at 17,955. The total vote with 1,504 districts missing in the state was Roosevelt 108,771; Smith, 90,816.

The official count began today in all counties, but in some counties will not be completed for nearly two weeks.

Meanwhile, factional leaders differed materially in their interpretation of Tuesday's primary vote.

COLLINS' CLAIM

Roosevelt supporters were convinced that the developments had sustained their pre-election predictions. They cited Roosevelt's margin in the preferential vote and claimed the entire eight votes to be cast by 16 delegates-at-large as well as more than 50 of the 68 district delegate votes.

On the other hand, John R. Collins, state chairman, who has advocated an uninstructed delegation and was prominent in the Smith campaign, said Pennsylvania's 76 votes in the national convention would be "almost evenly divided" between Roosevelt and Smith. He interpreted the vote to show a desire of Pennsylvania Democrats to "insure the selection of the strongest candidate the national democracy can put forward."

On the face of reports now available, he added, "it would seem that Mr. Smith or some other aspirant will receive at least 34 Pennsylvania votes when the convention ballots."

Connecticut Votes Assured for Smith

HARTFORD, Conn., April 29.—(INS.)—Sixteen Connecticut votes in the national Democratic convention were virtually certain for Alfred E. Smith as presidential nominee today.

Practically complete returns today from town primaries, conventions and caucuses gave the former New York Governer a total of 445 definitely pledged delegates to the state convention, which will elect the national convention delegation, May 16 and 17. Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt had only 61 instructed supporters.

Hoover Felicitates Japanese Emperor

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP.)—President Hoover sent the following cablegram to the Emperor of Japan today, which is the Emperor's thirty-first birthday:

"I extend to Your Majesty cordial birthday greetings and best wishes for your continued happiness and well being."

PRESSING THE CHARGE -:- By Quin Hall

BLAME SHARED BY ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, April 29.—(AP.)—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt today, testifying as a defense witness in the trial of Joseph A. Broderick, state superintendent of banks, assumed partial responsibility for delay in closing the Bank of United States.

Broderick is on trial for alleged neglect of duty in failing to close the bank earlier than he did.

Sitting in a chair beside Judge George L. Donnellan, with his folded hands resting on the railing, Gov. Roosevelt testified that he had conferred frequently with Broderick from the autumn of 1929 until December 11, 1930, when the bank closed, and made it plain that he considered he shared the responsibility of supervision of banks in the state.

The Governor's view of his responsibility was stated in answer to a question as to whether he knew about the efforts to merge the bank with a stronger institution.

Glass Bill Change Urged by Bankers

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(INS.)—Although bankers generally are coming to view the Glass bill as constructive banking legislation, they favor some alterations in it, President Hoover was told today by Guy Emerson, vice president of the Bankers Trust Company, New York City. Principal objection to the bill is aroused by the provision which would divorce banks entirely from dealing in securities, he said.

'Evidence' Fumes Clear Courtroom

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—(AP.)—Fumes from the contents of a two-quart bottle held as evidence against three barbers cleared the room of Magistrate Edward F. Roberts in a police station in North Philadelphia of spectators and witnesses today.

The prisoners, Louis Gitlin, Charles Borsa and Mike Stein, were arrested outside a beauty shop early today. None would explain what he was doing.

Oldest U. S. Woman Writer Sick in Ohio

CARDINGTON, O., April 29.—(INS.)—Mrs. Alice E. Van Sickle, 86, oldest active newspaperwoman in the United States, was reported to be critically ill with double pneumonia at her home here. The writer, who is widely known as a correspondent for various metropolitan papers, became ill a week ago. Her physicians said today there was slight chance for her recovery.

Muldowney Congratulated In Wire From Sullivan

Congressman P. J. Sullivan apparently had "forgiven" Councilman Michael J. Muldowney today for winning the bitterly contested nomination for Congress at the polls Tuesday in which Muldowney defeated the incumbent. Muldowney, who had the backing of State Senator James J. Coyne, received a telegram from his opponent late yesterday, which said:

"Congratulations on your fine victory and sportsmanlike campaign. With best wishes for a successful administration as congressman.

"P. J. SULLIVAN."

BOARD STARTS VOTE COUNT

An official return board of about 80 men and women, appointed by the County Commissioners, began at noon today to count the votes cast in Allegheny County's primary election Tuesday. County Commissioner W. D. Mansfield and C. M. Barr were presiding, and it was expected Chairman C. C. McGovern would join them in a few days if he is well enough to leave Valley Hospital, Sewickley, where he is convalescing from a broken ankle.

Pittsburgher Made Aide to Steel Head

NEW YORK, April 29.—(AP.)—Announcement was made today of the appointment of Charles S. Belsterling as a vice president of the United States Steel Corporation, and of R. E. Zimmerman, of Pittsburgh, as assistant to the new president, William A. Irvin.

Mr. Belsterling, who assumes charge of traffic for the corporation, has been general commerce attorney for the organization since 1914. Mr. Zimmerman has for some time been assistant to the vice president of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company.

BLAZE SWEEPS STOVE PLANT

Several firemen were overcome by smoke and two were slightly injured fighting a blaze which swept through the F. W. Shepler stove works, at 1312-1314 Sheffield street, North Side, early today, with estimated loss of $40,000.

The stricken firemen were revived at the scene and returned to duty. William McClain, of Engine Company No. 44, and Irwin Evans, of Engine Company No. 41, suffered injuries to their hands. They were treated by a nearby physician and also returned to duty.

Twenty-five pieces of fire apparatus were rushed to the scene as police ordered nearby residents from their homes. From the adjoining Puritan Paint and Oil Company plant at 1306-10 Sheffield street firemen removed vats of benzine.

HOUSE DELAYS ECONOMY BILL

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP.)—With a record vote promised on an attempt to lower to $1,000 the exemptions from the 11 per cent wage cut, the House resumed consideration today of the economy bill.

A drive by insurgents against withdrawal of federal aid to vocational education faced the members as the already riddled measure came up again.

Speaker Garner said the slow progress on the measure indicated that the House would not complete it until late next week, explaining that there still were many controversial items in it, including those affecting World War veterans.

MASSIE JUDGE, PROSECUTOR PERILED

Hunt Bombs in Jury Room After Threats; Police Redouble Armed Guard

sonal charge of William Hoppal, assistant police chief.

Police Chief Charles Weeber said he wanted to take no chances with a demonstration in case a verdict is returned.

The delay in reaching a verdict has plainly upset the defendants.

Mrs. Fortescue's eyes are swollen and red, as if from crying, and she has been unable to sleep or eat. The face of the aristocratic mainland society woman was more strained and haggard looking than ever.

Lieut. Massie, who shouldered the blame for shooting the man whom he said admitted an attack on his wife, is nervous. Asked how he felt, he replied sharply:

"Just fair. How do you expect me to feel?"

The two sailors, Lord and Jones, are gloomy. Jones said:

HINT 22 BALLOTS TAKEN

Chief Defense Counsel Clarence Darrow and Mrs. Thalia Massie, the central figure of the tragedy, have tried their best to spread cheer during the dragging hours.

Prosecutor Kelley's words discounting reports that an acquittal was favored by the jury served to intensify the gloom. He said:

"It is just as likely to be the other way for a conviction."

One report was that 22 ballots have been taken already.

Judge Davis' statement that he intended to hold the jury "for a reasonable length of time because this is an important case," was interpreted by court attaches to mean that dismissal, in case of a hopeless deadlock, will not come before tonight or Saturday. Judge Davis said:

"I want to give them every chance to come to a unanimous verdict. The fact that the jury hasn't asked for a single thing since beginning its deliberations makes me think that a conclusion can be reached without any interference."

CASE GRIPS HONOLULU

Honolulu itself can talk of nothing but the outcome of the trial. Much speculation centered on the possibility of a manslaughter conviction for Lieut. Massie and acquittal for his co-defendants.

Prosecutor Kelley reiterated his statement that if a verdict of conviction was returned against one of the defendants, he would be willing to nolle prosse the charges against the others.

Kelley also pointed out that the proposal of Defense Counsel Montgomery Winn to accept a majority verdict was illegal. He said:

"I wouldn't agree to it whether it was legal or not."

Woman in Cult Prays Capone Will Reform

BRIARCLIFF MANOR, N. Y., April 29.—(INS.)—A prayer for Al Capone's conversion from evil ways to good was offered by a woman member of the house party of the First Christian Fellowship meeting in session today.

The plea was made at the suggestion of the Rev. Dr. N. D. Buchman, leader of the cult, in a discussion of the kidnaping of the child of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. The woman's prayer ran:

"We pray for Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh that their hearts may be comforted.

"We pray that Thou will move the hearts of the kidnapers.

"O, God, Bless Al Capone. He has been such a power for evil. Send some one who will make good very real to him."

$21,840 of Vote Machine Fee Demanded in Cash

By E. P. O'BRIEN
Staff Correspondent

BALTIMORE, April 29.—Further inquiry into the voting machine question was to shift from here to the office of Attorney H. D. Hirsh in Pittsburgh, where M. C. Conick, chief auditor of Main & Co., and Assistant County Solicitor Ralph H. Frank were to examine the books of the Electromatic Voting Machine Company on Saturday.

Hirsh, at the hearing yesterday in the Poole Engineering and Machine Company's plant, offered to permit examination of all books and records of the company, which he organized to sell Allegheny County its million dollars' worth of voting machines.

$169,000 PAYMENT

A total of $169,000 was paid by the Poole Company to C. G. Brown, secretary-treasurer of the Electromatic Company, whose address is 811 City-County Building, according to the testimony of C. L. Wannen, assistant treasurer of the Poole Company.

This office is the office of the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission, of which Hirsh is Pittsburgh representative.

Most of the payments were made by New York drafts to Brown, Wannen testified, but one payment was in cash. This payment, amounting to $21,840, was made in the Baltimore office of the Commercial Credit Company to Hirsh on September 24, 1931, Wannen testified, and although he could not explain why, he said he was instructed by the Commercial Credit Company's representative to get the cash in $100 and $50 bills. Hirsh refused to sign a receipt for this money, Wannen said.

LEGAL EXPENSE

The Electromatic Company was paid $140 on each machine delivered to Allegheny County, Wannen testified, and in addition was also paid $15,000 in September in excess of any payments authorized by contracts the Poole Company had with Electromatic.

S. Proctor Brady, president of the defunct Poole Engineering and Machine Company, called to the stand by Hirsh, was asked:

"Do you recollect what this money was for."

Brady answered:

"You informed us that for nearly a year you had been engaged in expensive litigation and after you talked with Mr. Hopkins (representative of the Commercial Credit Company) in Pittsburgh he returned to Baltimore and it was paid."

On cross examination by Frank, Brady was asked why this payment was entered on the books as commission payment to Brown instead of legal expense and he testified that the payment was made at the direction of Hopkins who was in charge of the financial affairs of the Poole Company for the Commercial Credit Company.

PACT MADE HERE

Brown got $40,000 out of the final instalment of $400,467 paid by Allegheny County for the voting machines, according to Brady's testimony. An authorization to pay Brown this $40,000 was made out on stationery of the William Penn Hotel the day after Christmas and Brady said he was instructed to make this authorization by Duane Dills, counsel for the Commercial company.

It is the disbursement of this $169,000, that is engaging the interest of Conick and Frank.

Hirsh, in discussing the case, said:

"I have nothing to conceal. It was a perfectly legitimate transaction. The Electromatic Company was organized to sell voting machines. They were sold, delivered and paid for. Naturally we got our money."

No date was set for a further hearing in the Poole company bankruptcy case.

COAL DICTATOR PLAN SCORED

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP.)—A. M. Liveright, of Clearfield, Pa., counsel for the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers Association, contended before a Senate committee today that the commission proposed in the Davis-Kelly bill for stabilizing the bituminous industry would be a "dictator."

The bill is unconstitutional, he testified, pointing out that it attempts to bring mining under federal control through the "device" of regulating interstate shipment of the coal after it is produced.

Liveright argued that coal does not belong in the class with commodities which have been barred from interstate commerce, such as impure food and drugs and stolen automobiles.

COMMERCE MEN URGE SUBWAY BE DROPPED

Chamber Doubts Employment Aid, Sees Year's Delay; City Council Gets Report

The Chamber of Commerce opposed the construction of any subway at present in a report of its special subway committee presented to City Council today.

The committee, headed by W. L. Munro, was orginally asked to study the Grant street subway plan offered by Norman F. Brown and Edward Snodgrass, Jr. The result of its study was a recommendation that no steps be taken.

The construction would not employ a large number of men, the report, which was made by Munro, declared. It went on:

"Municipal projects for the prompt employment of workingmen in large numbers are available, but subway construction is not one of them."

Work could not be started within a year, even if litigation with public utility interests could be avoided, it was declared. Doubt was expressed as to whether the street car subway is the answer to traffic congestion in the modern city.

Construction of the subway would add about three-fourths of a mill to the present tax burden, the report said. It pointed out that the subway vote was taken 13 years ago and was 15,475 in favor and 13,414 against. There are now about 255,000 voters in Pittsburgh and the report questioned whether the vote would bind them to the project.

SHANGHAI BOMB INJURES ENVOY

severely before the police broke through and dragged him away.

Later the military authorities said they had wrung a confession from a Korean that he was the man who threw the bomb. Six other men, said to be Chinese, also were under investigation.

ENVOY INJURED

The most seriously injured Japanese official was Mamoru Shigemitsu, the Japanese minister to China, who may lose one of his legs. A minor operation was performed immediately after he reached the hospital, and he was expected to recover.

Kuramatsu Murai, the Japanese consul-general, also was badly hurt, his left leg shattered by a fragment of the bomb.

Another piece struck Gen. Yoshinori Shirakawa, the Japanese commander-in-chief, knocking out all his teeth. Gen. Kenkichi Uyeda, who was in command at the beginning of the Shanghai battle, lost three toes and received serious body wounds. Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, the naval commander-in-chief, lost an eye.

POWERFUL GRENADE

The bomb was tossed into the middle of the platform by a man in the great crowd spread out before it. It was a powerful hand grenade, the military officials said. Immediately after it landed in the stand, blowing the wooden structure to bits, the military authorities threw a strict military patrol around Hongkew Park for a radius of two miles. Hundreds of persons, Japanese and foreigners alike, were searched.

Among the suspects arrested by the Japanese after the bombing was W. S. Hibbard, an American employe of the government of the International Settlement.

They took him to military headquarters, where his legs and hands were bound with ropes, he said, and he was subjected to a severe questioning for three hours.

Shortly after Hibbard was arrested, United States Consul General Edwin S. Cunningham sought to communicate with him, but the Japanese refused the consul general's request. Later Hibbard was released and the Japanese officials notified Mr. Cunningham.

Eskimo Boy Dares Arctic Gales to Save Mother

OTTAWA, April 29.—(AP.)—A 12-year-old Eskimo boy took a high place today in the long roster of heroes of the Far North.

Harnessed to a sled with two ailing dogs, he saved his sick mother's life by pulling her over 160 miles of ice and snow to safety at Wager Inlet post.

The feat, performed in the midst of winter, the wildest time of the year, is described by Constable J. W. McCormack, of the Cherfield Inlet post, in the annual report of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Eladenac, father of the unnamed boy, died in 1930. His wife, Kudluk, stuck to her oath not to remarry, and her son took up the task of hunting food. But his luck was bad, meat was scarce, and his mother became seriously ill.

Then the dogs began to die of distemper, until only two were left. So, when he saw his mother was getting no better he put her and his 3-year-old brother on the sled and started the terrible journey, from igloo to the post.

RADIO APPEAL MADE TO GANGSTER IN LINDY BABY HUNT

FLEISHER TOLD TO CONTACT 'MAIN MUG'

Mystery Message in Racket Jargon Broadcast; Lawyer Named as Intermediary

International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Dramatic injection of Harry Fleischer, of Detroit's Purple Gang, into the very heart of the Lindbergh baby kidnaping mystery today gave heightened tenseness to the search for the abductors.

An amazing message was broadcast last night to the gangster sought ever since the infant was stolen, asking him to "contact immediately" with the "main mug."

Harry A. Utterhart, noted attorney, was named as an intermediary through whom communication could be made.

Left at the broadcast station by a stranger, the odd message was sent out after consultation by radio officials with the attorney. The unidentified man had said:

"Fleischer will be listening in at 11 o'clock sharp tonight."

Such a powerful range did the broadcast have, it could be picked up throughout the United States, in Canada and at sea. Fleischer has frequently been mentioned as being seen with the stolen Lindbergh baby in Canada or reported with it in a boat off shore of the eastern coast.

The broadcast message read:

"To Harry Fleischer:

"Dear Harry: Contact me immediately through my attorney, Harry A. Utterhart, 36 West Forty-fourth street. Do it through third party. No danger of a tip-off.

"I am the party who was the main mug of that Ohio joint where you and Big Mike grifted. Remember the souper you and the Turk gave me."

There was no signature.

In thieves' jargon "grifter" or "grifted" means "promoting yourself a piece of change," usually through crook activities. "Souper" means a match, while "main mug" stands for "boss" or "big boy."

ASKED TO SEND MESSAGE

The broadcast was preceded only by the announcement the station was asked to send the message. No explanation was made to the radio audience.

Utterhart, a captain of military intelligence during the World War, admitted the mysterious note involved the Lindbergh case. He said:

"I admit I have met this man who calls himself the "Big Mug." He is now in a respectable business, but was once a racketeer. But he is not a national figure, at least as far as the public prints are concerned.

"I am just permitting use of my name in this broadcast at the request of an attorney friend I trust—just doing as any other would do, trying to restore the Lindbergh baby to its parents."

Then Utterhart asked a question of the reporters interviewing him:

"Have any of you men heard of a story that Al Capone bought the baby from the original kidnapers for $25,000?"

Informed such rumors had been circulated about the imprisoned Chicago lord of racketeers, he refused to answer a counter-question as to what led him to make the inquiry.

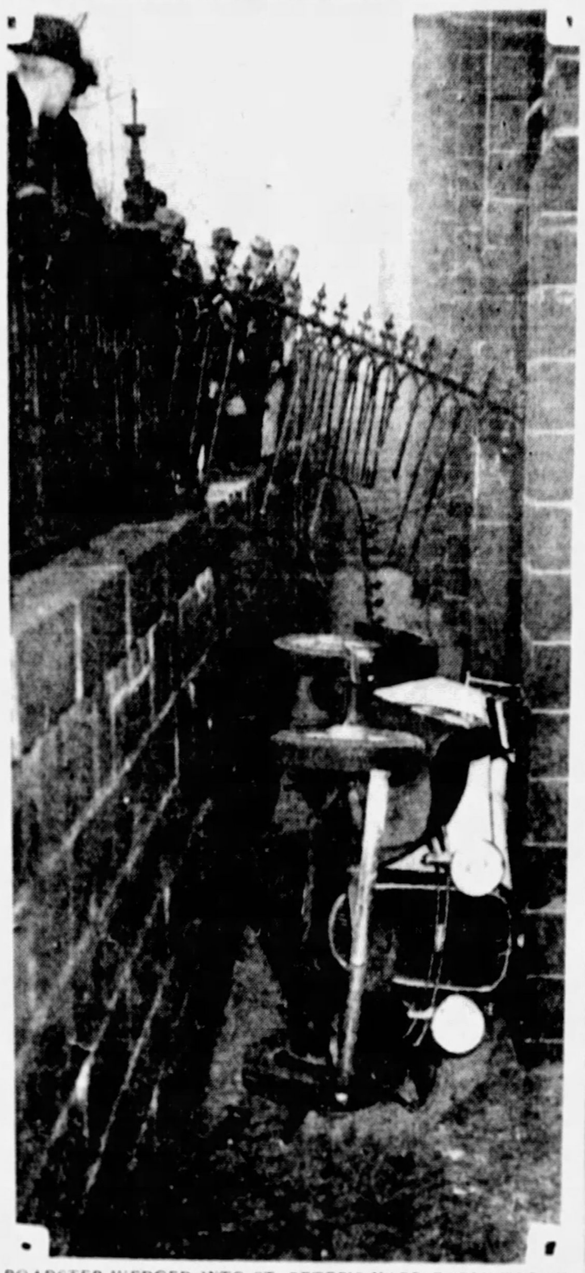
MYSTERY MOVES

NORFOLK, Va., April 29.—(INS.)—Three separate and equally mysterious moves by the negotiators for the kidnaped Lindbergh baby made up the latest developments in the amazing Norfolk angle of the case today.

They were an airplane trip by John Hughes Curtis, chief of the negotiators, a seven-hour motor trip by the Very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, rector of Christ's Episcopal Church, and a telephone conversation between the third of the negotiators, Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, retired, and Col. Lindbergh.

There was open indication that some delay has been experienced in the work of the group here, although it was not regarded as of sufficient consequence to cause any alarm. The negotiators indicated they were awaiting some signal from the men with whom they are dealing.

SMASHED IN CHURCHYARD



ROADSTER WEDGED INTO ST. PETER'S YARD EARLY TODAY

The car, owned by the Rev. Raymond J. Buechel, West View priest, that passersby at dawn today found wedged, wrecked in this areaway at St. Peter's Catholic Church, Sherman avenue and West Ohio street, after a crash through a five-foot iron fence. Police believe the car had been stolen. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

PRIEST'S AUTO IN CRASH

An automobile owned by the Rev. Raymond J. Buechel, pastor of St. Athanasius Catholic Church, West View, crashed through an iron fence surrounding St. Peter's Church, Sherman avenue and West Ohio street, early today, and was found later by a pedestrian wedged at the bottom of an areaway, partly demolished.

The Rev. Buechel informed police, they reported, that he had spent the night at the rectory of St. Peter's and had left his car parked in Sherman avenue. The ignition key had not been removed.

Tracks of the car were found in West Park, opposite the church, police said. They believe the car was stolen by someone who drove around the park, lost control and leaped out before the crash.

LONG BEACH, April 29.—(AP.)—An active life in the interest of health, halted four years ago when she fell and fractured one of her hips, ended yesterday in the death of Mrs. Ruth E. St. Denis, mother of Ruth St. Denis, the dancer.

AKRON IN AIR FOR DAY'S TEST

LAKEHURST, N. J., April 29.—(AP.)—The Navy dirigible Akron today successfully completed an all-night cruise and after tieing up to her mooring mast for a brief period, took off again on an all-day test flight.

The cruise last night was the first the giant ship had taken since it was damaged in an accident at the airport two months ago.

A gentle breeze was blowing across the naval air station when the ship pointed its nose skyward today with Lieut. Commander H. V. Wiley in command. She had aboard her full crew of about 90 officers and men in addition to a number of officers from the dirigible Los Angeles.

When she landed this morning after the all-night cruise, Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Naval Air Service and one of the high naval officials aboard, said he was pleased with her performance.

The ship was damaged on Washington's Birthday as she was about to go aloft with a congressional investigating committee.

'Oxygen Baby' Shows Steady Improvement

Virginia Griffith, aged 6 months, South Side's oxygen baby, showed steady improvement, according to Dr. J. A. New, city physician, today. The child, ill of pneumonia, has been given oxygen by police radio crews for the past 87 hours.

GOVERNOR FOES DINE IN PEACE WITH HOOVER

Pinchot Gets Roosevelt's Honor Seat as State Heads Forget Political Warfare

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP.)—Governors of more than half the nation's states—among them strong political enemies of President Hoover—joined in praises of the chief executive last night as host at "a very pleasant dinner."

Leaving the White House after being entertained by the President and Mrs. Hoover as members of the governors' conference, one after another of the state executives gave this as their estimate of the evening.

ENMITIES FORGOTTEN

Political enmities and personal differences apparently were forgotten. In the words of Gov. Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, there was "not a pol and not a tick" throughout the dinner or the musicale that followed.

Both Govs. Roosevelt, of New York, and Ritchie, of Maryland, candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination, found opportunity to discuss national affairs with the man they hope to displace in the White House.

Roosevelt said:

"Oh, yes, we talked. But you know one cannot disclose his conversation after being at the White House."

The Governors and their wives and hostesses—nearly 50 in all—arrived at the White House amid a barrage of photographers' flashlights. Some came in limousines, some in 20-cent taxicabs, and some in motors bearing the seals of their states.

PINCHOT HONORED

As the guests moved from the east room into the state dining room, they found place cards somewhat altered from the seating schedule first drawn up by White House social arbiters.

Under the first list, Roosevelt was placed but one seat away from the President. Last night Pinchot occupied that place, while Mrs. Pinchot, defeated in Tuesday's primary in Pennsylvania by Representative McFadden, sat upon Mr. Hoover's right.

The New York Governor was given a seat at the oblong table nearer the doorway of the dining room, five or six places removed from the Chief Executive. Ritchie's seat was nearby.

Asked her impression of that part of the evening spent beside Mr. Hoover, Mrs. Pinchot joined the men in saying:

"It was a very pleasant dinner."

Pinchot Rides in Car Boosting Dry Repeal

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(INS.)—Gov. Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, ardent dry, attended the banquet of the governors at the White House last night.

He was driven to the Executive Mansion in the car of a relative, William P. Eno, of this city. Beneath the license tag on the Eno car was another tag, bearing the legend:

"Repeal the Eighteenth Amendment."

2 MEN ACCUSED BY GIRL SEIZED

Two men indicted for an alleged attack upon Dorothy Sonerhelder, 20, of 1611 Manhattan street, were in County Jail today following their capture which climaxed a seven-month search.

Arrest of the pair, Arthur Gierster, 21, of South Fairmount avenue, and Daniel Kennedy, 23, of Glenshaw, followed an automobile accident Tuesday night at Bigelow boulevard and Herron avenue in which Kennedy's brother, Glen, was involved.

When Glen Kennedy was arrested he used his brother Daniel's driving license and name, according to Detective Walter Monaghan. Recognizing the name as that of a man wanted for an alleged attack, Monaghan investigated and learned Glen had used his brother's name. From Glen, Monaghan said, he learned the whereabouts of Gierster and his brother, Daniel Kennedy.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 29.—(INS.)—When Gov. James Rolph, Jr., leaves Washington at dawn tomorrow on his return to California, his plane, piloted by Col. Roscoe Turner, will seek a national passenger airplane speed record in a Washington-Los Angeles "dawn to dusk" flight.

Bandmaster Here Credits Wife for Spurring Diet

No less than Paul Whiteman, the comparatively thin music master, came to Pittsburgh today with the newest and shortest reducing diet on record. Two words, his own:

"Get married!"

Whiteman stepped off a Pennsylvania Railroad train, pointed to a beautiful, slim, titian-haired young woman who is Mrs. Whiteman, and admitted:

"She gets the credit. The last time I played Pittsburgh I budged the scales at 288. Now I'm down to 188. Why? Because the missus insisted. When we were married I promised her I'd take that surplus off. And I've gone down faster that the stock market."

Well, what does one eat to lose weight? How about beer?

"Oh, you've got to cut out beer. By the way, the last time we played Pittsburgh there was good beer here."

Whiteman, here with his band and popular blues singer, Miss Mildred Bailey, for a week at a downtown theater, figures to lose a few additional pounds in Pittsburgh.

NEW YORK, April 29.—(AP.)—Florenz Ziegfeld, producer of the "Follies," has leased the Earl Carroll Theater for a series of musical comedies and vaudeville shows, it was announced today, and has re-named it the Casino. Carroll's Vanities left the theater after a suit for non-payment of rent.

7 GIRLS' DEATHS LINKED IN QUIZ

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 29.—(AP.)—An osteopath was in jail and a surgeon was sought as an investigation continued today into the deaths of seven young women, allegedly from illegal operations. Of the seven, two were University of Oklahoma co-eds.

The osteopath, J. W. Elsminger, was held without bond on a murder charge in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Lee Wyckoff, 21, university student. He pleaded not guilty.

Search was pressed for Dr. Richard E. Thacker, linked by investigators with the death of Mrs. Frank Lee, 17-year-old university freshman and secret bride of a university athlete.

Authorities of Oklahoma and Cleveland counties absolved the university administration of all blame in connection with the deaths of the two girls. Norman, seat of the school, is near here. University officials also are conducting an investigation.

Dr. Thacker has been missing since Saturday, when he was charged with murder as a result of the death of Miss Robbie Lou Thompson, 21, telegraph company employe. Deaths of Mrs. F. S. Roach, Mrs. Isobel F. Ferguson, Ruth Hall and Marie Epperson were others under scrutiny.

RABBI DEPOSED IN RADIO FUSS

COLUMBUS, O., April 29.—(INS.)—Rabbi Jacob Tarshish, who attacked his congregation Sunday for opposing his radio sermons, is to be relieved of his duties at once, trustees of the Bryden Road Temple said today.

Although the rabbi had resigned, effective July 1, as a result of his talk Sunday when he accused his congregation of opposing him because he "dared to do something new," there will be no need for his services after his regular Friday talk tonight, the trustees announced.

Members of the congregation protested that talks from the temple on motion pictures, sponsored by a Newark business firm, were commercial and beneath his dignity.

Radio sermons also made it easy for members of the congregation to stay away from the temple, it was charged.

Millikan Invited To Rapidan Camp

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP.)—Dr. R. A. Millikan, of Pasadena, Cal., a Nobel prize winner and chairman of the executive counsel of the California Institute of Technology, was invited by President Hoover today to accompany his medicine ball cabinet on the weekend trip to his Rapidan fishing camp.

RUINED HOUSE YIELDS MILLION IN TREASURE

Man Declares Charge of Bigamy Was Brought to Deprive Him of Riches

LITTLE VALLEY, N. Y., April 29.—(AP.)—Faced with a charge of bigamy, Archie Campbell, of Buffalo, has told a story of finding buried treasure worth nearly a million dollars.

His attorney, Robert P. Galloway, of Silver Creek, contends the desire to wrest the treasure from Campbell is the real motive behind the bigamy charge and other actions pending against him.

A hearing on the bigamy charge before a magistrate here yesterday, was adjourned for a week, to enable Galloway to draft a more complete and detailed story of the treasure trove.

FUNDS OLD STOCKS

The treasure, according to Campbell, consists of a tin box packed with musty stock certificates, once of comparatively small value. Campbell says he found it under the cellar wall of a ruined house in Panama, N. Y., near Chautauqua Lake, which was built by James W. Pease, who died more than 40 years ago. Campbell said:

"The box contained an old ink well, an old candle-holder, a paper that looks to me to be a will, some water-soaked papers that looked like stock certificates and $500 in old money.

"I spent the money. I gave the ink well, the candlestick and the will to a lawyer, and I kept the stock certificates."

MILLION DOLLAR TROVE

Campbell said he had the certificates verified and exchanged for more modern stocks. Twenty thousand shares of one stock, worth nearly $600,000 at present prices, and a number of shares of two other leading stocks, which he claims to have received in the exchange, would bring the present value of his find close to $1,000,000.

The bigamy charge against Campbell was brought by a woman who calls herself Mrs. Ray Campbell, but who Campbell says is Miss Elva Gates. The woman lives on the Pease farm, where the fortune is said to have been found. She said last night Campbell's story of the find was "true in part," but that "Mr. Campbell has no right to the property he has taken."

Campbell claims he was led to the box by guides from the spirit world. He said:

"I get impressions, and I had an impression of this buried box. I went to the old cellar and began to dig. I dug all around the cellar wall before I found it."

THE GOVERNORS OF NEIGHBORING STATES—PENNSYLVANIA, NEW YORK, VIRGINIA AND MARYLAND—AT WHITE HOUSE RECEPTION FOR 31 GOVERNORS

2 Girl 'Gobs' Jailed, Betrayed by Vanity

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—(AP.)—Two young brides, who, on a bet they could pass for sailors, dressed in their husbands' uniforms, lost their wager and their liberty as well when police arrested them today primping before a mirror in a public building.

The girls, held on charges of disorderly conduct, gave their names as Mrs. Christina Griffin and Mrs. Harriet Gurr, both 19 years old.

Conway Rail Wreck Blocks Line 3 Hours

FREEDOM, Pa., April 29.—Eight freight cars on a train of 28 were derailed early today at the west entrance to the Conway yards, blocking the yard entrance for nearly three hours, but causing but slight damage to the cars and switching system. The cars did not turn over. A broken brake beam on an empty tank car is believed to have caused the derailment.

Cermak, Schmeling Halted As 'Escaped Convicts'

CHICAGO, April 29.—(Universal.)—Mayor A. J. Cermak and Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion of the world, had to prove that they were not two escaped convicts yesterday.

Word had been flashed to authorities throughout Indiana to be on the watch for two prisoners who had escaped from the Indiana State Penitentiary.

The Mayor, with Schmeling and the latter's manager, Joey Jacobs, as his guests, was bowling along in his car toward Chicago after acting as a judge in the selection of a queen for the Blossom Festival at Benton Harbor, Mich.

Shortly before reaching the Illinois line, they were overtaken by state highway police and ordered to stop. The officers were convinced of the identity of Cermak and his guests only with the greatest reluctance and were all for taking them back to Gary, Ind., for investigation."

CRAZED WOMAN SLAIN FIGHTING POLICE SIEGE

Maddened by Lawn Mower, Mental Patient Kills Officer; Defies Throng

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—(AP.)—Maddened because a neighbor mowed a lawn, Ella May Thompson, 26-year-old mental case, yesterday shot and killed Policeman Paul Donath, maintained a siege against 50 officers at her home, and, driven out with tear gas, was slain by blasts from police shotguns and revolvers.

She came from the house with pistol cracking. As she fell she clasped to her breast a photograph of J. V. Baldwin, automobile man who was sued last October for $125,000 for alienation of affections by Luther Alger, Miss Thompson's former husband.

SLAYS POLICEMAN

Miss Thompson had been under the care of a nurse at the house. Patrolmen Donath and Percy D. Gunby went there in response to a complaint that Miss Thompson, objecting to the sound of a lawn mower, had fired a shot at her neighbor, Mrs. Pauline Phol. As Donath mounted the porch Miss Thompson fired through the door window and Donath fell down the steps, mortally wounded.

A radio alarm sent police automobiles to the house. Within a few minutes the street was packed with cars and spectators.

FIRES THROUGH WINDOWS

Every few minutes as police shouted to Miss Thompson to come out she fired through the closed windows. Once she emerged from the back door and sent a bullet over the heads of the police as she retreated. Tear gas bombs were hurled into the dwelling.

Suddenly in full view of a throng that numbered thousands, the front door swung wide and Miss Thompson ran out screaming and firing the pistol.

WOMAN SHOT DOWN

Lead and steel slugs from sawed off shotguns and automatics struck her and she fell.

Police identified her pistol as the property of Palmer A. Pilcher, Lincoln Heights city jailer, suspended earlier in the day on charges of intoxication.

Chief of Detectives Joseph Taylor said affectionate letters from Pilcher to Miss Thompson were found in the dwelling.

Miss Thompson came to Los Angeles nearly 10 years ago and leaves her mother in Sabina, O.

LOSS OF FIGHT STUNS HEFLIN

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP.)—While former Senator J. Thomas Heflin sat leaning intently forward, the Senate in two ringing roll calls yesterday blasted his hopes of unseating his successor, John H. Bankhead, Alabama Democrat.

By the first vote it rejected a motion to declare void the 1930 election in which Bankhead defeated Heflin. By the second it approved a resolution declaring Bankhead duly elected Senator and entitled to his seat.

Slowly rising as if stunned by the overwhelming rejection of his long standing contest, Heflin, cheeks flushed and broad shoulders stooped, walked from the chamber, pausing momentarily at the door to look back.

Head sagging just a bit, his white waistcoat's broad expanse turned again toward the Vice President's chair, he stood for just an instant before going on into the hallway outside while friends gathered about Bankhead to congratulate him.

MARLENE GETS STUDIO EDICT

HOLLYWOOD, April 29.—(INS.)—Marlene Dietrich, exotic German film actress, was in possession of a pretty blue envelope today.

It was from her studio and contained the information that she would receive no more money until she returned to work on a film selected for her.

Miss Dietrich and her favorite director, Josef von Sternberg, are on an "artistic strike." They refused to make a picture designated by the studio and "walked off the lot."

Von Sternberg will return from New York next week and he and Miss Dietrich will issue formal statements outlining their positions, his attorneys said today.

The studio prepared to file a $100,000 damage suit against the star and her director and to seek an injunction restraining them from working for any other studio.

War Veteran Gets Belated Citation

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(INS.)—A silver star citation for gallantry in action was awarded yesterday to Ralph E. Ladue formerly second lieutenant in the A. E. F. in France. Ladue was born at Stillwater, N. Y., and his last known address was 1271 Broadway, New York City.

He served overseas with Company A, 11th Machine Gun Battalion, 4th Division. The citation was for gallantry near Chouy, France, in July, 1918.

Pangborn Sought On Traffic Charge

NEW YORK, April 29.—(INS.)—A warrant was out today for Clyde Pangborn, noted flier, who failed to appear in Traffic Court to answer a summons for driving his automobile past a signal light.

Tortured

JAMES TODD

Mr. Todd, 80-year-old recluse, pictured in the St. Clairsville (O.) police station after he had had medical attention, told police how four masked men tortured and burned him for 12 hours in his lonely, nearby home. They sought $4,300 in Liberty bonds that he had reputedly hidden.

DAIL SETS 2ND VOTE ON IRISH FREEDOM

Tenseness Still Prevails Following Tumultuous Session of Deputies

International News Service.

DUBLIN, April 29.—By a vote of 78 to 72, the Dail Ereann today adopted a motion by President Eamonn de Valera calling for a vote before midnight tomorrow on the second reading of his bill aimed at abolition of the oath of allegiance.

The atmosphere still was tense with the excitement of last night's session, in which several deputies nearly came to blows. An argument between Deputy James Dillon, opponent of the bill, and Batt O'Connor, De Valera supporter, precipitated the furore.

Dillon had declared that in 1919, when several Irishmen were executed, he "wasn't out murdering my neighbors."

O'Conner replied that he was in jail at the time and that he heard that the Irish Nationalists in the British Parliament had cheered the announcement of the first three executions in 1919.

Then Deputy James Coburn, Cosgrave supporter, rushed over to O'Connor, grabbed him by the lapel, and shouted:

"O'Connor, if you were a yunger man I would kill you where you stand. No one will insult the Irish parts while I am here. There is no fear in me."

By this time many deputies had intervened and order was restored and apologies made.

STOCK JUGGLING PROOF SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(INS.)—A two-months program for investigating transactions on the New York Stock Exchange was being drafted today by William A. Gray, of Philadelphia, special counsel to the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

The public inquiry was postponed for a week to give Gray time to marshal his case against the bulls and bears on Wall street. The attorney was given authority to employ assistants and set up an organization for gathering data on short sales, bear raids and inflationary movements by bulls. He will be called to produce witnesses by the end of next week.

The inquiry lagged because the committee found itself overwhelmed with charges against Wall street operators, but lacking evidence to establish any proof of moral wrong doing. Some of the charges leveled at pools and syndicates involved violations of the stock exchange's rules and of New York state's trading laws, but proof was lacking. It will be Gray's duty to get the proof.

College Peace Seen After Shooting of 3

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 29.—(AP.)—Another peace move between engineering law students at the University of Missouri was seen today in tentative plans of members of both schools to give a joint dance here May 14, at which time they will "bury the hatchet" in appropriate ceremonies.

The law and engineering students have made peace since the dismissal last week of four law and 12 engineering students from the university because of the St. Pat's queen kidnaping and subsequent shooting in which three were wounded.

WINNING 1000-1 CHANCE TO LIVE

NEW YORK, April 29.—(AP.)—Patrolman Jack Kennedy, who took one chance in a thousand against the advice of his physicians and underwent an operation, was reported today to have passed a comfortable night at the Hospital for Joint Diseases. The hospital bulletin added that "his condition is good."

Hospital attaches were reluctant to appear too optimistic, but pointed out that each hour greatly improved Kennedy's chances for recovery.

Kennedy, a member of the Nassau County police force, has been suffering from paralysis since he was shot in the spine the night of July 22, 1928, when he went to investigate a parked car. He insisted on the operation, which, if it proves successful, will restore the use of his hands, because he was notified recently that he would be placed on a $1,600 pension, and he has a wife and one child to support.

SEEK AID FUND IN BRENTWOOD

Seven hundred families of Brentwood will be asked to give $1 a month each for support of from 20 to 30 needy families in the borough under a plan adopted last night by the Brentwood Community Welfare Association.

A house-to-house canvass will be started early next month.

The association has been caring for destitute families in the borough for two years through donation of food, drugs, shoes and other necessities, according to Edward E. Eibe, vice president of the organization. The new plan will systematize the relief work and, if successful, provide ample funds for meeting all needs. A. G. Kaufmann is president of the association, which represents all civic organizations.

Admiral Fiske and Mr. Libby, National Council for the Prevention of War's executive secretary, debaters last night at Sewickley's Edgeworth Club on this question of the day: "Does National Security Depend on Armaments?" This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

Montreal-Cuba Hop Cheers U. S. Flier

HAVANA, April 29.—(INS.)—Lou Reichers, American speed pilot, checked over his plane today after his non-stop flight from Montreal yesterday, which he made in nine hours and three minutes, at an average speed of 197.3 miles an hour.

The 1,786-Mile flight was to test his Lockheed plane, with which he plans to fly from Newfoundland to Paris this summer.

Crash Figures Held, Accused of Drinking

Charles Murgie, 24, of 69 Marion street, and J. S. Bickhart, 52, of 4735 Baum boulevard, were to face charges of reckless driving in Traffic Court today as result of an automobile collision at Ninth street and Duquesne way. Both drivers were examined by City Physician H. M. Saul, who said they had been drinking. James Macry, 27, passenger with Murgie, was taken to Allegheny General Hospital by police, but refused treatment.

Britain to Aid Countries Off Gold

LONDON, April 29.—(INS.)—A new monetary policy for Great Britain, placing British foreign loans principally in countries off the gold standard, was before the government for consideration today.

The proposal, contained in a report of the Federation of British Industries issued last night, aims to have the foreign trade of debtor countries complimentary to that of Great Britain rather than in competition with it.

Society Man to Aid Needy Despite Arrest

NEW YORK, April 29.—(INS.)—A. Graham Miles, socially prominent, planned to continue today distribution of meal tickets to the jobless, although he was fined $10 as a result of such activities. Miles was arrested in Longacre Square when a policeman thought he was "some kind of a panhandler."

When Miles protested, he was taken to court and the penalty imposed because he resisted the officer.

Anti-Dry Opposes Ruth Bryan Owen

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., April 29.—(AP.)—Mark Wilcox, West Palm Beach city attorney, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Fourth Florida District, a seat now held by Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, Miss Owen has announced for re-election.

Wilcox said he favored repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and state option on all liquor laws.

MURDER 'TRIAL' OPENS ON WCAE TOMORROW

Listeners to Be Jurors as Society Girl Faces Radio Court in Slaying of Man

The trial of Vivienne Ware, beautiful society girl, charged with murder, begins on WCAE at 9 o'clock tomorrow night.

It will be covered by the reporters of the Sun-Telegraph.

The courtroom with its throngs; the asides of witnesses and spectators; the conversation at the reporters' table, the conflict of prosecution and defense—all the settings that go to make up the most thrilling of dramas are a part of this radio trial.

Damon Fenwicke, wealthy architect and "ladies' man," was found in his library, slumped in a chair with a bullet in his heart. Nearby were found a note on Miss Ware's stationery, and a handkerchief with the initials "V. W." bearing the aroma that fanciers attributed to her favorite perfume.

Neighbors told police they saw her car drive up at midnight, and the physician who pronounced Fenwicke dead said the murder occurred between midnight and 1 a. m.

Dolores Devine, Fenwicke's "bright light baby," as she has been termed in the newspapers, has been subpenaed.

Supenas have also been issued for William Boggs, butler at the Fenwicke home; Mrs. Elizabeth Hardy, who occupied the house adjoining the architect's; friends of Fenwicke and Miss Ware, society people who knew of the friendship between the daughter of Simon Ware, multi-millionaire, and the Beau Brummel of architecture.

There has been no jury-picking, because the jury will be formed of radio listeners of Western Pennsylvania, who, hearing the testimony, may register their vote for guilt or innocence by sending their verdict and the reason for it to the Sun-Telegraph. The findings should be written within 100 words.

After tomorrow night's opening the trial will be continued at 8 o'clock on Monday and Wednesday nights of next week and at 9 o'clock on Saturday night. Further installments will be given at 8 o'clock on subsequent Monday and Wednesday nights.

Glass Hospitals Seen for Patients Of Future

CHICAGO, April 29.—(INS.)—People who live in glass houses—

The old adage will apply particularly to hospital patients in the future.

For the hospital of the future will be made of glass, according to Asa S. Bacon, superintendent of Presbyterian Hospital here. He said:

"Instead of windows, a section of the wall will be bricked up with glass blocks like hollow tiles.

"The future glass hospital will provide the ultimate in light, airiness and beneficial rays."

MABEL SILENT IN GRAPE 'WAR'

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—(INS.)—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former U. S. assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition prosecutions, refused to comment today on a statement of Donald B. Con, managing director of Fruit Industries, Ltd.

Conn said that President Hoover had given his approval to the grape concentrate industry, which manufactured concentrates that would ferment into wine when placed in the home.

Mrs. Willebrandt, legal adviser to Fruit Industries, Ltd., said:

"My clients may speak for themselves, but I will not discuss the question.

"I'm proud that despite the reputation of women for talkativeness, I've been able to keep quiet about prohibition since leaving public office."

FAIR TO DEPICT LINCOLN SCENE

CHICAGO, April 29.—(AP.)—Ground was broken yesterday for a group of buildings that will depict for the World's Fair visitor of 1933 the life of Abraham Lincoln.

With brief ceremonies participated in by historians, Grand Army of the Republic officers and heads of the World Fair, work was started on the group of reproductions which is expected to be completed by June 1.

The group will include reproductions of the log cabin at Hodgenville, Ky., in which Lincoln was born; the boyhood home in what is now Lincoln City, Ind.; the grocery store at Salem, Ill., in which Lincoln clerked; and the famous "Wigwam," the Chicago convention hall in which Lincoln was nominated for the presidency in 1860. Inside the "Wigwam" will be copies of rooms in the Lincoln home at Springfield, Ill., and one or two of the rooms he occupied in the White House.

Girls Find $3,000 In Stocks on Street

TOLEDO, O., April 29.—(AP.)—Four little schoolgirls didn't realize stock they found in a street on their way home was worth $3,000, but they liked the "pretty paper" and divided it up to take home. One of the girls, Ruth Shasteen, 8, proudly showed it to her father, and as a result it will be returned to J. A. Dunn, of Cochranton, Pa. The stock, police said, was stolen from Dunn's parked machine Tuesday night and evidently thrown away.

BLEDSOE HOLDS GUN FINDING PERILS BELL

Former Detective Accused Of Donohoe Slaying Says Clue Proves Foe Guilty

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 29. — Instead of reacting against him and tightening a chain of evidence against him, P. C. Bledsoe, former county detective, charged with the murder of John F. Donohoe, says that the discovery of a .45 caliber automatic pistol in the Monongahela River at Nemacolin ferry proves that Tony Bell himself took Donohoe's life. He said:

"If Tony Bell knew exactly where the gun was and showed the officers it stands to reason that he threw it there and is trying to pass the buck to my shoulders. It was his pistol, so he admits. Why should I get a gun from Tony Bell or anyone? He is just a liar and he knows it. He has himself in a fix and is trying to drag innocent persons in with him.

DENIES ALL CHARGES

"I wasn't with Bell at the scene of the Donohoe murder. I didn't fire any shots into Donohoe's body with Tony Bell's gun or any other weapon and I didn't throw any firearms into the river as Bell says."

In explanation of the corrosion of the pistol Bledsoe said:

"That's easy. They could have corroded it before they planted it in the water if they did. If it is a frameup they won't get away with it, because we have a few trump cards up our sleeve. The June trial is not going to be one-sided."

The gun was found in about 11 feet of water and in a hole, James P. Pike, the well driller in charge of the search said. He added that the discovery was made near the spot where 30 sticks of dynamite were dislodged last Saturday. Pike believes the dynamite was part of a plot to kill or frighten the searchers.

The weapon showed signs of having been in the water a long time. The fact that the hammer of the pistol is raised is evidence, experts say, that the chamber is empty.

EXPERT SCANS GUN

The gun is to be cleaned after photographs are taken and will be turned over to a ballistic expert who will try to connect it with the bullets fired into the body of Donohoe.

District Attorney Wade K. Newell is elated over the discovery, declaring he believes it of great importance in substantiation of Bell's confession. Bell will be asked to identify the pistol and to compare it with the serial number of the gun he says he gave Bledsoe with which to take the life of Donohoe, who, Bell said, double-crossed them in the liquor racket.

262 IN SAFETY JOBS TO RETIRE

One hundred and sixty-two patrolmen and 100 firemen will be retired on pension June 1, Public Safety Director James M. Clark announced today, dispelling uncertainty as to the department's policy.

This move, frowned on by both Clark and Police Supt. Peter P. Walsh as involving a serious drain on the principal of both pension funds, is necessitated, Clark asserted, to keep within the 1932 budget appropriation.

The May furlough list, affecting 162 patrolmen, 80 firemen and 18 fire captains, was made public today. This will virtually complete the enforced furloughs resorted to as a 1932 economy move in both police and fire bureaus.

LION 'CROONER' WRECKS RADIO STUDIO, FIRED

Leo, Veteran Movie Actor, Twice Dives Through Glass Into Crowd; 200 in Panic

International News Service

BOSTON, April 29.—Leo, famous trained Nubian lion of the movies, was through today as a radio crooner.

A wrecked radio studio and five clawed and scratched attendants gave eloquent testimony that the 800-pound lion was temperamental at his debut last night and that he would probably never overcome his microphone fright.

Leo was taken before the "mike" to roar out his "interview." Suddenly he turned and dived through the double-thick panes of glass separating the control room.

He landed almost in the lap of Alice Wilkins, studio secretary, and scratched her face.

Capt. Volney Phifer, Leo's trainer, managed to get his charge back to the mike. Leo made a few feeble growls, then dashed through another plate glass window, cutting himself.

Landing in the observation room, Leo attacked Edward Craig, continuity writer, then the jungle monster roamed along the corridors of the building.

As 200 panic-stricken guests sought to escape, several were hurt in the stampede. Patricia Henry, singer, was knocked down and trampled by artists making their escape. No one was seriously hurt.

The trainer and police finally managed to capture Leo and get him into his cage. Leo is the trademark Nubian lion seen and heard in the introduction of many "talkie" movies.

PAY ASSURED TEACHERS FOR APRIL

Stowe Township Granted $16,500 Loan by State; Other Districts Voted Aid

The 110 teachers of Stowe Township and about 15 other employes were assured of their April salary today as word came from Harrisburg that a special loan of $16,500 had been granted the township school board, under an act passed by the last Legislature.

The Township School Board had been applying its shares of state appropriations in advance to meet the payroll, but when this source was exhausted applied to the State Department of Public Instruction for a loan.

The loan will be repaid, probably next fall, when school tax money begins coming in. The board has until April, 1933, to pay back with 5 per cent interest. Negoations for raising funds to meet the May and partial June payroll are in progress. The school year ends June 19.

Other loans approved included Altoona, $95,300; Lower Tyrone Township, Fayette County, $2,000; Cecil Township, $9,000; Chartiers Township, $4,800, both in Washington County, and Monessen, $29,500.

Ex-Business Men Take Caddie Lessons

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 29.—(INS.)—How to keep their eyes on the ball and what clubs are used for different golf shots was taught today to 100 men, many formerly highly paid executives, who took lessons to fit themselves for caddies on Westchester golf courses.

Among the pupils were tree surgeons, architects, ex-bank employes and business men, many of whom formerly earned more than $10,000 a year.

SURVEY SHOWS PROFIT GAINS WITH ADS

Sixty Firms Grow With Copy Despite Slump, 60 Others Lose With Retrenchment

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., April 29.—(AP.)—Gilbert T. Hodges has facts and figures to prove that it pays to advertise even in times of economic distress.

Hodges is president of the Advertising Federation of America, which has completed a study of the 17-year records of 120 corporations. Sixty of these corporations failed to maintain their advertising programs. The other 60 corporations annually increased their advertising expenditures in spite of depressions at an average rate of 16 per cent over the previous year.

ADS BRING GROWTH

Hodges first took up the cases of the 60 concerns which enlarged their advertising. He said:

"Seventeen years ago many of these 60 companies were small. Today every one of them is numbered among the foremost business houses of America. They have multiplied their net assets to four times what they were 17 years ago.

"Last year their combined net profits were three times greater than in the comparatively good year of 1915. This dramatic testimony to the value of an unbroken advertising policy should bring confidence and inspiration to executives who want tangible proof that a courageous program, even in these difficult times, will pay.

ERRATIC GROUP SLUMPS

"Now let us look at the other side of the picture—the dark side. Let us see what happened to the other 60 companies, the ones that pursued an erratic and uncharted course.

"When times were good they plunged heavily. When the going became difficult they tightened their purse strings.

"But this policy didn't work. Seventeen years ago every one of the 60 firms in this erratic group was an important national business. Today more than half of them have lost that position of importance. Many have perished."

NO LIVE HEROES, SAYS BONUS FOE

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP.)—An economist and a soldier joined today in opposing cash redemption of the soldiers' bonus now.

Before the House Ways and Means Committee, Prof. Irving Fisher, Yale University economist, and Richard W. O'Neill, of New York, a former state chairman of the Disabled American Veterans, assailed the Patman full payment plan.

Fisher said it would be a blow to business confidence. He joined in the views previously expressed by Secretary Mills and Eugene Meyer, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, that it was unsound economically to inflate the currency by $2,000,000,000 to pay the bonus.

O'Neill, a holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor, said needy veterans should be helped, but that "the real veteran wants a job with a living wage." He testified:

"There are no living heroes."

Swope denied that Fall was permitted the use of liquor, and declared the former cabinet member was still a very sick man.

Fall is serving a term for bribery in connection with the naval oil lease scandals. He is scheduled to be released late next month.

Light Users Asked To Aid Edison Memorial

COLUMBUS, O., April 29.—(INS.)—Users of electric lights throughout the nation will be asked to contribute at the rate of one cent a lamp to assist in building the memorial bridge to Thomas A. Edison planned near his old home at Milan, O., it was announced today.

The proposal for raising the money for the bridge was made by State Conservation Commissioner William H. Reinhart, who headed the drive for money to build the Ohio monument to Commodore Perry in 1908.

The bridge will be lighted at night with thousands of lights symbolic of the genius of Ohio's famous son, and will span the Huron River, which flowed near the inventor's boyhood home.

REDUCED PHONE RATES URGED

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—(INS.)—The Public Service Commission is asked to order the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania to discontinue or reduce the extra charge for the use of hand telephone sets and to reduce its rates for telephone service and equipment in a complaint filed yesterday by T. Walker Cleeland, treasurer of the Philadelphia County Council of the American Legion, on behalf of himself and other subscribers.

Cleeland's complaint contains a report of the earnings of the Bell company for 1931 and said "there is no justification for a difference in the rates of the three companies for service and equipment," after citing the tolls of two other companies.

Patricia Pitt's Sprightly Comment on Pittsburgh Society Happenings

In Maytair
—With—
Patricia Pitt

One of the most important weddings in many a day, and a distinctively simple one, was that yesterday afternoon in the Greensburg First Presbyterian Church of Elizabeth Moorhead Bovard, daughter of the Harry F. Bovards, of Greensburg, and Frank R. Denton, of Pittsburgh, son of the Albert H. Dentons, of Washington.

The church itself, with its walls of white plaster, shadowed by the reflection of the sun on stained windows, had an air of candelabra for lighting. The Rev. Henry B. Scrock, pastor of the church, was the officiant.

Gowned in Satin

The bride, tall and slender, who was given in marriage by her father, looked regal in a gown of white satin distinguished by diagonal lines. The sleeves were made long and tight-fitting ending in a point at the wrist, and the bodice was molded to the figure and hips with the full skirt ending in a long train, over which cascaded her veil of tulle arranged with a cap of exquisite old lace. A wreath of orange blossoms decorated the back of the cap. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley, white orchids and gardenias.

Her matron of honor, her cousin, Mrs. Niles Trammell of Chicago, wore a chiffon gown of delicate green, made with capes over the shoulder, ending in a long scarf in the back. The skirt was long and full below the fitted hip line. She carried an arm bouquet of garden flowers tied with green velvet and tulle, and had a small hat of cream straw wreathed with flowers and with flowers placed beneath the narrow, tilted brim.

Maids in Chiffon

The bridesmaids, Mrs. John Barclay, Jr., Mrs. Paul Euwer and Mrs. John S. Stewart, of Keswick, Va., wore chiffon gowns of the same delicate, clear shade as the first yellow flowers of spring, printed in green and orange. Their hats were small cream straw affairs, wreath trimmed. And they carried arm bouquets of African daisies tied with peach-toned velvet.

Richard King Mellon was best man, and Niles Trammell, of Chicago; Donald D. Shepard, of Washington; M. L. Peck, of Philadelphia; Alan M. Scaife and John S. Smith, of Pittsburgh, and James M. Bovard, brother of the bride, were ushers.

A reception at the Bovard home followed the wedding, with palms, ferns and spring flowers as decorations.

Mr. Denton and his bride, famous round about for her horsemanship, will sail for a European honeymoon.

To Tour Europe

They plan to motor through Central Europe, and upon their return will be at home in the Schenley Apartments.

CHAFFEUR — MISS ELIZABETH BOVARD — HARRY F. BOVARD

Miss Bovard pictured as she arrived at First Presbyterian Church, Greensburg, for her marriage to Frank R. Denton. Richard K. Mellon was best man. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

Ewing-Haskins Wedding Event Of Spring Social Season

The last days of April are surely prodigal with brides. Yesterday brought the Bovard-Denton wedding, and this afternoon the Ewing-Haskins ceremony.

Petite Barbara Ewing, daughter of the Thomas Ewings, of St. James street, is becoming the bride of Lathrop Stanley Haskins, son of the Henry Stanley Haskinses, of New York, at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Ewing home. The Rev. Dr. Hugh Thomson Kerr, pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian Church, is the officiant.

The bride, who is being given in marriage by her father, is wearing a quaint gown of white lace, fashioned with a brief train, a square neck-line and short, puffed sleeves. Her veil of tulle falls from a cap of old family lace, and her flowers are white orchids, gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Her only attendant, Mrs. Thomas D. Mallory, of Bradford, is wearing a gown of dawn pink chiffon made with a high waistline, a long, full skirt and brief sleeves. Her hat is of lace straw to match her gown, and her bouquet is of pastel spring flowers.

Henry Stanley Haskins is his brother's best man. Mrs. Ewing, mother of the bride, is wearing pink tulle, lace and chiffon with a straw hat to match, and is wearing pinks.

A small reception in the Fox Chapel Golf Club is to follow with the bride's wedding table to be centered with pink spring flowers and lighted by pink tapers.

EVANSTON, Ill., April 29.—(INS.)—The gods of fortune smiled on Baby Henri Bianucci, Jr., today. After a thorough examination physicians declared that the 20-month-old infant had not received so much as a scratch in a 30-foot fall from his nursery window.

STYLIST SHOWS NEW EVENING WRAP MODE

Sketched in Paris

Paris Bureau,
Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph,

PARIS, April 29.—One can dilate at length on the charms of the new short evening coats. Many women there are who do not care at all for the brief evening jackets that dot the landscape after dark, prefering that the evening coat should be long and important. The skimpy jackets of previous seasons have had something of a sameness about them, but the new models manage to be supremely different within their confined limits. Sleeves make up in fulness for the brevity of the rest of the garment and there is a picturesque moyen-age look about some of the new short evening coats that is just as romantic in aspect and appeal as any long, even trailing wrap can ever be. Some of the short evening coats have imposing fur collars, but so cleverly is the wrap designed and cut that the top heavy look is definitely avoided. Yes, it is possible to wear a short wrap this season and be as glamorous and romantic-looking as one could ever be in a full-length model. And such a wrap is infinitely more youthful, too.

* * *

ONE OF THE MOST individual and charming wraps in the entire collection of Callot Sours is the model that has been sketched for this page. It is the type of coat that has no season and could be worn any time with success and distinction. The material is bagheera, that dull-surfaced new velvet that is so liked and that will be much used next autumn and winter. The color is emerald green, a great favorite here. The coat fits snugly at the waist and across the hips. The large collar of black fox gives importance to the coat and makes a becoming frame for the face. Wide bands of the material set on in cartridge folds border the important sleeves.

DRYS COMBAT BEER PARADES

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 29.—(AP.) Dr. Clarence True Wilson told the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday the drys of the nation will counter Mayor James J. Walker's beer parades next month with rallies throughout the country two days after the anti-dry demonstrations.

He said the largest of the gatherings to refute the stand of the New York Mayor will be held in the municipal convention hall here as the major event of the church conference.

He said he hoped Mayor Walker would be "Exhibit No. 1" and added:

"The beer parade idea is as much like Jimmy Walker and his ideas of statesmanship as could be possible. His greatest problem will be trying to censor participants in his parade and the spectacle certain to be on display will save the drys from reiterating an age-old truth."

Society Leaders Patronesses For Play

Orr, of Crafton boulevard, entertained with a luncheon and bridge for Mrs. Ed H. Taylor recently at the club, for 12 guests. Spring flowers and yellow tapers were used on the luncheon table. J. A. RELIEF FARMS PLANNED BY FATHER COX

Shantytown Residents to Get Gardens; Subscriptions Aid Priest in Charity

A summer farming community to be known as "Coxtown" is planned as a means of relieving the jobless, Father James R. Cox, "mayor" of Shantytown, revealed today.

The mid-air plots of Our St. Patrick's Church has in mind several large plots near Pittsburgh, one of them containing 100 acres, which he expects to have subdivided into garden plots to be tilled and cultivated by residents of Shantytown.

Father Cox

A survey of the "Shantytownites" recently disclosed he said, that 50 percent came from farms. Father Cox said that if families who take plots raise more than they need he will purchase the surplus from them and use it for his breadline.

Father Cox is enthusiastic about his "back to the soil" project and expects to turn the first shovelful of earth in the next 10 days.

Meanwhile he is also keenly interested in the Father Cox-Sun-Telegraph Home Delivery Drive by which he receives a liberal commission for each order for this newspaper, the money to be used in his relief program for the destitute and unemployed.

If you wish to help Father Cox send in your order, either to Father Cox or to the Sun-Telegraph, to have this paper delivered to your home by carrier. A subscription blank will be found in this issue.

I pledge confidence that Father James R. Cox is giving the fund he has started for home delivery newspapers the widest publicity possible. I desire the Sun-Telegraph to be delivered at my home on a paid order basis for the period of 26 weeks at which I will pay the carrier boy on each pay day the usual sale in the regular order of his collections. I have not been a subscriber for the Sun-Telegraph in the last six months.

BOGUS POSTAL MAN JAILED

James Pert Williams, 37, who posing as a postal employe was arrested March 24 at Bettis Field when he alighted from a mail plane from Columbus and was subsequently taken to Boston has been sentenced in the Federal Court there to serve seven years in the penitentiary.

Word was received here that he received a four-year term for forging postal money orders and three years for impersonating a postal employe. Up until the time of his arrest here he was said to have traveled more than 2,000 miles on mail planes by using the credentials of Gustave A. Johnston, a postal engineer, stolen in Washington.

The postal authorities here received a tip he was en route to Pittsburgh and he was arrested by Postoffice Inspector Earl Barnhart and Patrolman Jess Crawford of Mifflin Township. Williams, an Australian, was wanted on several criminal charges in Boston.

Seek Old Jewels In Mexican Cavern

MEXICO CITY—Explorations which are expected to uncover rich and highly important ancient jewels have been begun in the Cueva del Indio (Indian's Cave), near Lerdo in the state of Coahuila.

The spot long a favorite of excursionists, is famous for its beauty and mystery, the interior of the caverns never having been thoroughly investigated. Government scientists and private explorers are co-operating in the work.

Jurors Approve Bathtub Exercise

SAVANNAH, Ga. — Armand Ward forgot to draw the shades when he performed his setting up exercises in a bathtub, but after two hours of deliberation a jury found he was not guilty of public indecency.

Neighbors complained too much could be witnessed through the Ward window and had charges preferred against him in city court. Ward contended he exercised before the open window to obtain fresh air.

American Rackets Worry to London

LONDON—American rackets often take a long time to get here, but they arrive eventually.

Theater managers right now are alarmed at the operations of strangers, who have begun selling tickets above the box office prices to those waiting in line outside. It has been done here before, but never on the scale of the scalpers who "work" the New York theaters and the world series baseball games.

Music Royalties Banned by Vatican

VATICAN CITY — (AP) — Modern church music is limited in all Catholic churches hereafter to work on which royalties are waived, the Congregation of the Council having so decreed to avoid controversy with composers.

Moscow Launches War on Smallpox

MOSCOW — (AP) — Every resident of Moscow except babies less than 3 months old has been ordered vaccinated against smallpox by the governing body of the capital. The service is free.

RUM SELLERS GET TERMS

A parade of violators of the dry laws with pleas of guilty passed yesterday before Judge F. P. Schoonmaker in Federal Court. Those who pleaded guilty to charges were sent to jail for terms ranging from 30 to 60 days. The others were placed upon probation or fined and in many instances both.

Contraband liquor seized in prohibition agents' at 2206 Forbes street December 17 was ordered suppressed as evidence against Thomas Carter, because the subsequent search warrant. Agents testified they saw a beer sign extending from a door in the rear of the building to the cellar and gained entrance over the skid.

CROWD ROUTED, 'REDS' SPEAK

After police had once dispersed them, a group of Communists held a meeting around a doorstep at Thirty-fourth street near Shakespeare street yesterday. The police made no further effort to interfere.

As a crowd of about 500 assembled three radio cars from the Lawrenceville district arrived announcing that the meeting would not be permitted, since Inspector Charles Cahill had refused to issue a permit. The police chased the crowd away.

Later two speakers addressed the few who had lingered with the officers remaining near. Cahill said he refused the permit because a similar meeting last Thursday had been disorderly.

3 OF FACULTY TO QUIT AT TECH

Three veterans of the faculty of Carnegie Institute of Technology will retire at the end of the college year, it was announced today. They are William Mott, director of the College of Engineering; George H. Follows, professor of commercial engineering, and Frederick P. Colette, professor of modern languages. They comprise the first group to retire in the comparatively short history of the school.

Prof. Follows

Director Mott came to Tech in 1909. He will retire to private life. Prof. Follows, a native of Manchester, England, was a member of the original faculty selected in 1905. He plans to live in Paris, Ontario, and will devote his time to writing. Prof. Colette came to the school in 1908. He is a native of France but he is planning to see the United States after his retirement.

46 STATES VOTE FOR REPEAL IN DRY POLL

Only North Carolina and Kansas Give Majorities In Favor of Prohibition

Seventy-three voters out of every 100 favor a repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, as evidenced by the final figures in The Literary Digest's nation-wide prohibition poll, which will be published in the magazine tomorrow.

A total of 4,668,537 ballots were returned and counted in this "straw" referendum. The division of the final figures shows 1,236,600 or 26.49 per cent voting for continuance of the prohibition amendment and 3,431,827 or 73.51 per cent favoring repeal.

Kansas and North Carolina are the only two states giving a majority for prohibition.

FIGURES IN 1930 POLL

The tenth and final tabulation in the 1930 Literary Digest prohibition poll giving three options on the ballot instead of two showed a total tabulation of 4,806,464 votes, of which 1,464,098, or 30.46 per cent, were for strict enforcement; while 1,399,314, or 29.11 per cent, were for modification to admit light wines and beers, and 1,943,052 or 40.43 per cent, were registered in favor of an outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

In the poll of two years ago, five states voted majorities for the Eighteenth Amendment, while in the current poll only two states are reported dry.

The Literary Digest points out a close parallel between the returns of this unofficial referendum and the national plebiscite taken in Finland whereby that country last winter abolished prohibition after trying it for 12 years.

FINLAND'S VOTE

A total of 772,901 votes were polled in the Finnish election, of which 28.10 per cent voted in favor of retention of prohibition, 1.40 per cent favored modification, and 70.50 per cent favored repeal, while the current Literary Digest poll shows 26.49 per cent of the ballots returned favoring the continuance and 73.51 per cent favoring repeal.

The final report of the Digest's 1932 poll, shown in the Literary Digest of April 30, 1932:

Electors Favor Change In Conditions.

By MARK SHIELDS

Mr. Shields

Two things are crystal clear through the ballot flood of Tuesday's primary.

One is that in this county the majority of electors will favor as a candidate who has anything to do with prohibition legislation the man who is for a change in present conditions, even to the extent of repealing the Eighteenth Amendment.

The second is that while the Independents apparently have elected only four of their 27 candidates for the Legislature there continues in Allegheny County an active independent sentiment, a factor which no regular organization can afford to discount.

This independent thought is not so much dependent upon active work by a professional headquarters. Thousands of real independents never appear about such headquarters; they probably would be as mistrustful of some so-called independent leaders as of organization bosses. But they vote their convictions, are not in any sense controlled, and are capable of piercing a fog of conflicting claim to deal with fundamentals of government.

* * *

Proof in Comparison Of Davis—Butler Vote

To support this belief it is advisable to compare the votes for James J. Davis and Gen. Smedley Butler on the senatorship, and Ralph Flinn and Frank Baldwin on the auditor general contest. Davis carried the county by more than 115,000. He was an organization candidate, but the real issue as between himself and Butler was prohibition. Davis being an avowed wet.

Flinn carried the county by more than 30,000 over Baldwin. The latter was an organization candidate, on the same slate with Davis, but the prohibition question did not involve them. Had it done so, even faintly, it would have been a handicap to Flinn, linked up in the popular mind with the two outstanding drys, Gov. Pinchot and Gen. Butler.

Admittedly the fact that Flinn is an Allegheny countian, while his opponent was from Potter County, was to Flinn's advantage, and local pride may have given him some votes. But certainly that could not have provided a majority of above 30,000 against an organization which boasted it would carry the regular candidate, Baldwin, to a 20,000 majority in Allegheny County.

The issue on which Flinn fought was attempted Philadelphia organization domination of the state, joined by the Allegheny County organization in an effort to lay a foundation for the 1934 campaign.

* * *

Legislative Contests Declared Poor Index

This point was tremendously effective in the face of an Allegheny County organization leadership which was trying to assist Baldwin to an extent where Philadelphia could be impressed with its efficiency.

This result, I think, rather than the legislative contests, is what both independents and regulars should correlate as they think about the future. Particularly are the legislative contests a poor index, because in the various districts of the county there was a division of Independent strength. The protest against the organization domination could not be lodged behind any slate because there were so many independent candidates.

Moreover, County Commissioner Charles C. McGovern, recognized as the top flight of independent leaders, indicated no interest in the the legislative contests. It is a fact that even four candidates indelibly stamped as "independents" are velvet for that movement. In the last session there were some men independent in thought and action, but none who could definitely be labeled as "independents" as that term is understood in this country.

* * *

Reed Might Concern Himself About Davis Vote

The Davis vote is something about which Senator David A. Reed might concern himself. Reed, if he wishes to remain in the Senate, must be a candidate in 1934. He will be compelled to come out flat-footed either wet or dry, in view of the way the state has just expressed itself. It will hardly suffice to declare for a ballot referendum on the subject, Pennsylvania having found that a referendum can best be secured by voting on candidates who typify the two sides of the prohibition question.

Senator Reed was out of the recent campaign. He did not appear at the big Davis meeting in Philadelphia, though he had been billed to do so. He did not come to Pittsburgh Tuesday to vote.

These are small matters to the general public, but they are remembered by politicians. It should be realized that the powerful Philadelphia organization is making wetness a condition for support of anyone, and that in Allegheny County both organization and Independents are preponderantly for a prohibition change. The same applies to many other counties where in the past Gov. Pinchot has received heavy majorities, but where his candidate was beaten handily Tuesday.

Women Renew Efforts in Family Help Campaign; Men Make Largest Gain

The city is spending at the rate of $65,000 a week for direct relief, according to Mrs. Enoch Rauh, Director of the Department of Welfare. It has been estimated the city's present funds and the money received from the state under the Talbot bill will carry the relief program to July 11, Mrs. Rauh said.

PRAISED BY MRS. RAUH

The way in which assistance is being distributed through the established agencies was commended by Mrs. Rauh. If the $3,000,000 in relief bonds are sold, that money should be handled in the same way, she said.

At the first report luncheon of the women's division today, it was reported 44 additional families had been cared for. To date the women have provided for 212 families and the men 4,581. This total of 4,793 families leaves still 3,207 yet to be cared for.

SPEAK TO WOMEN

Speakers at the women's meeting were Dr. Carl Wallace Petty, of the First Baptist Church, and Albert (Rosy) Rowswell. Mrs. Franklin C. Irish, head of the division, presided.

The amount turned in by the women so far includes contributions of nearly $5,000 from the schools, which were reported to Mrs. Harry J. Miller. Heads of the city and county school systems have been aiding in presenting the appeal.

Plans are complete for a benefit polo game to be played at Hunt Armory, Emerson street, tomorrow night at 8:30, it was announced from the office of George Vang, a leader in the campaign.

5,000 BOTTLES BEER SEIZED

Prohibition agents reported seizing 5,000 bottles of beer, 40 pounds of hops, 115 pounds of sugar and 90 pints of whisky in a building in Center avenue, McDonald, yesterday. Albert Crane was arrested.

A club at 4011 Butler street yielded the agents 23 pints of beer and five quarts of moonshine, according to their report. Joe Jonkoski was arrested, the raiders reported.

Confiscation of intoxicants was reported in four other raids in the city.

25th Ward Election Case Trial Delayed

Judge Elder W. Marshall postponed trial of the members of the election board of the Fifth District of the Twenty-fifth Ward yesterday, when informed the board had been up all of the night before counting the vote at the primary, and that one of the members was ill.

The board is composed of W. C. Stewart, Elizabeth Hinds, Edward Pierce, G. Montgomery and Thomas Edeburn. They are charged by Ray C. Dever, of the Registration Commission, with having allowed 21 people not properly registered to vote last November.

Police and Hospital Absolved in Death

Hospital and police authorities of Braddock today were absolved of negligence in handling Roy Kramer, 58, of 1108½ Maple avenue, North Braddock, who died en route to the hospital, in a report of Dr. T. H. Snowwhite, who performed an autopsy. According to the report, a cerebral hemorrhage was the cause of death, a fractured skull suffered in a fall contributing. The physician said Kramer had suffered a very slight skull fracture in the fall, which probably had been caused by the cerebral hemorrhage.

Cab Stolen, Burned Near Second Avenue

A Yellow taxicab, stolen from Fifth avenue, near Dinwiddie street, shortly before midnight, was found in flames in Maurice street, above Second avenue, a half-hour later, according to police report. Memory Test On 'Hot News' Of Past Years

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

Just to give you an idea of how big news cools off quickly, who remembers:

The big mergers of 1928.

Which American mayors drank wine in Europe on that tour?

When Greta Garbo had thick eyebrows?

The stock your broker told you to put away and forget?

When a banker would take your word?

The five-year plan? The last guy denunciated by Senator Borah? The object of the Wickersham troupe? Who went to the South Pole? The important diplomats we sent to Geneva?

And just to show you you don't even remember what happened yesterday, who was relieved by the Senate's relief plans?

COUNTY AIRPORT NOW BASE FOR MAIL LINES

Officials, Pilots Join in Inaugurating Commercial Service; Doolittle Here

Allegheny County's $5,000,000 airport "officially" opened a few days before the election last September, today became the center of Pittsburgh's commercial and air mail operations. The opening of the port to commercial aviation marked the fifth anniversary of Pittsburgh's first air mail service—Pennsylvania Air Lines, Inc.

Appropriately enough, the first ship to land on the field to mark the beginning of commercial aviation was a Pennsylvania Airlines ship.

OFFICIALS ARRIVE

The ship, coming from Washington, brought Earl B. Wadsworth, superintendent of air mail; Hainer Hinshaw, United Airlines; Paul Bratton, Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc.; and Paul Wright, Trans-American Airways. Clifford Bal, founder of the first airmail line out of Pittsburgh and now president of Pennsylvania Airlines, headed a reception committee of distinguished Pittsburghers, which included Richard Robbins, president of Transcontinental and Western Air; Thomas A. Dunn, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and others.

Transcontinental and Western Air moved its operation headquarters to the new county airport from Bettis Field with Pennsylvania Airlines.

AIR TRAVEL CENTER

Mr. Robbins commemorating the event, in a brief address, declared:

"Because of the growing importance of Pittsburgh as an air travel and shipping center, we are moving our traffic headquarters of the eastern region here. The local office will be in charge of J. W. Brennan, who, as regional traffic manager, will handle traffic matters from New York as far west as Kansas City."

Clarence M. Young, assistant secretary for aeronautics, United States Department of Commerce, was expected to fly here later in the day to participate in the ceremonies. James A. (Jimmie) Doolittle, famous race pilot, arrived shortly before lunch and the entire party was escorted by motorcycle police to the Chamber of Commerce for luncheon.

California Town Shaken by Quake

Pure Food Agents Seize Radium Water

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 29.—(INS)—Local agents of the United States Pure Food and Drug Department today were holding 1,670 pint bottles of alleged radium water, seized in a warehouse here. The shipment was ordered confiscated by Chief Inspector Frank L. Wollard when the product was found by chemical analysis to contain 150 times more radium than was stated on the labels.

WILLIAM L. BROWN ALBERT B. DAVIDSON

Fellow Tarentum citizens, pictured today over the Sun-Telegraph's primary election unofficial tabulation sheets in a recount that leaves Mr. Brown leading Mr. Davidson, 7,261 to 7,219, for the second nomination in the thirteenth legislature district, the North Hills and Allegheny Valley district. JURY EXPECTED TO BE KEPT TOGETHER

Mayor and Former Supplies Chief Stand United in Fighting Case at Butler

Two weeks probably will be required to determine the fate of Mayor Charles H. Kline and his deposed Director of Supplies, Bertram L. Succop, on charges of irregularities in office, District Attorney Edgar H. Negley, of Butler County, said today. He believes the jury, selection of which starts Monday, will be locked up at night. He bases his opinion on a remark made by Trial Judge T. D. Finletter following discoveries that the March venire had been tampered with, Negley added.

"Judge Finletter at that time said the jury ought to be isolated and should not be permitted to mingle with other jurors. It will require 10 days to two weeks to try the case. Night sessions will be up to Judge Finletter."

JOINT TRIAL

Kline and Succop are expected to stand trial jointly.

Charles B. Prichard and Edward G. Coll, counsel for the Mayor, have intimated they expect Kline to be tried with Succop on the joint indictment of 45 counts. Kline will plead "not guilty," according to Attorney Coll, who added:

"You can print that fact in big letters. We are ready for the trial, as far as the defense is concerned."

Succop also will enter a similar plea, so it was learned. Succop, who some time ago was quoted as saying "I do not intend to be the goat," but which statement he denied, will stand with the Mayor, according to reliable information. He is being represented by E. L. Kearns.

PARK IN CONFERENCE

District Attorney Park, his first assistant, George F. P. Langfitt, and W. Denning Stewart, law partner of Special Prosecutor Earl F. Reed, held a conference yesterday in Butler with District Attorney Negley. Plans for the trial were discussed.

County Detective David Drexler today was prepared to supply bus tickets to Butler to the 70 witnesses summoned for the trial, who will apply to him. Witnesses without their own conveyances will be transported to the Butler Courthouse in buses.

Earl F. Reed, Citizens' Committee counsel today was sworn in as an assistant district attorney for the duration of the trial. Maj. A. B. Hay, veteran county employe, resigned as an assistant district attorney, in order to permit Reed's appointment. The oath was administered by Judge Elder W. Marshall.

TUBERCULOSIS DRIVE CLOSING

The early diagnosis campaign of the Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh will close tomorrow with the final radio talk scheduled today by Mrs. Helen Glenn Tyson, assistant deputy of the State Department of Welfare, speaking from Station WCAE at 5:54 o'clock.

The campaign has been conducted to find unknown cases from which known cases of tuberculosis have developed. Local leaders state the value of the campaign will be in the implanting of health-consciousness in the minds of the public. Mrs. Tyson declared only preventative measures will safeguard future workers from the disease that causes most deaths in the productive period of life, 15 to 35 years.

Parent-Teacher City Council Elects

The city council of the Parent-Teachers Association elected officers at a meeting in the Board of Education Building attended by representatives of all 19 associations in the city.

Mrs. C. A. Rehtmeyer, retiring president, read a report of the council's work. The new officers are: President, Mrs. W. E. Brosius; vice presidents, Mrs. O. B. Hughes and Mrs. B. F. Handloser; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles Remler; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. D. Harnack and treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Wolf.

BROWN CARRIES 13TH DISTRICT

William L. Brown, of Tarentum, on the basis of a recapitulation of unofficial figures in the Thirteenth Legislative District, holds a lead of 42 votes over Albert B. Davidson, Tarentum, for the second nomination. The figures, with all districts complete:

Brown	7,261
Davidson	7,219

Revised totals in a few districts did not serve to materially change the big lead given William A. Walker, of Avalon, for the other nomination, his total vote being 9,353. Thomas W. Neely, Sr., Sewickley incumbent, remained in fourth place, out of the running, with 5,168.

Because of the small margin separating Brown, supported by the regulars, and Davidson, an Independent, official vote of the return board may be necessary to decide the winner.

DEFENSE URGED AS SAFEGUARD BY FISKE

Wars Inevitable, Ex-Admiral Declares Here While Libby Urges World Disarming

National defense, like individual self-defense, is a matter of prudence, according to Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, U. S. N., retired, in Pittsburgh for a debate last night on "Does National Security Depend on Armaments?" with Fredrick J. Libby, in the Edgeworth Club-Sewickley. Libby is executive secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War. At the Duquesne Club both gave their views on disarmament. Rear Admiral Fiske said:

"Nations are like competing firms. They have mutual interests and co-operate 99 per cent of the time. In the event of disagreement, business may go to the courts. But even court decisions are valueless unless they can be enforced.

SEES NEED OF FORCE

"Ambassadors are international policemen, but when the diplomatic machine breaks down, there is no court of appeal. There is no resort except physical force.

"But we humans are so proud of ourselves and so fearful of appearing to be fearful that we let pacifists tell us that by merely cultivating good will, the sordid quarrels of nations about tariff, trade and commerce can be healed.

"Look to international business affairs as realistically as you look at your private business affairs, and remember that the Bible tells us 'when a strong man, armed guardeth his house, his goods are in peace.' We will have wars until surgery can part us from acquisitiveness."

HOPE IN PARLEY

Libby said:

"The peace movement today is based on the conviction that the world has become economically interdependent, and therefore must be organized for the peaceful settlement of all disputes, with reduction of armaments by international agreement until they are merely police forces.

"Competitive armaments threaten one's neighbor. We build. They build. Four billion dollars are spent yearly for armaments, one-sixth of it by the United States.

"Moral and mental disarmament should be taught in the schools.

"Economic forces are the most powerful in the world today. World stability has become an economic necessity. We can't prosper again until Europe settles down to peace. I believe the present Geneva conference will achieve a measure of reduction in armaments and will provide for further steps in an ultimate world peace."

Immigration authorities said they would take steps to deport him after his release.

THERE'S SOMETHING DIFFERENT about the flavor of CHESTERFIELDS—something about the blending and cross-blending of fine tobaccos—that gets to you, every time.

THERE'S SOMETHING DIFFERENT about their mildness, too. It is the mildness that comes from the ripest, sweetest, mellowest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. There is no bitterness in them . . . no harshness.

THERE'S SOMETHING DIFFERENT about the taste. It is that good, pleasing taste that comes from the right kind of tobacco, cured in the right way—cured for two years or more. It means that to make CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes, millions of dollars are tied up in tobacco leaf—but it's worth it.

FLOOD CONTROL BOARD SEEKS HUGE LOAN

$60,000,000 U. S. Funds Sought to Construct Dams On Allegheny, Monon.

Efforts to obtain $60,000,000 from the federal government for the construction of storage reservoirs at the headwaters of the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers to afford flood protection and improve navigation, will be made by the Flood Commission of Pittsburgh.

With the possibility of a $5,000,000,000 federal bond issue for public works to revive prosperity, Pittsburghers will seek a part of the funds for improvements which will not only tend to relieve unemployment but improve navigation in the Pittsburgh industrial region.

COMMITTEE TO ACT

The Flood Commission will work through its executive committee consisting of George S. Davison, chairman; E. K. Morse, Morris Knowles, A. H. Burchfield, Sr., Julian Kennedy, Wilmer M. Jacoby, Maurice R. Scharf and George M. Lehman. Jacoby has announced he will go to Washington tonight to seek to place the reservoir plans before the proper authorities.

United States engineers are in charge of such construction. The Flood Commission's plans have already been reviewed by the engineers and pronounced practicable. The government engineers have proposed an even larger system of dams to cost $90,000,000, but the Flood Commission is of the opinion that most of the desired benefits can be gained at considerable less cost.

By retaining excess waters near the head of the streams, floods can be prevented or minimized, the volume of the rivers maintained in times of drought, supplies of pure water furnished and sources of water power developed.

The Flood Commission also proposes to urge City Council to proceed with the development and improvement of the wharves in the downtown district. It is understood a request will be made for the Department of Public Works plans for wharf improvement.

Listen, Skinny Girls

He Likes to Hold A Softly Rounded Form—Not A "Bag of Bones"

Gain 2 to 4 Pounds a Week This Common-sense Way

Many people seem to think they can put on weight and build up their systems by eating only the so-called "scientific" foods, counting "calories", fussing about "vitamines", etc., when, as a matter of fact, good firm healthy flesh with rich red blood bounding and coursing through your veins, comes only from eating delicious, wholesome foods that you like and digest.

But folks often fail to get the strength out of the food they eat because their misused stomachs find it had to turn these fancy collections of vitamines, calories, roughage and all the rest of it into living matter. These folks go on doctoring for years, taking antacids and health foods and special diets—suffering from gas and heartburn and sick headaches—when all they need is the kind of tasty meals that Mother used to fix, with ordinary mentha pepsin, or stomach juice, to digest them.

Make This Test

If you are skinny, bony, underweight, you owe it to yourself to make the following simple test.

First weigh yourself. Next take a tablespoonful of ordinary mentha pepsin three times a day before your meals for two weeks and EAT ALL YOU WANT OF ANYTHING YOU WANT—beef, lamb, chicken, fresh fish, mashed potatoes, asparagus tips, peas, lima beans, ice cream, cake, etc. Then get weighed again and see for yourself how much you have gained. You'll be amazed! You'll hardly believe your eyes! But the scales tell the truth.

No More Indigestion

Hundreds of nervous, scrawny, rundown people who used to be ailing all the time, have put on 10, 15, even 20 pounds of flesh, and have got rid of every trace of indigestion, stomach gas, biliousness, dizzy spells, belly ache and constipation since they have been eating regular old fashioned appetizing meals and digesting them.

Face and figure round out. Hollows vanish. Shapely curves take the place of angles. Ribs, shoulder blades and collar bones disappear under attractive flesh (no unhealthy fat—just firm, red-blooded, healthy flesh.) You sleep well and get up rested—with radiant color and sparkling eyes. You no longer tire easily. You have no "nerves."

More Attractive to Other Sex

Many scrawny, old maidish looking girls, and haggard, irritable, despondent young men who once considered themselves failures have changed the whole course of their lives by bringing themselves back to normal health, pep and attractiveness this easy, common-sense way, while others go on starving themselves—getting skinnier and scrawnier and more unattractive—and unpopular—every day.

Important

Mentha pepsin should not be taken by anyone who objects to having their weight increased to normal. For mentha pepsin will help your stomach get every ounce of good from your food and turn it into healthy tissue.

Be sure to get genuine mentha pepsin by asking for Dare's. Mayflower Drug Stores, Inc., and other good druggists always sell Dare's Mentha Pepsin with a guarantee of money back if even one bottle does not help you 100 per cent.

Walter Winchell ON BROADWAY

(During illness of Mr. Winchell, this column is being conducted by Don Wahn.)

When Dark Has Ceased to Be!

Let me forget that you still haunt the town.
That this gay night will not be shared with me;
I will put time aside in which to drown
The keen incessance of your memory.
I have made plans to squire an eager maid
Along the path that fools and wastrels take—
If you are kind—postpone your certain raid.
There are so many thirsts that I must slake.

So, let me dance, and as the hours speed
Tell all my lies—the lies I know so well;
Let me forget that any road must lead
Back to the warmth and magic of your spell;

And when the darkened year has ceased to be,
Come to me then, and claim your victory!

—Don Wahn.

Pins—and Needles!

He loved her. At the carnival he beamed on her beauty and bought her a rose, and she carried it in her hand, for there was no pin with which to fasten it to her dress.

Years later, her third husband was running through the pages of her favorite book of poems and a pressed flower fell to the floor.

"That's just like a man," she complained. "Three times this morning I asked you to stop at the store and bring me a package of pins."

The Hair-Line!

A few cols. ago we credited Russell Patterson with the statement: The reason artists grow long hair is not because of poverty, but because the hard, sharp lines left by the barber offend their esthetic senses. And ever since the famous limner has been deluged by tonsorial protests.

The latest dissent comes from Chas. de Zemler, who styles himself a "hair-cutter to men." His effusion says:

"The fault lies with the artist. He doesn't know how to ask for his particular style or requirement in hair cuts. Such cases as unfinished lines are known in the profession as Roman Finish or Viennese Sixty-Six. Consequently, if an artist wishes such a haircut he would receive the same by request. I am very sorry that the average man of today is not acquainted with historical styles of man's hair cut. Consequently, the fault is with the patron, not with the artist."

All right, Mr. de Zemler, make mine Viennese Sixty-Six. What'll yours be, Russ?

Liquor Racket

The N. Y. Police Dept. has issued another warning to citizens who plan to lea e town via steamship this summer to be on guard against the so-called "Liquor and Oriental Rug Swindlers."

The gang learns who is going to sail from the lists of the liners and then obtains the names of their confidential employes, servants and business associates by fake telephone calls.

As soon as the boat is a day out, the latter receive a bogus radiogram which reads in effect:

"Arrange to take care of shipment coming by Carr . . . . treat this matter strictly confidential . . . . Carr has final instructions . . . . please follow same . . . . buy no more than 10 at $120 each . . . . hold intact till I return."

The signature is that of the vacationer.

Immediately following the delivery of the radio message a phone call is made to the servant or friend and arrangements are completed for the delivery of the alleged hot stuff and particulars for the payment in cash. When the packages are opened they usually contain water, ginger ale or cheap rugs.

Well, they can't get me this summer. I'm not going anywhere.

Add Hoover Notes!

Times are so woozy down South, according to Arnold Franklin of Baltimore, that the Patapsco River is running on a three-day week.

Joy!

I can make a poem only
When I'm sorry, sad or lonely.
When I'm happy, when I'm gay
I never, never get that way.

—Madeleine.

Version, 1932

"The Cham. of Commerce of Phillv has asked me to deny the old story about postmen being shot at on the street corners by citizens who suspect them of being Confederate soldiers," wires Ray Perkins, the radio star. "However, I do know that a few weeks ago a group of Philadelphians sank a Coast Guard cutter in the Schuylkill River thinking it was a Spanish gunboat."

Broadway . . . . where the only thing true about a pal is his sum.—Al Schwartz.

Yeah, Man!

The Lambs Clubs annual Gambol at the Imperial Theater last Sunday was performed by the greatest names in the show business, but as usual the annual affair was a trifle trying on swiftly-paced nerves of the Broadwayites.

After the show, a loyal but honest member emerged from the lobby with his coat collar pulled tight over his ears and his hands buried deep in his pockets.

"What's the trouble?" a fellow-auditor asked him. "The night's as warm as the middle of summer. Why the coat pulled up?"

"I know, I know," the candid Lamb replied. "But one always feels so sheepish after a Gambol."

World Tour For Al, Ruby

By HARRISON CARROLL

(Copyright, 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD, April 29.

European screen fans will get that long wished for opportunity to hear Al Jolson sing in person.

Following the completion of his new picture, "Heart of New York," Al tells me he and Ruby Keeler Jolson will make a world tour. His arrival in England and France will be timed to coincide with the showing of the film and he plans to make a number of personal appearances. In all likelihood he also will accept radio offers which have been pouring in from abroad.

Al Jolson

Al made a terrific hit with continental audiences in his early musicals and he still is a great favorite over there. So much so, in fact, that Joseph M. Schenck is having him sing numbers in German and French in "Heart of New York." Though he doesn't speak either language fluently, Al rattled off German with such good effect in "Wonder Bar" that Marlene Dietrich was in hysterics on the opening night here.

United Artists is bending every effort to make "Heart of New York" a real comeback picture. Ben Hecht wrote the original story. Irving Caesar is composing the half-dozen-odd song numbers, and Harry D'Arrast will direct. There again is evidence that the studio has its eye on the foreign market. D'Arrast's films always have been popular abroad.

Al's role will be that of a New Yorker who lost all his money in the crash, but who refused to be downed.

It's now squarely up to Marlene Dietrich. Either she starts "The Blonde Venus" under the direction of Richard Wallace or Paramount stops her salary and files a damage suit. These proposed damage suits are the first of their kind. I believe Hollywood is watching their outcome with great interest. Universal is willing to pay Floyd Gibbons $12,500 for playing a war correspondent in "Shanghai Interlude," but he held out for more. There's some talk of this picture being shelved on account of the waning interest in the Sino-Japanese argument. On the other hand, Universal has set a starting date and apparently is going ahead with its plans. . . . The Charles Bickford contract deal seems to be cold at this studio. Couldn't even get together on terms. . . . Out here, the wiseacres are saying that even if his marriage to Garbo doesn't come off, young Sorenson has received enough publicity to insure the publication of his book about Hollywood. . . . Victor Varconi is trying out a vaudeville act, but will return to Hungary in 8 or 10 weeks. His plans are to go back on the stage where he was an important figure before coming to Hollywood. . . . Many friends of Carl Laemmle gathered at his house Sunday to bid the producer bon voyage on his European trip. James Whale, an Englishman with a sense of humor, kept a large group laughing with his quips. R. C. Sheriff, his compatriot, was another at the party. Lola Lane looked very striking in a vivid red dress. Mrs. Laemmle poured tea for the whole group. Whale said it was the best he's had since he left England. . . . Sally Eilers gets in from New York today. . . . James Gleason will go over to paramount for an important role in "The Challenger." That's the new Bancroft picture.

Marlene Dietrich

Chester Morris, Arlen In Same Picture

Chester Morris and Richard Arlen, who will be united on the screen for the first time in "Come On, Marines," dramatic story of the Devil Dogs in China, have completed film tests preparatory to the start of production.

House Party In Fulton Castle

By CLARENCE E. GRUNDISH

An English lord throws a house party in his castle, inviting winners of the Calcutta Sweepstakes, and thereon hangs "The Devil's Lottery," new picture in the Fulton.

The idea of assembling a diversified group of people always is good for at least a dozen "situations," and this film is no exception. In the space of a few days, Hollywood time, there's a sudden death, a murder is committed and romance developes like a cough in a crowded theater.

Meet the characters:

Elissa Landi, a lady with a past, who is uncertain about the future. Beryl Mercer, an elderly English cockney, who hides her sweepstakes winnings in her corset and gets scared into a cupboard. Victor McLaglen, her son, unused to castles and the ways of crooked cards. Ralph Morgan, a crippled war veteran, who does not do so bad as a Romeo. Paul Cavanaugh, a sort of snake in the grass. Alexander Kirkland, an American college boy, who strays from his old love, Barbara Weeks, the girl he strays from, and Halliwell Hobbes, the lord, who originates the party.

There are others, too, including a male servant, who puts on the best "drunk" act since Charlie Ruggles reformed.

The picture depends on an element of mystery and suspense, so there's no use disclosing story details. The cast is capable, and though the drama itself won't knock you from your seat, the chances are it'll prove diverting entertainment.

Charge of Widow Sends Man to Jail

PARIS, April 29.—(INS.)—On complaint of Mrs. Marshall Rush, widow of Senator John Wilson, of Seattle, Wash., John Butler was sentenced by default to two years in prison, fined 500 francs and ordered to pay 10,000 francs damages and an additional 32,000 francs to Mrs. Rush in court here yesterday.

Mrs. Rush, who owned a Montparnasse restaurant where Butler was in charge of the butler's pantry, alleged he withheld receipts while in her employ.

BITS OF LIFE

All In A Day

By Mark Hellinger

In Which the Customers Do the Work

"MY DEAR MARK," writes J. E. Meany, of Los Angeles, "I am not writing you in a critical sense, but I feel that you should know about this episode. I am with the Western Union Company out here and we recently caught an individual who prepared a series of bogus telegrams and delivered them to different addresses, collecting 91 cents for each telegram.

"At the time of his apprehension, after he had succeeded in collecting on 18 telegrams (he had 52 prepared), he denied his implication vigorously. He finally admitted the whole thing, however, and explained the method of operation in detail. He further told us that he had received the idea from a story that appeared in your column in the Los Angeles Herald-Express, issue of February 13.

"That story you may recall, exposed something that you referred to as 'a minor racket.' You stated that the racketeer inserts an advertisement in a reliable paper, asserting that a young man is wanted as a clerk and that the salary to start will be $30. After receiving anywhere from 300 to 500 replies, you went on, the racketeer takes the names and addresses, prints phony telegrams in connection with the non-existing job and delivers them himself. Inasmuch as he gets 75 cents for each wire, you concluded, he makes several hundred dollars on each advertisement.

"Well, the man we caught out here followed the procedure you outlined in every detail, except that he charged 91 cents for each telegram he delivered. Incidentally, your figures were fairly accurate. For he received exactly 350 replies to his small advertisement.

"I remembered your story well and, when I interviewed the prisoner after his apprehension I was quite amused to have him tell me, after some hesitation, that he had stolen the entire idea from your column. The young man is about 30 years of age and gave the name of Robert Hicks. He claims to be a salesman and a former actor. He is now charged with preparing false telegrams and obtaining money under false pretenses.

"The point I wish to raise is this: Would the defendant have become involved if he had not read of the incident in your 'All In a Day' column? It is not for me to judge—but I do think that writers like yourself should bear that thought in mind when exposing these rackets."

Thanks for your letter, Mr. Meany, but I can't quite agree with you. It is extremely possible that, although the publication of that item induced Mr. Hicks to attempt the racket, he was trapped by the very fact that someone else had read it. Accordingly, looking at both sides of the matter, I was instrumental in catching a young man of criminal intent and deserve a vote of thanks from the Los Angeles police.

Going still further, who knows what might have happened to Mr. Hicks if he hadn't read that item? Perhaps he was desperate at that particular moment, and was somewhat tempted to go out and slug some innocent movie actor upon the bean. He would then be held for murder—and where would he be now? Accordingly, I feel that Mr. Hicks, too, owes me a vote of thanks.

Having bestowed two medals upon myself after dodging the issue most gracefully, I now offer a piece of advice to both the Western Union Company and the police department of Los Angeles. I suggest that the case against Mr. Hicks be dropped on the ground that he is the first man who ever got any kind of an idea through my column.

* * *

"IN THE hope that it will be printed in your column," writes George E. Lemon, of Youngstown, O., "I'd like to relate an incident that happened here the day before yesterday.

"On the evening of the eventful day in question, my two sisters decided to visit a local movie palace. Having made up their minds, they acquired the family car and drove off.

"The story now takes on a farcical aspect. Times being what they are, the girls passed up the two-bit parking station. They cruised around until they found a space on Youngstown's Broadway—Federal st. The space, however, was small. And the car was maneuvered around until it made a 90-degree angle with the curb.

"A very pleasant young man watched them for some time and then stepped over.

"'Excuse me, miss,' he said, 'but are you trying to get in or out?'

"My sister explained that she was trying to park the car and alibied in true feminine fashion that the space was too small. The young man smiled.

"'You aren't going about it in the right way,' he asserted. 'Permit me to show you how it's done.'

"The girls could see no harm in that. So they stepped from the car and stood on the curb as the young man climbed behind the wheel.

"And this is where you come in, Mr. Hellinger. Will you be kind enough to print our license number—23143, Ohio? That guy might be anywhere at all by now"...

OCEAN BROADCAST -:- Notables on Leviathan Heard Through WCAE -:- WHITEMAN AT KDKA

Paul Robeson Guest Artist As Week-End Hour Returns to Air

With Paul Robeson, noted Negro baritone and Ziegfeld star, as its first guest artist, the pioneer Kodak Week-End Hour returns to the air tonight at 9 on WJAS.

Miss Kessler

Thelma Kessler, soprano, the Kodak Male Quartet and a large novelty orchestra under direction of Nathaniel Shilkret are regular features. Following Robeson, a series of "surprise" guest artists ranging from concert singers to harpists, will be heard. Shilkret, director of the Week-end Hour since its inception in the early days of broadcasting, has written special arrangements for a swift-moving half-hour of entertainment. The quartet includes Jack Parker, first tenor; Willard Amison, second tenor; Vernon Jacobsen, baritone, and James Stanley, bass. The program is sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company.

A special program from the Leviathan, in mid-sea almost 1,600 miles from New York, with Harry Acten, ship news reporter for the New York American who sailed on the liner, as master of ceremonies, is heard over an NBC network including WCAE tonight at 10:30. Such prominent figures as Mrs. David K. Bruce, daughter of Andrew Mellon, who is en route to London to act as hostess in the Court of St. James's for her Ambassador father; Gen. John J. Pershing, Helen Jacobs, English tennis champion, and Countess Elanor von Schlieven, European opera star, are scheduled to speak.

The Pittsburgh winner of Paul Whiteman's "Youth of America" auditions, chosen by the maestro today, is heard in his network program, originating in the studios of KDKA tonight at 10, along with Mildred Bailey and the other Whiteman stars appearing this week at the Stanley Theater.

Program Pointers

Jack Haley, comedy star of "Follow Thru," on both the stage and screen, and long a favorite of Pittsburgh theatergoers, comes to the microphone as guest artist with Leonard Joy and his orchestra on KDKA tonight at 8. His program includes three songs and a number of sketches with Allyn Joslyn, master of ceremonies, in the same rapid-fire style that brought him fame on the vaudeville stage. Joy's band is heard in special orchestrations of "Out of Breath," "Paradise" and "What a Life."

Mr. Haley

An all-orchestral program of special arrangements is heard when Leo Reisman and his band present a half-hour broadcast on WCAE at 9:30.

The city of Winchester, scene of the famous Shenandoah Valley apple blossom festival next Wednesday and Thursday, is saluted during the Westinghouse Parade on KDKA and W8XK at 6:15.

George Gordon Battle, prominent attorney and clubman, is interviewed on WJAS at 8.

One of the most unusual broadcasts ever originated in Pittsburgh is heard today periodically during the afternoon when KQV takes microphones and equipment to the Schenley High School auditorium for the music of high school bands and orchestras in a statewide contest.

* * *

Fan Fare

Samuel Di Primio, young tenor heard in a recital of classical and semi-classical selections on KDKA tonight at 10:45, travels from Greensburg for his broadcasts. Ben Bernie and his orchestra, playing one-night stands in the middle west, travel by bus. Nick Lucas is proudly displaying a new silver guitar, the gift of his wife on their fifteenth anniversary.

Mr. Di Primio

Richard Gordon, the Sherlock Holmes of the air, turns to amateur woodworking as a hobby. . . . The folks back home presented John Fogarty, singing Westerner at NBC, with a new 10-gallon hat the other day. . . . Little Shirley Bell, 12-year-old star heard over NBC as Little Orphan Annie, had to stand on a box to make her radio debut. . . . A Broadway stroll leading into the studios out of curiosity at lunch time while he was doing jury service led Graham McNamee to become an announcer. . . . Countess Olga Albani's brother, the Marquis of Mirasole, has composed several operas and symphonies which were produced at the Opera Theater in Venice. . . . A new weekly series of popular and semi-classical offering: by Ralph Kirberry, the Dream Singer, two vocal quartets and a soprano, starts on KDKA Sunday at 9.

Question Box

Last Monday night we anticipated hearing Phillips Lord's program from the Bowery after reading the announcement of the program in your column and instead another program came on the air. It was Kay Donna. Why was this done?—C. A. T., Mt. Washington.

The Sun-Telegraph listed Phillips Lord because it was advised to that effect by NBC. Then at 6 o'clock, after the final edition had been printed, NBC made the change, substituting Miss Donna. Why this was done, the Sun-Telegraph does not know. The Sun-Telegraph programs are listed as correctly and up-to-the-minute as possible, but naturally cannot be responsible for last minute changes made by the studios too late for publication.

Long's Sports Review On WCAE Tonight

The high spots of the week's activities in the world of sport are discussed on WCAE tonight at 7 when James J. Lonz, columnist of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, gives his weekly sports review.

Songs, recitations and instrumental solos by talented Pittsburgh kiddies are heard during the Sun-Telegraph Family program for the children on WCAE today at 4:45.

Features of the Sun-Telegraph Nite Club of the Air on WCAE tonight at 11 are songs by Olive Nicoley and Pat Haley, with David Levin's orchestra. Herb McGee officiates.

Louis L. Kaufman, Globe-Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News, gives the latest news flashes from the editorial rooms of the Sun-Telegraph at 9:05 a. m., 12:15 p. m., 2:30 p. m. and 6:30 p. m.

FRUIT JELLY CUP—Drain 2 8-ounce cans pineapple tidbits and combine with 1 cup banana cubes and divide among 8 cocktail glasses. Meanwhile soak 1 tablespoon gelatin in 2 tablespoons cold water. Add 4 tablespoons sugar to pineapple syrup and boil 2 minutes, pour over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool.

Add 1 8-ounce can grapefruit juice, ¼ cup orange juice and ¼ cup lemon juice and set in ice box. When quite thick beat with rotary beater until light and bubbly and let stand again until set. Then drop by spoonfuls over the fruit, letting it seep down through the fruit mixture as it will. Garnish with a whole ripe strawberry and serve. Serves eight.

* * *

CRAB MEAT OMELET—Make a white sauce of 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour and 3 cups milk, add 2-3 cup grated cheese and salt and pepper to taste. Add 1 cup crab meat flaked. Keep hot. Make a French omelet by slightly beating 8 eggs, ½ cup milk, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Pour into a heavy hot skillet well buttered on the bottom and sides.

As mixture cooks lift it with a spatula to allow uncooked portion to run underneath. When all cooked brown on the bottom. Pour a part of the crab meat sauce on the omelet, roll up and onto a hot platter and pour the rest of the sauce around it. Garnish with parsley and serve at once. Serves eight. It is best to make 2 4-egg omelets or 8 1-egg omelets. Eight eggs are too many to handle in one omelet.

* * *

TOMATO JELLY SALAD—3 cups tomatoes, 1 cup water, boiling, 4 whole cloves, 2 bay leaves, 2 celery leaves, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 2 slices onions, 2 tablespoons gelatin, 4 tablespoons cold water.

Mix gelatin and cold water and soak 5 minutes. Mix rest of ingredients. Cover and cook slowly 20 minutes. Strain. Heat to boiling point and pour over gelatin mixture. Stir until gelatin has dissolved. Pour into mold which has been rinsed out in cold water. Set in a cold place for hour or more until salad has stiffened. Unmold

Apples Healthful Food for People of All Ages

High carbohydrate content of this fruit makes it an important energy-producing food.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Formerly Health Commissioner, New York City.

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away," is made more of a joke than a bit of applied wisdom. Unfortunately, few persons heed the admonition. Yet it cannot be doubted the apple is a healthful fruit, both for the child and the adult.

The apple is an old-time fruit which has been improved by cultivation from its wild state. Originally it was small, acid and bitter, closely resembling the present crab apple. It is grown in many countries but the United States has become the greatest apple-producing country in the world.

The apple tree is a beautiful and picturesque tree, bearing fruit even when it is 50 to 60 years old. In former years the apple tree was grown in home orchards, both for its beauty and fruit bearing value. Now it is mainly grown on a large scale for commercial purposes.

IMPORTANT SUBSTANCE

The apple contains several vitamins, as well as an abundant supply of important mineral substances, such as potash and soda. This fruit is alkaline in reaction and aids in warding off acidity of the system. The chemical make-up of the apples make it useful in the prevention of certain infectious diseases.

The apple contains a large supply of carbohydrates, chiefly sugar. Due to the high sugar content, this fruit is an important energy-producing food.

Apples help keep the mouth clean. They are cleansing and, when taken after a meal, aid in removing food debris left in the mouth. The bulky content and cellulose found in this fruit are of great value in combatting and preventing constipation. The apple is easily digested and for this reason may be given to invalids and persons recovering from severe illness. Apple sauce is frequently served with roast pork, goose and duck, as it aids in the digestion of these foods.

GOOD FOR INFANTS

Within recent years the apple has become an important part of the infant's menu. Strained apple sauce is now recommended for infants at the age of 9 months.

Recent experiments have proven the great value of apples in diarrhea and other intestinal upsets commonly encountered in early infant life. In these cases only the pulp of ripe and mellow apples is used. In many cases the diarrhea is stopped when the afflicted infant is placed on a strict apple pulp diet for a day or two.

Apples can be used in a variety of ways. They can be eaten raw or cooked. When baked, their nutrition is increased by the addition of cream and sugar. Before eating the raw fruit, always make sure that it has been cleansed in water.

Apples are an inexpensive food and can be purchased all year round. There are many kinds of apples, so that individual taste can be easily satisfied. Take advantage of this healthful and wholesome food and include it in the diet for every member of the family.

Everyone Should Be Sure of Love Before Marrying

He will never admit that he has made a mistake; he flees into a fit of pouts if she doesn't "yes" all his notions yet—

On the other hand, he's a gorgeous looker, has a good job and, like the little girl with the curl, "when he's good he is very good indeed." And so—

Will Myrna be pleased herself off for good or grief in the matter of him?

Suppose he were "playing around" and you knew it—what would you think?

"Dear Miss Martin:

"Won't you be kind enough to help me out?

"I have been going with a young man quite steadily for the last two years and now he wants me to marry him. He is very handsome and he has a good job. I suppose he probably would make a good husband and I like him a lot better than any other man I know. Sometimes I think I love him. But sometimes he doesn't quite come up to my ideal of a man.

"If we have a quarrel he is always sure that I caused it. If we disagree on something he is always right. He never will admit that he could be wrong about anything.

"And little things that most people would never notice make him angry; then he pouts until I tease him into a good humor again. He is also very jealous.

"But when I give him my whole attention and agree with him in everything he says he is a very pleasant companion.

IS DOUBTFUL

"Do you think that maybe I read too many books and expect too much of a man? I don't expect him to be perfect at all but neither do I expect to lose my personality in his.

"What do you think? Should I marry him? I really am fond of him. Perhaps I think sometimes all men are something like him. I don't know. I have met so few.

"Will you please help me? Of course I want a home and babies but I also want to be happy. Sometimes I think I could be happy with him and then again I doubt it very much.

MYRNA

You may well doubt it yourself, Myrna. No matter how much of a pleasant companion the man is when he feels like being one he woman could be happy with him. As a matter of fact he isn't a man yet. He may think he is one and he may look like one, but the plain truth is that he is nothing but a great big cry baby who has never grown up.

MEET NEW FRIENDS

Grown up men are always willing to admit it when they make mistakes.

And they don't have an itch for excuses. They don't need 'em. That's the first part of my answer. The second is—

Don't marry any man you're not sure about. Don't marry any man you're not sure you love. You don't need to rush into a marriage with the first man who asks you. Go out and meet new friends. Learn to know real men. Learn to tell the real ones from the other kind.

For marriage is far too serious an adventure to go into it with anyone who is unfair or weak. It takes all the sand and sense and tolerance and humor in the world to make a go of it, no matter how much in love you may think you are. This pouting Peter has none of those qualities. Don't risk your happiness in his hands. Tell him no and stick to it.

Look for someone who is regular.

Marriages From Love at First Sight Subject of Fay King's Comment

I'D RATHER MARRY HIM IF HE WERE THE LAST MAN ON EARTH!
BUT SHE DID MARRY HIM!
SHE'S A LITTLE SNOB
HE'S TOO CONCEITED!
WE FELL IN LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT BUT IT DIDN'T LAST FAY KING

By FAY KING

We hear a lot about love at first sight, but the great majority who have married and lived happily ever after will tell you that they did not fall in love with the one they married the instant they met.

In fact, in many cases where the marriage has turned out the best, they weren't at all smitten at first sight.

I knew of one case where a man saw a girl for the first time and declared he would marry that girl and no other, although he had not met her as yet. They did marry, but it turned out a poor match and didn't last long.

One of the happiest marriages I know of began in a meeting when both disliked the other.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Pellagra Due to Lack of Vitamin G

A recent report of the United States Public Health Service states that though pellagra has been known for almost 200 years it is only recently that the cause of this disease has been made clear.

Dr. Copeland

Contrary to common belief it is not an infectious disease, nor is it contagious. Pellagra which affects the skin, stomach, intestines and nervous system is believed to be caused by a diet lacking in certain foods.

Pellagra was a rare disease in this country until 1907. Since then repeated outbreaks have caused great anxiety throughout the country. I am glad to say that due to diligent research work pellagra no longer confuses public health authorities.

It is now established that pellagra is a "vitamin-deficiency disease." Where there is a lack of certain vitamins in the diet, "vitamin-deficiency diseases" may occur. A diet constantly lacking in those fresh fruits and vegetables which supply vitamin C causes a "vitamin-deficiency" disease called scurvy. When children are continuously fed on a diet deficient in vitamin D rickets results. In a similar way pellagra results from a diet which does not contain a sufficient amount of vitamin G, the "anti-pellagric" vitamin.

Many believed that pellagra was due to lack of money with which to purchase the proper food and so it was known as a "poor man's disease."

This is not always true. Often it is because the wrong kind of food is eaten. Severe dieting in an effort to reduce may cause this condition. In digestive disorders that interfere with proper nutrition pellagra may occur.

Fortunately the vitamin necessary to prevent pellagra is found in a variety of foods, some richer in vitamin G content than others. Fresh lean meats, liver, milks, canned salmon and commercial wheat germ contain an abundant supply of this important vitamin, while eggs, dried peas, soy beans, dried milk and tomatoes contain the vitamin in smaller amounts. These must be eaten in larger quantities if they are to give the necessary protection. Vitamin G is found also in corn products, wheat and rye flour, oatmeal, salt pork, lard, butter, carrots and rice, but in so small amount that these foods cannot be depended upon regardless of the quantity consumed.

Often it is impossible to obtain fresh vegetables all year round, but recent studies show that canned vegetables, such as spinach and turnips, are of value in the prevention of pellagra.

The importance of fresh fruits, meat, vegetables and milk in the daily diet cannot be over-emphasized. It has been proved that pellagra may be produced or prevented by changing from or to the foods that contain vitamin G, the anti-pellagric vitamin. Pellagra is not influenced by the amount of food, but by the type of food and its vitamin G value.

Like other "vitamin-deficiency" diseases, pellagra can be prevented by supplying the necessary vitamin which is always found in a well-balanced and varied diet.

Household Hints

Children should have some fruit every day.

Always put the egg beater and potato masher directly into cold water after using. It will help greatly in the washing process.

If the family is large use two pans when cooking fritters or pancakes. They will save time and always keep a supply on hand.

When ironing hubby's shirts do not crease the cuffs with the iron. Let him fold over the cuff when he puts on the shirt and you will find they will wear much longer.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

The perfect eyebrow tapers at the far end, but it doesn't taper at the point where it faces its partner. The eyebrow silhouette should be a curve like that of the wing of a bird in flight. Girls who have destroyed their little window arches and who use black crayon as a substitute should learn something about the proper contour instead of streaking on one long, thin, straight line.

Meal bags made of orris root and almond meal are luxuries. They can be used only twice, at best; then must be thrown away. More sensible to keep the meal in a quart Mason jar, sprinkle a tablespoonful or so on a moistened washcloth, apply directly to the skin. An excellent formula: eight ounces of ordinary oatmeal, four ounces of almond meal, one ounce of powdered florentine orris root. Use the same as soap. The surface of the skin will feel smooth and velvety afterwards.

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Introduction

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

While I was dining with a man friend in a large hotel dining room, an elderly woman for whom I have a great respect stopped at our table. The man rose at once, and I introduced them. I have been told never to introduce people when seated, and I've also been told never to stand up in a public dining room after you have been seated, and so forth . . . but I have been wondering and wanting to ask you, if I should have stood up as I introduced these friends. L.

Yes, you should have risen when you made this introduction. Not so much for the fact that you were making the introduction, but for the fact that the woman was an elderly woman, which would have meant that you would feel awkward if you had not risen.

There is a distinct social reaction among accustomed people against making introductions on occasions of just the kind that you name . . . that is, for example, in a restaurant . . . but one has to judge of each occasion in deciding about this. That is, the introduction should not seem forced; but, on the other hand, neither should we not introduce if an introduction seems called for. On this occasion, when the woman was so much older and did you the honor of stopping at your table, an introduction seems called for.

The Bride and Groom

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. What are the proper things for a bride to say when friends congratulate her? (Something besides "Thank you.")

2. Is one supposed to congratulate the groom?

3. When the bride is sending out notes thanking her friends for wedding gifts, how should the name be signed . . . Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, or just Mrs. John Brown?

ONE OF YOUR READERS.

1. We don't, or shouldn't congratulate the bride. It is the groom whom we congratulate, on winning so fine a wife! We offer our "best wishes" to the bride, or our "wishes for your happiness always."

And, to the "Thank You" she may add anything for which there is time in the receiving line. "Thank you. That is very kind of you," or "Thank you, Grace. That means so much to me."

2. Yes, one congratulates the groom.

3. If she writes her notes of thank-you-for-your-gift before the marriage, as she should if possible, she signs her first name or her full name, according to whom she is writing.

If she writes her notes after she has been married, she may sign either her first name, as she naturally would do to her close friends, or, to others whom she does not know so well, she signs.

Very sincerely yours,

Mary Smith Brown (or Mary Brown).

OFFICIAL SYSTEM As Adopted by Leading Authorities

By E. V. SHEPARD

Feature Showing Insures Safety

The hand shown today presents several interesting features of bidding and play. Although appearing tempting for a grand slam attempt the features capable of being shown warn that a small slam must be the safe bidding limit.

Z opened with a rather sturdy hand bidding 1-Spade. A overcalled with 2-Hearts. To show game certainty, slam prospects, and no losers in the adverse suit, Y bid 3-Hearts, this stated that the bidder was unusually strong in his partner's suit, and called for ace showing. B passed. Z bid 4-Clubs, merely to announce possession of the ace of clubs. A dropped out. Y responded with 4-Diamonds, hoping that Z might hold the K of his suit, which would insure a small slam at least. Z could see a probable small slam in case Y held either the K of clubs or the K of diamonds; if Y held both of those kings the chances for a grand slam would depend upon how trumps broke. The only way in which Z could ask for further information was to bid 4-Hearts. Y retorted with 5-Clubs; this bid of a side suit in which Z had shown the Ace, stated that the K was held. To find out whether Y had the K of diamonds, Z bid 5-Hearts. Having nothing further to show, Y bid only 5-Spades, leaving it to Z to bid a small slam in case he held good spades, or a grand slam if solid tops were held in that suit. Of course Z had to content himself with the small slam bid.

As a choice between evils A made an opening lead of the 8 of diamonds through the bidder of the suit. Of course Y's Ace won the trick. B played low. Z was morally certain that B held the missing K, but sometimes the leader holds the missing honor in such cases. Dummy's lowest trump was led and covered by B's 9. Z had to put up his K. When A discarded his 8 of hearts it became plain that one trump trick had to be lost. Unless a discard could be obtained upon one of dummy's diamonds the declarer must also lose a club trick and be penalized. Evidently a cross-ruff must be started using the three remaining trumps in dummy for ruffing the declarer's hearts and in turn ruffing Y's diamonds until one good card of that suit could be utilized for a discard of Z's losing club.

The third, fifth and seventh tricks were won by having dummy use its three trumps for ruffing Z's three hearts. The fourth, six and eighth tricks were won by declarer's ruffs of dummy's diamonds. Upon the eighth trick B dropped the K of diamonds, leaving the Q of diamonds, long in dummy.

The ninth trick was won with Z's ace of spades, leaving one good spade in B's hand, to take when he wished to ruff. Dummy won the tenth trick with the K of clubs, and upon the return lead of Y's long diamond, Z discarded his losing club. B chose not to ruff. The twelfth and last trick of the declaring side was won by the Ace of clubs. Of course B's trump won the last trick. After the disclosure of the trump situation came on the second trick, Z played the hand with such care that no chance existed for defeat of his contract unless B happened to be void of clubs or held five diamonds.

A Mother's Reward

By CONSTANCE CAMERON

"I think," one mother told me, as we were out driving after a dinner at her home, "that I have two of the best girls in the world."

I completely agreed with her, and marvelled at the naivete with which she divulged the secret of their co-operative, happy home, without dreaming that she was sketching for me a model mother.

We had literally dropped into town, unexpectedly, from a glistening monoplane, and had 'phoned the family. Immediately we were urged to come out for dinner. The mother explained that when the 'phone conversation ended, both girls, aged 17 and 19, suggested what they were to do toward planning the meal. One said: "I'll fix my special salad and peel the potatoes," while the other tied an apron on and said: "I'll make date pudding. All you have to do is to order the roast, and don't forget the whipped cream for my pudding."

Co-operation—happy co-operation—a joining of hands which many a mother may well envy.

On the other hand, the mother frequently offers to make sandwiches when the flock of boys who hover around her jolly and wholesome girls happen in on Sunday evening. If one of the girls expresses a desire to fuss with the "eats," mother slips into her chair and plays her hand of bridge while one or two of the young folks get coffee and sandwiches started in the kitchen.

"It's amazing," the mother continued slowly, "how often the boys want me to go along to picture shows and for rides. I don't always let them cart me around, of course, but they're always so nice about it."

With a mother such as these girls have, I fancy the boys will always be nice about inviting her to join them, and she has the common sense not to lean on the young people.

Her happiness with her daughters is engendered by the fact that they are exceptionally thoughtful girls, but that is her reward for being a sensible, fair, appreciative mother.

Until Ironed

A large Turkish towel is nice in the kitchen to wrap the sprinkled clothes together until ready for ironing. It keeps the clothes an even dampness and makes for easier ironing, besides being right on hand for any of the finer embroidered pieces that need a soft surface for ironing.

PRUDENCE PENNY'S RECIPES

on lettuce and top with salad dressing.

* * *

OYSTER ENTREE—Drain one 8-ounce can oysters and arrange in 4 buttered flat shallow earthen ramekins or scallop shells. Mix 1 cup bread crumbs with 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, ½ teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, ¼ teaspoon thyme and ½ teaspoon lemon juice and add 4 tablespoons oyster liquor to moisten. Cover oysters with this and place under the broiler flame till the crumbs are well browned. Serves four.

* * *

MUSHROOM OMELET—Separate the yolks and whites of 4 eggs, beating the yolks until thick and lemon colored with ¼ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper and ¼ cup hot water. Beat the egg whites until stiff and dry and fold into the yolk mixture. Add ½ cup sliced pan-fried mushrooms and bake as a regular omelet. Crease when done, fold and serve with a mushroom sauce and garnish with parsley. Serves six.

* * *

LIMA BEANS AND MEAT—1½ pints of dried lima beans, ¼ teaspoon of soda, 1½ pounds of chuck (ground), 3 tablespoons olive oil, 3 large onions, 2 medium sized green peppers, 1 large can of tomatoes, a few grains of nutmeg, a small piece of bay leaf, 2 cloves, ⅛ tablespoon of allspice, salt and pepper to taste.

Soak the lima beans over night. Drain off the water. Then pour on sufficient boiling water, add the baking soda and some salt. Cook until the beans are nearly tender. In the meantime put the olive oil in a saucepan and add the ground meat. After the meat has browned deliciously, add the onions, thinly sliced, and green peppers. Then turn in the large can of tomatoes. Simmer over low flame for 5 minutes. Then turn mixture into the pot with the lima beans, add the few grains of nutmeg, small piece of bay leaf, two cloves and allspice. Simmer every very low flame until onions and green peppers are tender. Add more salt to taste if necessary. And now for a few words of advice concerning the preparation of this dish. Do not add too much water in the first place to cook the lima beans in. There should be a small amount of liquid left when beans are ready for meat mixture to be added to them. When dish is done, a bit of flour may be added for thickening. This gives you a rich and delicious gravy. Serve this piping hot with plenty of brown bread as an accompaniment.

* * *

BEAN STEW—Two cups dried beans, water, ¼ pound salt pork, pepper, salt to taste (depending on saltiness of pork), chopped onion, celery or green pepper if desired.

Soak the beans overnight in cold water to cover. In the morning add 3 cups of water, the salt pork and seasonings. Let simmer for an hour or until the beans are tender. If more water is needed it should be hot when added. The beans may be cooked without previous soaking, but twice as long will be required. If cooked in a covered vessel, slightly less time is required, and stew will have a stronger bean flavor.

* * *

STEAK SMOTHERED WITH ONIONS—Quarter cup flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, pepper, 1½ pounds lean beef about 1 inch thick, 2 tablespoons melted suet, 2 or more cups sliced onions, 3 cups hot water.

Sift the flour, salt and pepper and beat thoroughly into the steak with a meat pounder. The beating makes the meat more tender and the flour absorbs the juice. Sear the meat in the hot fat in a heavy skillet on both sides, add the onions and water. Place a lid on the cooking utensil and simmer about 1 hour or until the meat is so tender it can be cut with a fork. If the gravy becomes too thick add more liquid from time to time. There should be plenty of rich gravy.

* * *

CREAMY RICE WITH APRICOTS—Half cup rice, 1 cup boiling water, 1½ cups milk, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar, 2 cups chopped fresh fruit or dried fruit soaked and cooked.

Cook the rice over direct heat in the cup of boiling water. When the water has been almost absorbed put the rice in a double boiler, add the milk, salt and sugar. Cover and cook until the rice is tender. Mix the rice and fruit and when chilled serve with top milk.

* * *

SALMON LOAF—One pound can salmon, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, Cayenne, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 2-3 cup chopped celery, 1½ cups bread crumbs, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ½ cup evaporated milk, ½ cup liquid drained from salmon.

Remove skin and bones from salmon and flake with a fork. Add remaining ingredients and shape into a loaf. Bake in an oiled baking dish in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until brown and firm. Garnish with parsley and serve with tomato cream sauce or with lemon. Yield, 5 servings.

Sliced cold, the loaf is fine for sandwiches for the children's school luncheons or Sunday evening tea. No better Lenten season food, high in vitamin value, could be found or for any time of the year for that matter.

* * *

CARROT RING—One bunch carrots, 2 eggs, 1 cup evaporated milk, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon sugar, pepper, ½ cup blanched almonds, 1½ tablespoons butter.

Wash, scrape and grate carrots. There should be 2½ cups. Boil in a small amount of water until tender, or use raw. Beat eggs, add milk, seasonings and ½ cup coarsely chopped almonds. Melt butter in ring mold. Let run around mold to grease thoroughly and pour extra butter into mixture. Fill mold. Set in a pan of water and bake in a slow oven (350 degrees F.) until set. Yield, 8 servings.

It should be mentioned that the vitamins in the carrots, plus the vitamins in the milk and the other whole milk constituents, make carrot ring an excellent food.

* * *

STUFFED PIMENTOS WITH MUSHROOM SAUCE—Three-fourth cup cooked rice, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 small onion, 1 stalk celery, ½ pound round steak, ground, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, few grains cayenne, 1 egg, 1 7-ounce can pimentos, ½ cup buttered crumbs.

Cook chopped onion and celery in the fat until tender. Add steak and cook for a few minutes, remove from fire. Add cooked rice, slightly beaten egg and seasonings. Drain canned pimentos. Fill with the meat and rice mixtures, place in well greased muffin pans. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

* * *

LEMON SPONGE PIE—Three egg yolks, beaten thick, 5 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1¼ cups milk, 3 egg whites, uncooked pastry.

Combine all ingredients, folding in last stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into pie tin lined with uncooked pastry and put into hot oven (450 degrees F.). After 10 minutes reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 20 minutes longer or until filling is firm. Makes one pie.

* * *

BAKED STAR HAM IN CIDER—Wipe a 10-pound ham with a damp cloth. Dry and, over the fleshy side sprinkle a little clove, a teaspoon of cinnamon and ½ teaspoon of ginger. Cover the ham with a thick paste of flour and water. Put skin side down in a roasting pan and fill the pan with cider. Bake slowly for three hours, at a temperature of 300 degrees F., basting often. Remove the paste and rind. Return the ham to the baking pan, flesh side down. Brush the fat portion with beaten egg, sprinkle generously with chopped parsley and bread crumbs and continue baking for one hour. Make a gravy of the cider by boiling it down.

* * *

APRICOT DAINTY—1½ cups (½ lb.) dried apricots, 2 cups cold water, sugar to taste, 2 cups quartered marshmallows and ¼ pound package or can cocoanut.

Wash apricots, soak for several hours in 2 cups of cold water, cook until tender, mash, add sugar if desired. Cut marshmallows into quarters with scissors which have been dipped into cold water. Fold marshmallows into warm fruit pulp. Add ¾ cup cocoanut. Pile the sherbet glasses, sprinkle with remaining cocoanut. Chill thoroughly. This recipe will serve six.

* * *

HAM WITH ORANGE—6 servings fried ham, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups orange juice, parsley, 2 to 3 oranges for slices.

Fry ham. For this number of servings a ham steak of about 1½ pounds will be required. Add flour to 2 tablespoons of fat from frying ham and cook until lightly browned. Add orange juice, stirring well to avoid lumps. Cook 5 minutes or until sauce is thick. Pour sauce around ham on serving dish. Garnish with parsley and orange slices. Serves six.

* * *

ENDIVE DE LUXE—½ pound endive, 1 2-ounce jar of pimentos, ¼ cup crumbled Roquefort cheese, French dressing.

Separate the leaves of endive, wash, drain thoroughly. Form into bundles together with a band of pimento. Sprinkle the crumbled cheese over the endive. Serve with French dressing. Use asparagus tips instead of endive if desired, garnishing with lettuce. Four servings.

* * *

CHOPPED MEAT CAKES—1 pound round steak, chopped, 3 tablespoons olive oil, 2 tablespoons chopped onions, 2 tablespoons chopped green peppers, 2 tablespoons chopped celery, 2 tablespoons chopped pimentos, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley.

Heat the oil in frying pan, add and brown the onions, peppers, celery and pimentos. Add rest of ingredients. Mix well. Shape into six cakes and place in shallow pan. Broil 10 minutes.

Those extra, richer suds are the secret of easy washing, of cleaner, whiter clothes. Suds that don't collapse and let the dirt fall back on the clothes—clean smelling suds that never ball up or leave a scum on the tub—suds that make clothes gleaming white without tiresome rubbing.

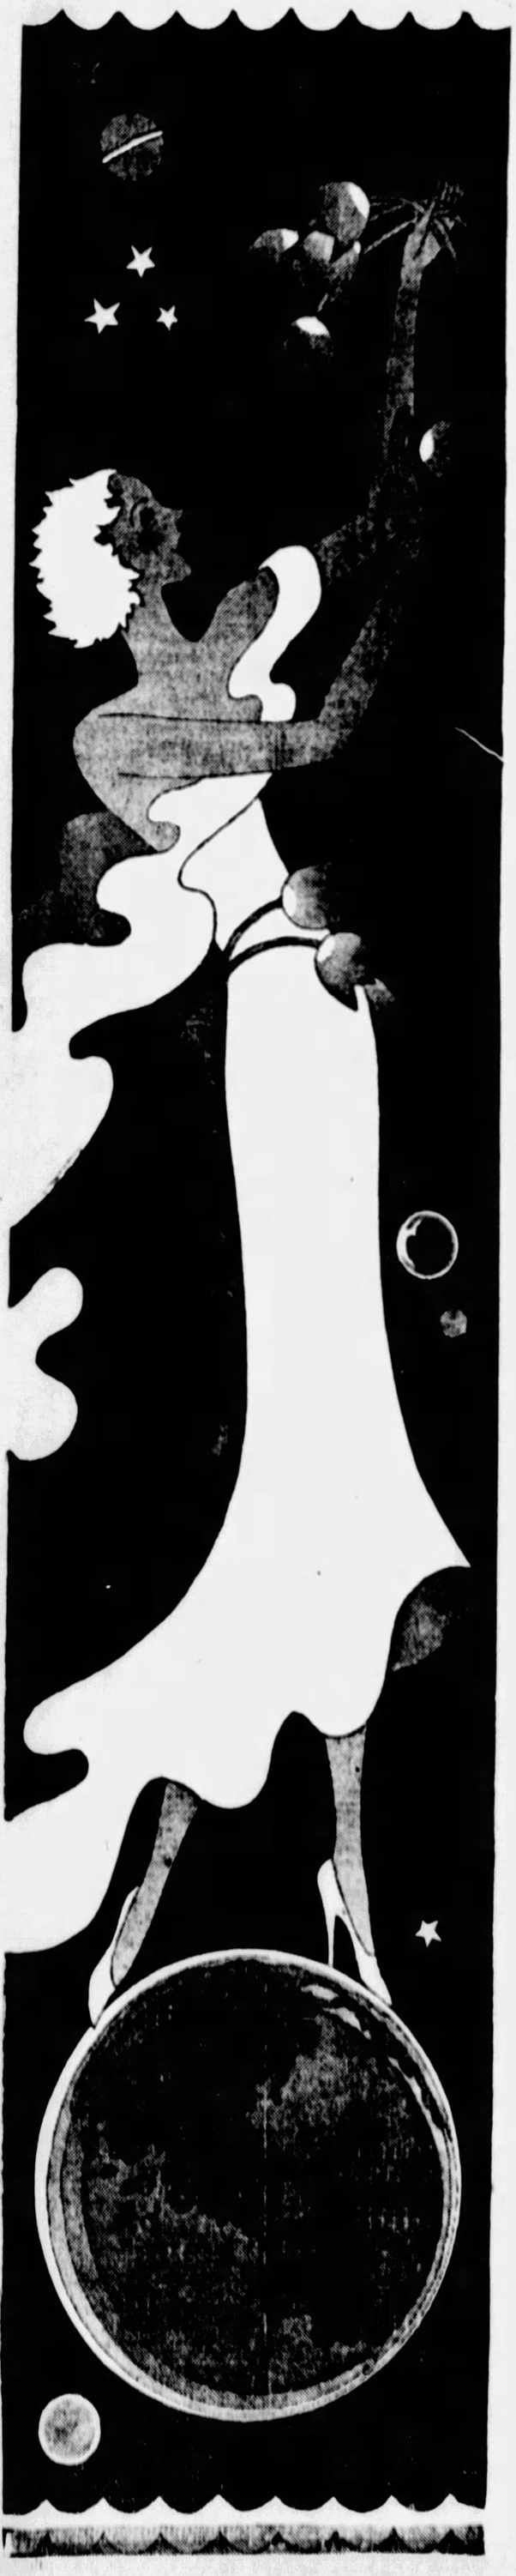
SPRING FEVER!



The Cause . . .

Blue skies . . . warmer days . . . and a knowledge that the Winter things you have been wearing are beginning to look "green" 'round the seams! Shoes are "scuffy"...gloves are dingy...and you realize that something has to be done about appearance...and done SOON!

The Symptoms . . .

The "sulphur and molasses" feeling you get when you look at the new clothes there are to be had! An inferiority complex about yourself every time you look at yourself in the mirror...and that "all at loose ends" impression you find yourself giving without meaning to!

Prescribed Treatment . . .

TAKE yourself in hand immediately and make up your mind whether you are going to be daintily feminine ...swaggeringly feminine...or sophisticated! Then come into town and carefully choose your wardrobe, keying it to your type! It won't be hard to do these days with the shops just full of lovely new things in every style which Spring has decreed chic for this season! Take a good dose of this treatment (but be cautious about overdoing it)...and you will find yourself cured in short order.

A. A good "dose" of a new print puts new life in most anyone! Note the "rumba" effect on these sleeves!
B. The kind of frock which gets you places! Black "sheer" with tiny ivory touches at the neck and cap sleeves!
C. Draped lines at their best! The side-closing to which everyone sings praise, and a dressy bow to accentuate the necessary shoulder width!
D. Another print of dressier nature! Lace here too and buttons—behind as well—of the season's fashionable "bits"!

The special shops and department stores here in town are full of wardrobe "cures" for your Spring fever. The advertisements in this paper are "thermometers" by which you can test out your clothes-temperature and discover just what you need most, and where to find it! Let them guide you through your "feverish" period with their true pictures of the new fashions in the shops at their new 1932 prices!

AIR MAIL HERO TO GET MEDAL

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP.)—The first air mail pilot's medal for heroism will go to Mal B. Freeburg, who flies between Chicago and St. Paul.

The presentation will be by President Hoover at a date to be selected later.

On April 12, 1931, shortly after leaving Minneapolis, a motor of Freeburg's trimotored plane shook loose and tangled with the landing gear.

Freeburg kept the plane aloft with the two remaining motors, flew to the Mississippi River and by maneuvering, shook the third motor into the river and then landed with eight passengers and mail.

Later, while flying the night mail between Minneapolis and Chicago, Freeburg discovered a railroad bridge on fire and having passed a passenger train only a few miles back turned his plane and went back.

By circling low over the engine and signalling with his landing lights, Freeburg caused the engineer to stop the train.

Among the passengers on the train that night was Bobby Jones, who just a few hours before had won the national open golf championship.

'Ancient Turk Ending Two-Year Globe Trek

ISTANBUL, Turkey, April 29.—(AP.)—Zaro Agha, the wandering Kurd who claims 155 years, is coming home at last. His wife, Koudret Hanim, a sprightly octogenarian, has been waiting for two years while the old man saw the sights in America and England.

Koudret Hanim lost hope of his return when a recent report had Zaro killed in an automobile accident, London traffic having outdone that of New York. But she has just received a letter from London saying that Zaro had no accident, only a severe stomach ache, is now well, and about to sail for Istanbul.

W. & J. Birthplace Offered Presbytery

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 29.—Providing certain conditions to insure its preservation as a historical center are made, the original home of Dr. John McMillan, pioneer educator and minister, founder of Jefferson Academy, forerunner of Washington and Jefferson College, will become the property of the Presbytery of Pittsburgh.

It is located near Canonsburg and consists of a practically demolished building and two acres of ground. A memorial to Dr. McMillan has been erected in the vicinity—the famous Hill Church.

Daughter Confesses Shooting Father

BROWNWOOD, Tex., April 29.—(AP.)—Eva Nell Meichinger, 17, confessed yesterday she shot and killed her father, Joe Meichinger, 48, at the family home near here.

The girl said her father had refused her permission to attend a program at a school and her mother sided with her. There was an argument. When Meichinger began abusing his wife, the daughter said she shot him. The widow and daughter are in jail charged with murder.

'Joke' Orchid Auto Of Indian Sets N. Y. Fashion

MUSKOGEE, Okla., April 29.—(AP.)—A suave salesman at the Kansas City motor show smiled when Lucinda Pitman, restricted Creek Indian, of Buffalo, Kan., showed him samples of orchid and wisteria-tinted cloth and ordered a $5,000 automobile painted that way.

But when the factory turned out the car, the color combination proved most fetching. Now the company is turning out other models like it for delivery to showrooms in Atlantic City and New York.

Field clerks from the Five Civilized Tribes agency here supervised delivery of Lucinda's car. Among other things, it has 12 cylinders, a radio and two extra horns.

DENIES SLAIN SON DRANK

Mrs. Rose Gallowich, of 3 Matson street, mother of 10 children, four of whom were World War veterans, today denied that her son, William, 36, a veteran, stabbed to death in a fight at 1535 Brighton road, according to police, early April 16, had been drinking. She exhibited a letter from the firm by whom he was employed stating that at 5 p. m., April 15, when he received his pay, he showed no evidence of drinking. Louis Friedel, 31, boarder at the Brighton road address, is in jail pending a coroner's inquest.

MD. BLUE LAW VOTE WAR NEAR

BALTIMORE, April 29.—(AP.)—Maryland's 200-year-old blue laws have stolen the thunder of the state's two candidates for the presidency in next Monday's primary.

Despite the fact that Gov. Albert C. Ritchie is an aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination, and former Senator Joseph I. France will fight it out with President Hoover for the state's delegates in the primary, the closed-Sunday statutes hold the center of interest.

The people of Baltimore were granted the right to vote on the Sabbath question by the last session of the Legislature after a 20-year fight. The Lord's Day Alliance and other religious organizations sought to keep the question off the ballot, but lost their battle in the Court of Appeals.

The first legislative attempt to repeal the ancient laws, which were born with Maryland 200 years ago and even prohibited a man from kissing his wife on Sunday, was made in 1905, and has been a recurrent question at practically every session of the General Assembly since.

Brownsville Civil War Veteran Dies

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., April 29.—Israel C. Barclay, Sr., 91, one of Greene County's few remaining Civil War veterans, is dead at his home in Carmichaels. He served with the 154th Pennsylvania Infantry until July 16, 1863, when he wed Miss Orpha Titus, while on furlough.

BRIDE SHARES HOLDUP BLAME

NEW YORK, April 29.—(AP.)—A young farm boy from Wisconsin and the dance-hall girl he married three weeks ago, just before both lost their jobs, were held in $25,000 bail each today charged with eight holdups.

The prisoners are Ward Summerfield, 24, whose father, Amos, is a farmer at Rio, near Milwaukee, Wis., and his bride, who was Elvira Davis, of New York.

When a detective told the court that the couple had committted nine chain grocery store holdups, Summerfield interrupted to say:

"He's mistaken, your honor. It was eight holdups and my wife had no connection with them."

The bride said:

"No, I'm equally to blame. I helped him with six of the robberies as soon as I knew how he was gettting the money for our room and meals. I wasn't going to let him run that risk all alone. He would go in and I'd come and bolt the door behind him. I'm just as much to blame as he is"

21 Jailed for Fines, Freed in W. Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 29.—(AP.)—Twenty-one prisoners were released from the Kanawha County Jail yesterday under a ruling by the State Supreme Court that persons held for failure to pay fines imposed by justices of the peace cannot be held for more than 10 days unless provided work on county roads or in preparation of road materials.

Former Sweetheart Left $35,000 Estate

OAKLAND, Cal., April 29.—(AP.)—The $35,000 estate of Robert J. Bell, Alaska sourdough, was left to his childhood sweetheart in New England, in a will filed for probate here. She is Mrs. Mary Jane McNeil, of Middleboro, Mass.

Bell died April 9 at the age of 73. He returned to his old New England home two years ago for the first time in many years and, on his return to Oakland, changed his will to make Mrs. McNeil the beneficiary.

Russ 'Taxi' Brigands To Lose 'Racket'

MOSCOW, April 29.—(AP.)—Dronsky drivers, those picturesque patriarchal brigands of a vanishing generation who have lorded it over a small world of their own as the last stand of extensive private enterprise in Soviet Russia, soon are to lose their independence.

The Moscow Transport Union has decreed that the 1,400 drivers in the capital must be formed into organizations communal in type. Each will profit equally in the joint earnings and each must bear an equal share of the operating expenses.

BRAME FACES REDS TODAY

SPORT COMMENT

By James J. Long

Importance of Hurling. Charity Polo Game.
Big Relays Barometer. Await Harvard Action.
Andrews Yankee Hope. Walker Looks Winner.

BOTH BUCS AND REDS NEED PITCHERS

IF THE FANS had not been aware of the fact in advance, the first local appearance of the reconstructed Reds would have convinced them very speedily that with Babe Herman, Chick Hafey, George Grantham and Taylor Douthit playing regularly, and Estel Crabtree, Harry Heilmann, Ernesto Lombardi and others in the background, the Cincinnati club now packs one of the most formidable offensives in the major leagues. But there's a drawback in the pitching department.

Babe Herman

The powerful attack can't get the Reds very far in the long run without consistently good hurling to back it up, and at present the club appears to have only two slab dependables, Red Lucas and Silas Johnson. The Howleys are in much the same fix as the Pirates, with a team that would deliver if it were not woefully lacking in pitchers capable of going nine innings effectively. Yesterday's defeat added further evidence that the Bucs are not going to make much progress until Remy Kremer is able to work regularly and an additional first-string hurler is obtained in exchange for Heinie Meine or in some other sort of deal.

ALWAYS ONE OF the high spots of the track year, the Penn relays, getting under way with more than 3,000 entries at Philadelphia today in their thirty-eighth annual edition, are of even greater interest than usual on account of the first outdoor line they will give on American prospects for the Olympic Games.

The same goes for the Drake relays, sharing the stage with the Penn carnival over the week-end. Performances in the two big meets should give some idea as to the form and possibilities of a number of the athletes who will later be included among Uncle Sam's standard bearers in competition for world honors.

JOE McCARTHY believes, and many other baseball men share the opinion, that one more top-flight pitcher is all that the Yankees require to make them practically sure bets for the pennant.

Unable to make a deal for the kind of hurler he needs, Joe has concluded that he will have to develop his own pitcher, as he did in 1931 with Vernon Gomez, and he is hopeful that he has the right man for the role in Ivy Andrews.

McCARTHY BELIEVES THAT Andrews has the makings, with a fine curve and a swell fast ball. Walter Johnson is one who concurs in McCarthy's estimate of the recruit. "A few years ago, when my old roommate, Clyde Milan, was manager in Birmingham, he tipped me off to Andrews," Johnson relates. "The kid had a great fast ball. I got a good look at him and wanted to put a string on him for future reference, but the Yanks had the inside track. Our club was made to respect what Andrews had to offer late last season. He ought to be a great help to McCarthy."

Bill Regan

PITTSBURGHERS CONTINUE TO shine for the Baltimore club of the International League. The latest to break into the limelight while wearing an Oriole uniform was Bill Regan, Oakland resident and former Pirate and Red Sox second baseman.

Sent to third base when Frank Packard, another Pittsburgher, had to be shifted to left field to replace the injured Ralph Boyle, Regan distinguished himself in the first game of a double-header against Toronto by making three home runs. All went over the left-field wall. Bill also contributed a fielding feature with a jumping one-hand catch of Pete Stack's line smash when Toronto had two men on the bases.

THE TEMPORARY SHIFT from third base to left field did not affect the brilliant spring work of Packard. Frank delivered the blow that won the second game of the same double-header for the Birds by clouting out a home run with the bases full.

A third product of this section, Frank (Dundee) Rodgers, Stowe-Rocks outfielder, has been released under option by Baltimore to Richmond, Va., in the Eastern League, in response to a plea for assistance made by President Eddie Mooers of Richmond, a former Oriole.

BY SCORING A technical knockout over Paul Swiderski in seven rounds the other night, Max Baer added to the evidence that he is a much improved fighter. In four straight bouts before defeating Swiderski, he won decisions over Johnny Risko, Arthur DeKuh and Tom Heeney and knocked out Jose Santa. There is a growing demand for Baer's services, in consequence. He is wanted to meet Ernie Schaaf in Chicago on May 19, and has an offer to be Jack Dempsey's opponent in Reno on the Fourth of July. In connection with the Chicago proposal, Baer says he would prefer to meet the winner of tonight's Walker-Levinsky fight, the survivor to go against Schaaf.

POLO CARRIES ENOUGH thrills in itself to be worthy of any sport lover's support, and the big benefit game to be put on at the Hunt Armory, 324 Emerson street, East End, by the Pittsburgh Polo League tomorrow night is all the more deserving of liberal patronage because the entire receipts will go to the Family-Help-Family Fund.

The Vangs, a strong team, with ponies reputed to be the finest in these parts, will take the field against a lineup of all-stars selected from the three other teams in the league. Among the players chosen are Bliss Flaccus, Elliott Perritt, Meredith Watson and Dave McCahill, each a star in his own right. Admission is $1, every dime taken in will be turned over to Senator Frank J. Harris' committee, and with a great game in prospect, in addition to the worthy cause to be served, the card ought to draw a crowd that will pack the armory.

WITH THE YALE game in New Haven secure for the next basketball season, Duquesne University followers are anxiously awaiting Harvard's action on the request sent to Cambridge for a date with the Crimson, hoping for a favorable reply that will give the Dukes a second engagement in the elite circle of the Big Three.

Harvard is coached by a former professional player of this section. He is Ed Warner, who played for a time on the old McKeesport team in the Central League, along with Bears O'Donnell, Getzinger, Henschel and Borio.

Mickey Walker

WHETHER THE SUCCESS of King Levinsky in defeating Tommy Loughran, and then making Jack Dempsey look worse than in any other bout on his exhibition tour, meant anything more than that the Kingfish mersels drew a couple of fellows who were ready to be pushed over, will be determined tonight, when Levinsky meets Mickey Walker for 10 rounds in Chicago. It will be a decisive test of the Windy City swinger as a prospect for higher honors in the heavyweight class. If he can defeat Walker, who is little more than a middleweight, but still a great fighter, it will spell an improvement entitling him to a ranking right up behind the class leaders. If he is beaten, there won't be much chance of his ever getting any higher. From this distance Walker looks like the probable winner. He appears likely to beat his larger opponent by fighting him in close where the Kingfish's wild swings can't connect, just as Ace Hudkins fought Levinsky successfully last July. Featherweight championship semi-finals also are on the card for tonight in Detroit, with Fidel La Barba meeting Johnny Pena, and Tommy Paul paired with Frankie Wallace. La Barba and Paul shape up as the probable survivors for the final.

MUNGER GIVES FLORIDA STAR CLOSE FIGHT

FRANKLIN FIELD, PHILADELPHIA, April 29 (AP).—Joseph C. Hall, University of Florida all-round star, took the lead today over the three rivals in the first five events of the decathlon opening feature of the Penn relay carnival.

Hall amassed 3785.1765 points. George Munger, of Pennsylvania, in second place, had 3734.6905 points.

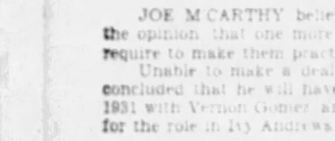
C. H. Saxe, of Colgate University, was third at the half-way stage of the all-day grind, with a total of 3337.524 points. Henry Pohl, of the University of Delaware, was fourth with 3014.9135 points. Only four athletes, half the original entry, started the decathlon with only a few hundred spectators looking on.

WAGE HARD DUEL

The event developed quickly into a two-man duel between Hall and Munger with only 50 points separating them when they took time out for lunch.

Hall and Munger each won two events outright. The husky Florida entry captured the shot-put and high jump with good performances. Munger took the broad jump and 400-meter run, besides tying with Saxe for the best time in the 100-meter dash.

Hall's toss of 44 feet 11¾ inches in the shotput was the nearest of any performance to the carnival decathlon record. The decathlon summary:



100-meter dash: Munger and Saxe, 11.6 seconds; Hall, 11.7 seconds; Pohl, 11.8 seconds; Oehler, 12 seconds.

Broad jump: Munger, 21 feet 8 inches; Saxe, 21 feet 3 inches; Hall, 21 feet 1 inch; Pohl, 20 feet 9 inches; Oehler, 19 feet 9½ inches.

DRAKE CARNIVAL OPENS

DES MOINES, Ia., April 29.—(AP.)—Olympic prospects from 14 states crowded into the Drake University Stadium today to open the twenty-third annual Drake relays.

Stars of the collegiate track and many who were climbing to stardom though they have barely begun their college careers, were among the bidders for recognition as Olympic timber.

The college athletes on hand numbered 1,000 and these were supplemented by 1,000 additional high school boys from Iowa and surrounding states.

Old Dominion Play Gains Semi-Finals

HOT SPRINGS, Va., April 29.—(AP.)—Billy Howell of Richmond; Bob Stranahan, of Toledo, O.; Duncan McDavid, of Pensacola, Fla., and Winfred Donham, of Omaha, will play the semi-finals round of the Old Dominion golf championship.

These four were winners in the quarter finals yesterday. Howell, a student at Washington and Lee University, defeated Cy Twombley, athletic director at the same institution, 4 and 3. Stranahan, the medalist, won 4 and 2, from Tom Somerville, of the Farmington Country Club. McDavid defeated Fay Ingalls, of the Cascades Club, 3 and 2, and Donham eliminated Kenneth Loftus, of Chevy Chase, Md., in a match decided on the nineteenth hole.

EXPLANATION OF RIPLEY'S CARTOON OF YESTERDAY: THE 18 HOLES-IN-ONE-SHOT—Dr. Samartini's freak shot was his first attempt to play golf. His ball was teed on No. 1 when he took a few practice swings. One of these trial clouts struck the ball and it shot off 75 yards to the right and plump into the cup of No. 18, to go down into golf history as the "18 holes-in-one-shot."

U. S. NET ACES TOP CANUCKS

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP.)—A chance to clinch the Davis Cup tennis series with Canada without further ado spurred on the crack American doubles combination of Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn today as they met the Dominion's best.

One victory was all that was needed to make the necessary three wins out of five, for Allison and the national singles champion, Ellsworth Vines, swept the two opening matches yesterday. Two more singles are set for tomorrow with only the doubles being scheduled today.

Allison and Van Ryn hold the national doubles championship and are recognized as one of the world's outstanding combinations.

Vines, although heavily favored was given a terrific battle by Dr. Jack Wright, the Canadian champion, yesterday, before he managed to win by scores of 8-6, 3-6, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

Allison has an easier time. With his strokes working perfectly, the Texan trounced the French-Canadian, Marcel Rainville, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

WOMEN SWIM CHAMPS COP

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—(AP.)—Two of the nation's leading Olympic hopes, Miss Helene Madison, of Seattle, and Miss Eleanor Holm, of New York, successfully defended their national A. A. U. indoor women's swimming titles yesterday in the opening events of the four-day races.

Miss Holm, representing the New York Women's Swimming Association, won the 300-yard medley test with ease, finishing 10 yards ahead of her closest rival in 4 minutes 27 2-10 seconds.

The Seattle mermaid, applicant for 16 world's records, had a close call in the 100-yard free-style race, defeating Miss Josephine McKim, of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, by less than a foot in 1 minute 2 4-10 seconds.

At the end of the first two events, team honors were in a three-way tie. The New York Women's Swimming Association, defending its title; Washington Athletic Club, and the Los Angeles Athletic Club each had six points.

LANDIS RULES ON CHAGNON

William E. Benswanger, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, today denied the report from San Francisco that the local club had violated the option rule in the case of Pitcher Leon Chagnon, who has been ordered recalled by Commissioner of Baseball Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

Landis threatened to declare Chagnon a free agent unless the Pirates complied with the ruling.

Benswanger said the Pirates planned to recall the promising hurler prior to Landis' ruling. Chagnon left the coast for Pittsburgh early yesterday.

League rules permit a club to farm out a player only three times. The Pirates sold Chagnon outright to the Fort Worth Club, which Landis ruled as an act of farming inasmuch as he was purchased from this club.

SCHOOL ELEVENS CLASH

NEW CASTLE, Pa., April 29.—New Castle and Butler high school football teams will stage a spring battle here tonight.

VAUGHAN STARS AS CORSAIRS BOW, 7-6

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

Their pitching staff cracked wide open, the skidding Pirates realized today they were facing a little crisis which is apt to become acute unless the sharpshooters do a right - about - face in the near future. Things have come to such a pass that Manager Gibson cannot call upon a single pitcher who can supply even fair assurance that he will finish a ball game.

Floyd Vaughan

Errors and bad pitching cost the Bucco another game as they returned to Forbes Field yesterday. Larry French had a fair amount of stuff to show George Grantham and the other Cincinnati hitters, but his high-strung actions brought a couple of misplays, which proved to be the "breaks" on which Dan Howley's club rode to victory, 7-6.

Gibson would like to call upon Remy Kremer for slab duty, but the big Frenchman is not quite ready, and the pilot figures that no good cause will be served by forcing him. Kremer is slowly approaching form after a long seige of sickness.

BRAME TO PITCH

The Pittsburgh skipper stated this morning he would assign Ervin Brame to the slab this afternoon in the second clash of the series with the Reds. Brame had a rough time on his last voyage, but his past performances indicate that he should be a much better pitcher than his form of last year and this spring indicate. Eppa Rixey is slated to twirl for the invaders.

The only happy sidelight concerning yesterda's 7-to-6 setback sustained by the Pirates developed around Floyd Vaughan, the hard-hitting Wichita shortstop who started his first full contest as a Pirate. Vaughan replaced the slumping Tommy Thevenow and his premiere was highly successful, especially at the plate. Floyd rapped out two pretty triples that were high spots in the Pittsburgh scoring. He accepted seven chances without faltering, a double play as part of his efforts.

The Freebooters just missed a deadlock at the finish of the ther dull fight. A double by P. Waner with one out held the fans in the exits, two runs being needed to tie. Shortstop Durocher made a whirlwind play on Tony Piet's slow roller to keep the tying run off the sacks, but Traynor put it on and scored Brother Paul with a single.

Socker Suhr looked like bad news to the Reds and the Pirate supporters seemed to think the firstsacker would put the Buccos in the game. Suhr let drive with a snappy grounder toward right that looked like a clean hit, but Grantham won the jump on the ball and by working cleverly and swiftly, flung out Gus for the final play of the game.

HERMAN HITS HOMER

Babe Herman and Chick Hafey, baseball's latest Golddust twins, cleaned up beautifully for the Reds—that is, the spectacle was beautiful for Dan Howley to behold. The two clouters spent a

CRAWFORDS DEDICATE NEW STADIUM TODAY

NEW YORK CLUB TO PROVIDE OPPOSITION

By TOM BIRKS

The new Greenlee Stadium will be dedicated officially this evening with the New York Black Yankees providing the opposition for the home boys, the Pittsburgh Crawfords. Owner Gus Greenlee has arranged for a big parade, with all of the trimmings, and a turnout of notables from the city and county to help lift the lid.

The Crawfords opened last evening at home with the Vandergrift club and a large crowd was on hand to see the game and take a peek at the new stadium. The Crawfords won the ball game, 11-0.

The Homestead Grays defeated the Clayburn Collegians, 8-2, at Edgar Thompson Field, Braddock. Jamieson held the Clayburns to five scattered hits.

This evening Oscar Charleston and his mates will find tough opposition in the Yankees. The New Yorkers worked out at Ammon Field yesterday and looked impressive. Satchel Paige may have to pitch shutout baseball if the locals are to get away on the right foot.

DUAL BILL TOMORROW

A doubleheader will be staged tomorrow afternoon, and on Sunday the teams will continue the series in New York.

A fine crowd watched the North Siders and the Civics battle at the Salt Works last evening. Manager Mart Kenny and Ray Riddle had little chance to test available talent, as the Civics were battling hard.

Ammon, a young pitcher from the Troy Hill district, who had a tryout with the York team, of the New York-Pennsylvania League, appeared to have plenty of stuff. The North Siders won, 8-7.

Young Jack Barrett, playing third base, impressed the fans by crashing the ball out of the lot, and Eddie Baker seemed to be in midseason form with the stick.

LIFERS CARD DRILL

Manager Cy Rheam, of the Reliance Life team of the City League, has called a special practice session for this evening at Bellevue at 6:30. All players are requested to be on hand.

Manager Hank Daly announces that his team is practically completed, and the East Enders will get a real workout by meeting the St. Vincent College nine at Latrobe tomorrow afternoon.

The City League moguls got exactly nowhere last night as they met for the purpose of electing a new president and deciding the umpire question. The managers held in abeyance the matter of selecting a man to take the place of Harry Yerx, recently resigned, and decided to put the matter of lining up the umpires in the hands of a mediator.

Everett Sweeney, league secretary, presented a playing schedule, which was ratified. The first week's program follows:

May 5—Reliance at Royal, Homewood at J. L. Thomas, North Siders at Ferris Club.

May 10—Dormont at Gerard, Royal at Homewood, J. L. Thomas at Reliance.

May 11—Homewood at Ferris Club, North Siders at Dormont.

May 12—J. L. Thomas at North Siders, Gerard at Royal, Dormont at Reliance.

May 13—Ferris Club at Gerard.

BRAME BUCCO HOPE TODAY

large part of the afternoon chasing balls all over the Oakland Orchard, and if P. Waner had attempted to run down Babe's sixth inning effort he would have been all messed up in the structural iron of the rightfield upper deck, for it was high in this section that Babe deposited his home run. And that homer stands out as the winning counter. Previous to the round-tripper, Herman had scored two runs on a single. Hafey was content with a double and two smashing singles.

A hit batsman and a wild shot to center by French were a big aid to the Reds in scoring two runs in the second inning. Larry was trying to nail a runner off second when he uncorked his wide fling. The Pirates scored once in their half, Vaughan's first triple, a liner to right center, scoring Comorosky with two out.

The Waner art clinked in a big way in the third and Gus Suhr's double put the Pirates out in front with a one-run lead. Lloyd and Paul singled and tripled in the inning.

HEILMANN COMES THROUGH

Harry Heilmann's fluke hit on the grass as Harry batted for Ray Kolp and French's fumble of a tap from Grantham's bat paved the way for four Cincinnati tallies in the fourth. French was unfortunate on the Heilmann tap, but he brought on most of his trouble by his loose play. Spencer relieved him in the inning. Herman's homer gave the Reds their seventh run in the sixth.

Wyson and Ogden held the Pirates in check for four rounds. Vaughan's second triple, another drive to right center, came with two Pirates on and one out in the eighth, and the Pirates were back in the game on the strength of the two runs. Ogden, however, carried on to the victory.

Mountaineers Lose To Marines, 6-5

QUANTICO, Va., April 29.—Playing loosely in the field, the West Virginia University team bowed to the Quantico Marines by the score of 6 to 5 here yesterday.

Erb pitched a good game for the Mountaineers, but the Marines came through in the pinches to triumph.

Many an installment on the furniture has fallen due since Duquesne University found itself in the tennis predicament that confronts the Bluffites at this moment. The Dukes haven't always had championship racquet combinations, but neither, in recent years, have they struggled through two intercollegiate tests without scoring a single point.

That is the exact spot the Dukes are on today as they square off in their third match of the season against the ever formidable Geneva College Covenanters. Last week, inaugurating their campaign, the Dukes were blanked by Pitt. On Wednesday, of this week, they were served another shutout by Carnegie Tech. And the tough part of it is that their chances against Geneva are none too bright.

The match will get under way at 2 o'clock this afternoon on the Bluff rectangles.

TECH MEETS CINCY

With squads from Pitt, Geneva and West Virginia representing this secter at the annual Penn relay carnival in Philadelphia, it remains for Carnegie Tech's so far unbeaten varsity track and field squad to tote the honor of the tristate area westward. The Tartan squad leaves tonight for Cincinnati, to engage the University of Cincinnati in a dual meet tomorrow. Coach Guy Halferty will chaperon a flock of 23 athletes.

A year ago, out in the Tartan Bowl, the Cincinnati entry bowed by a 69⅓ to 65⅔ score.

Pitt's varsity netters, conceded to be the class of the district and one of the strongest combines in the East, meet Bethany today and Wash-Jeff tomorrow. Tech sends its net squad to Grove City tomorrow for a fracas with Bob Thorn's drivers.

The Tipoff

J. O. Benson, former Thiel College football and basketball coach, has been selected, but has not yet signed a three-year contract as head coach at Fairmont, W. Va., High school, succeeding Earl Dean, former Bethany College star.

Dave, a smart and heady mentor, resigned his success at Bethany and Washington before going to Fairmont. He starred in football, basketball, track and baseball, winning the letter in all three sports. He'll have his difficulties in getting ahead up for a new job.

N. PARK LINKS OPENED FOR PLAY TODAY

By VERN SWARTSFAGER

The long-awaited opening of the North Park Allegheny County golf course took place this morning, under fair skies and colorful ceremonies. Director of County Parks Paul B. Riis officially lifted the lid at 10 o'clock.

In the absence of the County Commissioners, the honor of striking the first ball went to Josephine McGovern, daughter of Commissioner C. C. McGovern, who played a flock of golf on the South Park layout last year. Her friend, Teressa Billante, also struck one of the little white pellets. Director Riis and Professional Jimmy MacFarland swatted long ones down the middle, and then newspapermen and enthusiastic players swarmed the links for first-hand, first-day inspection.

The opening this morning of the North Park links gives public links golfers three courses in play, Schenley Park, the municipal layout and South Park, another county course, having been formally thrown open previously.

The wintry blasts that marked the lifting of the lid at South Park Wednesday were absent and a good crowd was on hand to celebrate the event, many prepared to play their first golf in months.

South Hills will celebrate its first big event tomorrow when a Green and White team match is staged. Professional Walter Loeffler expects each side to be well loaded with members.

A regular handicap event is to be combined with a blind bogey at Wildwood tomorrow.

Tee to Green

Miss E. Lucille Bejach, former city golf champion, is in the city for a short visit. She plans on returning to her home in California soon.

Herman Koch always starts the season off by winning the inaugural of the Hotel, Club and Restaurant Men's Golf Association. At Stanton Heights, the other day, he kept his record intact. Ross Gammon was host at a dinner party following the golf.

Friends of Bill Muir will be glad to learn that he is clubmaker for Jimmy O'Donnell, pro at the new Churchill Valley Golf Club, which opens tomorrow. W. W. Martin, of the Oakmont Country Club is the man behind the guns at the new club, ably assisted by George A. Ormiston, W. P. G. A. secretary, who is one of the club's directors. A crowd is expected to turn out for tomorrow's dedicating ceremonies.

Ray Warner, of Valley Heights, says the members there are well-pleased with the efforts of Ted Luther, erstwhile Carry lassie, who is giving the professional's job undivided attention at the Oakmont links these days. Ted will make good where others failed.

Favorite Eliminated In Handball Play

NEW YORK, April 29.—(AP.)—John Dunwoody, of the Pastime A. C., New York, accomplished the biggest upset in the National A. A. U. four-wall handball championships last night when he defeated George Nelson, of Baltimore, 12-21, 21-16, 21-17, in the quarter-final round.

After winning the first game, Nelson, a former champion and runner-up for the past two years, found Dunwoody's pace too fast for him.

Sam Atcheson, of Memphis, Tenn., National Y. M. C. A. champion, entered the semi-finals by defeating John Walsh, of Tampa, Fla., 21-10, 21-9.

In other quarter-final singles matches, Angelo Trulio, of New York, defeated Edward Fawcett, of New York, 21-7, 21-6, and Al Hobelman, of Baltimore, who played under the handicap of an injured leg, defeated Joseph Bathe, of Detroit, 21-7, 21-11.

Westminster Track Letter Rule Changed

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 29.—Depression has hit college track now. At least, the slump in dual meets has caused the Westminster College athletic council to revise its system of rules for winning track awards.

A new ruling, passed last fall, stated that a man must score a total of 12 points during a season in order to win a varsity track letter. Under the revised ruling, a man must average three points per meet during the season in order to win a letter.

Nick Altrock
Baseball's Humorist
Says:

Nick Altrock

Those guys are out from a week to a month and it looks like playing ball is at last more hazardous than running beer or blowing safes. Hereafter Uncle Nick takes out double indemnity every time he goes down to the coacher's box.

Say, don't the Boston Braves and Detroit Tigers pay any attention to straw ballots? Here the experts pick nice lower berths for them in the second division and then they climb up on the roof. The Braves and Tigers are not only defying the law of gravity, but they're making the experts look like the inside of a sandwich—either ham or cheese.

The OLYMPIC GAMES

By Lawson Robertson

—Head Coach American Olympic Teams—

CHAPTER XV.

Achilles Jarvinen and Paavo Yrjola, of Finland, are expected to fight it out with Barney Berlinger, of the U. S. A., for the 1932 Olympic decathlon championship.

Those who may surprise by defeating this great quintet include Siewert, of Germany; Strand, of Norway; Dahlgren, of Sweden, and Bacsalmasi, the Hungarian star. Each has shown ability through the last year and improvement may be expected. But it must be remarkable improvement to top the feats of the Finnish and American stars.

Some hold to the conclusion that to win this event is a greater achievement than gaining triumph in the marathon classic. The latter calls only for speed and durability over the 26 miles 385 yards. But to win the decathlon a man must be an all-around athlete.

TEN-EVENT TEST

The decathlon consists of 10 different events. Points are scored for a contestant's performance in each. The points are totaled at the conclusion and the one scoring highest is given the crown.

The events include the pole vault, high jump, broad jump, 110-meter hurdle, 100-meter run, 400-meter run, 1,500-meter run, shot put, discus throw and javelin toss.

It will be seen from this that a man must be a superb athlete to gain the honors. Many men can sprint and many are gifted in weight events because of their size and strength. But it is only the exceptionally rare human who can run swiftly, jump high and far, vault loftily and also be able to hurl weights and the javelin.

Yrjola won the Olympic title in 1928. His point total was 8,056.20. That was the record until Jesse Mortensen, the American, who is ineligible for the Olympics, fractured it a year or so later. But Jarvinen hung up higher figures two years ago, turning in 8,255.475 in competition in Viipuri, Finland.

GREAT CONTEST SEEN

Berlinger, three times the Intercollegiate champion, is a great all-round performer. He is a rather big fellow, which gives him the strength needed in the weight events. But, at the same time, he is very fast and has turned in some remarkable time for the track events.

With Yrjola and Jarvinen representing Finland and Berlinger the U. S. A., and with great ones contesting from other nations, I am sure the contest will be the most thrilling in all Olympic history, and it would not surprise me if a new world record were made.

BRUINS, ROBINS, YANKS WIN

Associated Press.

Seven of the eight National League clubs double-shuffled their outfields before the start of the current race, and there is reason to believe the Cincinnati Reds picked up the winning hand.

In Babe Herman, Chick Hafey and Taylor Douthit the Reds appear to have the greatest combination in the circuit.

BIG THREE STAR

Howley's Big Three were the big guns yesterday as the Reds trimmed the Pirates, 7 to 6. Herman knocked in three runs with a home run and a single, Hafey smacked a double and two singles and Douthit came up with a pair of singles.

The Brooklyn Dodgers broke a five-game losing streak at the Phillies' expense, 11 to 5.

The celebrated Dizzy Dean made his maiden start for the St. Louis Cardinals and went out after five innings under a hail of hits as the league leading Chicago Cubs won another, 12 to 7.

In the American League, the Washington Senators inflicted more casualties on Connie Mack's pitching staff in scoring a 10 to 4 triumph.

The Yankees fell on Danny MacFayden, ace of the Boston staff, for 10 hits to take the opener with the Red Sox, 5 to 1.

TRIBE TAKES FIFTH

Cleveland ran its winning streak to five straight with an 11 to 2 decision over the luckless Chicago White Sox.

Detroit's prize rookie, Whitlow Wyatt, met his first reverse when the St. Louis Browns jumped him for seven hits and five runs in the first four innings and then held on behind George Blaeholder to win, 5 to 4.

By HARRY KECK,

Sports Editor.

Lew Raymond broadcasting today. Lew is a new arrival in town from New York, all set to settle down and make matches for Apples Meyers' Meyers Bowl in North Braddock this summer.

Lew Raymond

Lew is a smart man in a boxing way. He's been in the game for more than 30 years and has made matches for the big clubs in New York, Brooklyn and environs and also has promoted in St. Louis, Denver and Salt Lake City. For eight years he was a partner of Paddy Mullins, when the latter had Harry Wills, then "hot" as a challenger of Jack Dempsey.

It was Raymond who induced Sammy Goldman, manager of Tony Canzoneri, the lightweight champion, to sign on the dotted line for a match with Battling Gizzy as the opening feature at the Bowl on May 23, and he says he has connections that will bring other big matches here. He will have an office downtown at 525 Fifth avenue, where he will meet the managers and transact business. This also will be the city ticket headquarters for the Bowl this year.

HAS SOUND IDEAS

Raymond has some sound matchmaking ideas, and, if he sticks to them, he ought to make good here in a big way. He believes in developing local attractions and making the most of them by giving them opportunities to box good men from other cities. He also believes in paying strict attention to the styles of boxers in pairing them off to prevent bad matches. And he says he will apply the old acid test to every card before he announces it, and that this will be to ask himself if he, as a cash customer, would feel satisfied to pay the prices asked for the show. If he can honestly say "yes," he will consider it a good show, and, if he can't, he won't bother to run on that date. That's the policy he's outlined for himself, and he can't fail to succeed if he adheres to it.

Raymond is busy already on the preliminary card for his opening show.

Between Rounds

Now that he has upset the dope buckets by beating Jimmy Belmont, Dizzy Dove, North side welterweight, who is only 20 years old, wants to fight Ted Yarosz. He'd like to land Ted for the opening show at Kinsey Park, Midvale, next month.

Every says Mickey Walker will beat King Levinsky in their bout in Chicago tonight, but you never can tell about the kingfish. He can look terribly bad at times, but then, how dare he beat some of the fellows he does beat and make the showings he does against the topnotchers?

Angie Peterson has been matched to meet Nick Kwiatkoski in one of the preliminaries of the Frank Bowers-Dizzy Dismukes wrestling show at Motor Square Garden next Wednesday night. This completing the program.

Tiger Joe West and Mickey Dugan, of Cleveland, were matched today to complete the card of six bouts of six rounds each at the Saturday Night Entertainment Club next Saturday night. Matchmaker Bill Dommer also has wired Mickey Cohen, of New York, that the reports him to go through with his postponed bout with Battling Glass at the Arena Saturday night of next week.

Birek and Moore Win Amateur Bouts

The Pittsburgh Lyceum staged a testimonial amateur boxing show last night for its amateur ring stars. Eight bouts were staged and real action was witnessed in all the bouts.

Johnny Birek, of the Lyceum, and George Julius, of the Willow Club, staged a torrid battle, with Birek being declared the winner.

Eddie Moore, of Duquesne University, Eastern Intercollegiate Conference welterweight champion, and Jack Randa, of the Willow Club, also put on a great battle. Moore copped the verdict. The summary:

118-pound class—Eddie Kaliajh, Willow Club, defeated M. Verga, Lyceum, 3 rounds.

126-pound class—Walter Schramm, Lyceum, defeated Sidney Smith, Pastorius A. C., 3 rounds. Joe Mazur, Lyceum, defeated Johnny Ungermann, Willow Club, 3 rounds.

147-pound class—Freddie Moore, Duquesne University, defeated Jack Randa, Willow Club, 3 rounds.

160-pound class—Billy Nicky, Lyceum, defeated Eric Bredt, Willow Club, 3 rounds.

Fight Results

At Grand Rapids, Mich., Martin Levandowski defeated Buddy McArthur, 10 rounds.

At Spokane, Ace Conning knocked out Mike Spalding, 4 rounds.

At Sacramento—Joey Goodman defeated Alphonso Gonzales, 10 rounds.

At Coffeyville, Kan.—Kid Adams and Steve Ballda drew, 10 rounds.

At Wilmington, Del.—Tommy Ring and Sylvan Bass drew, 8 rounds. Bob Turner defeated Mickey Bias, 6 rounds.

At Pittsfield, Mass.—Frankie Martin defeated Billy Champney, 8 rounds.

Penn State Nine Loses to Yale, 11-1

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 29.—(AP.)—Yale overwhelmed Penn State's baseball team with a barrage of hits yesterday to win, 11 to 1, behind the effective pitching of George Parker.

A double by Zwacki, right fielder, followed by Kaschak's triple, gave the visitors their only run. Parker allowed only two other hits, while the Elis collected 14.

Dud Parker started Yale's assault with a homer in the fouth with one man on. He also collected a double and a single in four trips to the plate.

LOCAL ALL-STARS PLAY SLAVIAS

With the calling off of all soccer cup ties by the local governing body, interest naturally will turn to South Park Sunday afternoon when a combined team of Curry and Morgan players meet the Cleveland Slavias.

It appears that the governing body is having all kinds of trouble getting the teams on the field, and instead of Heidelberg playing its cup tie it will meet Moon Run in the deciding game of the Panhandle League at Heidelberg.

There is every reason to feel that a large crowd of Pittsburgh fans will make the trip to Cleveland to see the final of the National Amateur cup. This game will feature the Santa Christa eleven of New Bedford, Mass., and the Cleveland Shamrocks. Pat O'Conner, of the local referees' boody, has been assigned to referee the game.

STABILITY HELD GREAT NEED OF NATION

Better Control of Credit Seen as Necessary to Economic Equilibrium

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
Universal Service

NEW YORK, April 29.

The country is now at the inquest stage of the depression, and the Stock Exchange inquiry of the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency is one symptom of the widespread public desire to find out how we got into our present plight.

As instances of individual skullduggery come to hand, it is important not to lose sight of the major upsetting effect on all investments and speculation of the instability of general industry, commerce and trade. Unfortunately, we are still living in a speculative economic society which favors the in and out nimble trader at the expense of the solid saver. That is regrettable and has broad social implications. The incidence of the social cost of such instability is particularly unfair, since it falls most heavily on the shoulders of those least able to bear it, namely the unemployed.

Mr. Rukeyser

The economic goal should be toward greater economic stability, which, incidentally, entails better social control of credit.

"INSECURITIES"

As long as business continues to be either a feast or a famine, securities must remain more or less "insecurities." No more stock exchange reform can change that basic fact.

However, insecurity was unquestionably heightened unnecessarily by financial malpractices including unscrupulous pool manipulation, indiscriminate pegging operations, over-capitalization of companies, excessive borrowing against securities and the bunco game of hiding earnings and assets on the one hand or padding them on the other.

Pool manipulation constitutes an under cover method of security distribution. It is inevitably less socially desirable than open and above board merchandising of stocks and bonds through direct representations by responsible vendors.

CHANGES NEEDED

As long as the directors of corporations continue to issue reports of earnings and balance sheets in inadequate form, they will be playing into the hands of manipulators.

As for overcapitalization, there may be a public demand for a resurrection of something analogous to the Capital Issues Committee, which during the war passed on new issues. The blue sky commissions are too much concerned with out and out frauds, and too little with the practices of legitimate bankers.

As for excessive borrowing against securities, that of course raises a question of judgment. The authoritative Federal Reserve Board repeatedly warned before the panic that the drift of credit into security loans was excessive. It cannot be met by an inflexible rule, but entails a question of discretionary managerial judgment.

GRAINS SUFFER DOWNTURNS

CHICAGO, April 29.—Fresh downturns in grain prices early today followed lower quotations on wheat at Liverpool and on securities at New York. Continued rainy weather in domestic winter wheat territory was an additional bearish influence leading to general liquidation, with corn, oats and rye outdoing seasonal low price records. Opening ⅛ to ¾ off, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started unchanged to ¾ down and subsequently declined all around.

In a rush of stop loss selling, wheat prices broke to the lowest figures in a month, and corn and oats to a point unequaled since 1898.

Numerous sharp rallies in wheat prices served only to bring about renewal of selling orders. Bulls made no headway with assertions that world's available supplies of wheat were actually smaller than last year, and that the export surplus in Argentina and Australia was less by 80,000,000 bushels. It was also vainly pointed out that rains over an extended area of domestic drought region had not changed the situation where wheat was winter killed. Corn and oats collapsed with wheat.

The following quotations on the Chicago Board of Trade are reported by A. E. Masten & Co.:

New York Utility Plans Big Offering

NEW YORK, April 29.—(AP.)—The most important piece of public utility financing for some time was scheduled for early announcement with the application of the Consolidated Gas Company of New York to the Public Service Commission today for authority to issue $30,000,000 of 5 per cent 25-year debentures.

Proceeds of this issue are to be applied toward the liquidation of $22,000,000 notes payable, due to the National City Bank, and an advance of $6,200,000 from a subsidiary.

Wabash Meeting Interest Charges

Westinghouse Probably Will Report Loss for First Quarter.

For Westinghouse Electric a loss was probably suffered in the first quarter of this year although the company is pursuing a rigid policy of cost reduction and is hopeful of profitable operations even on so severly a curtailed volume of business as that handled in 1931. A recent utterance of Westinghouse's president, it is interesting to note, was that an upturn of perhaps 10 per cent or 15 per cent would bring the turning point from "red ink to profitable operations, not only for his company but for industry generally. Westinghouse suffered a net loss of $3,655,660 last year which compared with net income of $11,881,705 in the previous 12 months.

Carloadings of Pennsylvania in the week ended April 23 made an encouraging showing since that line serves almost all classes of industry. The betterment in the road's traffic is taken in some quarters as indicating that general business is showing some improvement. It handled 90,665 cars in the week mentioned, as compared with 120,311 in the corresponding week a year ago, a decrease of 24.6 per cent. In the immediately preceding week—that ended April 16—Pennsylvania handled 88,675 cars of revenue freight, against 120,025 a year ago, a decrease of 26.1 per cent.

Lehigh Valley Railroad Company estimates gross revenues for 1932 at $41,591,849, including $848,675 from freight surcharges and a deficit in net income account of $3,492,876, after allowing for the wage deduction and fixed charges of $6,819,663, according to the application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a loan of $1,500,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Dividend income for 1932 is anticipated to total $391,480, as against $391,462 last year. In 1931 Lehigh Valley had gross revenues of $50,024,627 and deficit of $2,261,045 after taxes and charges.

Although loans of $7,600,000 to Chicago and Northwestern Railway from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation were authorized late in February by the Interstate Commerce Commission, to be paid in installments on February 25, March 25 and April 25, the road has required only $6,750,000 of the authorized amount. The cash position showed improvement during March, and the road did not have to borrow from the R. F. C. the $850,000 authorized to be paid on March 25. Chicago and Northwestern has ample cash to meet bond interest and equipment trust obligations due May 1, and these will be paid.

Investment interests are more than a little perplexed by the recurrent weakness in secondary railroad leins and particularly the fact increased selling pressure has been noticeable in some of the more favored of such issues. In such quarters the recent improved tone in railroad shares has consequently failed to arouse any particular enthusiasm. Reason for lack of faith in the ability of rail equities to push ahead substantially at this time rests on the firmly held belief among followers of the bond market that stocks will follow long established precedent and follow rather than lead when the turn comes.

Shares of electrical equipment manufacturers have been holding fairly steady in recent sessions, although operating results of the leaders have been mixed—one continuing to show a profit and the other reporting losses. General Electric, despite the sharp curtailment in its volume, reported net income in the first quarter of 16 cents a share on common stock, or 9 cents less than dividend requirements for the period.

Germany Reduces Tariff on Wheat

BERLIN, April 29.—(AP.)—To cover the country's wheat shortage, the duty of foreign wheat has been reduced from 250 marks to 180 marks a ton until June 20 for 15 flour mills out of the 100 which are permitted to grind imported wheat.

RESERVE BUYS U. S. ISSUES

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP.)—Continued heavy purchases of United States securities by the Federal Reserve System is shown in the weekly report of the Federal Reserve Board showing that on April 27 the system's holdings were $1,191,000,000.

The total was an increase of $113,000,000 over the previous week and $593,000,000 more than a year ago. The banks the week previous had enlarged their total $93,000,000, making the total increase for the two weeks $206,000,000.

At the same time, the board reported a $27,000,000 shrinkage in money in circulation after a slight upward movement of $2,000,000 in the previous week. On last Wednesday money in circulation in the United States amounted to $5,398,000,000. This was $777,000,000 more than was in circulation a year ago.

The report showed a further drop in the monetary gold stock during the week of $9,000,000 to $4,368,000,000.

Total reserve bank credit on April 27, amounted to $1,785,000,000, an increase of $85,000,000 for the week and $849,000,000 in the last year.

I. C. C. Considering Four-Party System

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(INS.)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today considered the problem of amending its original railroad consolidation plan providing for five trunk-line systems in eastern territory and allow a four-party system, as requested by executives of eastern roads.

The commission probably will not hand down its decision before midsummer, in view of the voluminous record in the case and the importance of the question involved.

National Is Only Steel Company to Show Profit For First Three Months

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

NATIONAL STEEL Corporation came up to expectations for the first quarter when it earned $502,799 after all charges. This was equivalent to 27 cents a share on the capital stock and covered dividends for the period at the present rate of $1 a share annually. In the first quarter of 1931 net profit was $1,926,000 or 89 cents a share.

Not only is National Steel the only one of the leading steel companies to earn its common dividend in the first quarter of the year, but also it is the only steel company of those which have published their reports so far, to show any profit at all for the period.

The company's earnings have suffered from the declining volume of business and reduced prices for steel but its ability to continue to report profits in the face of the most adverse conditions in the history of the industry places National in an outstanding position.

E. T. Weir, chairman of the board of directors, has stated that buying of steel increased slightly since the end of the first quarter and the company's operations are now at a somewhat higher rate than prevailed last month.

Plants Located at Strategic Points

SEVERAL FACTORS have contributed to the stability of National's earnings. First of all, its plants are among the most modern in the industry. They are located at strategical points from the standpoint of supplies of raw material and ease of reaching markets. Operations are highly centralized so that production does not involve costly hauls of semi-finished material between plants.

The company is the sixth largest steel producer in the United States. It is the largest independent maker of tinplate and the fact that this product has been the most stable branch of the steel industry has contributed to the maintenance of earning power.

In this district plants are located at Weirton and Clarksburg, W. Va., and at Steubenville, O. This gives the organization the advantage of low cost rate transportation for getting coal and for shipping finished products to points in the South. The Detroit, Mich., plant has a substantial freight advantage over plants in other districts and is the only large steel maker close to the center of automobile production. The company also has blast furnace properties at Buffalo, N. Y., later ore deposits in the Lake Superior iron mining district and a fleet of ore carrying vessels on the Great Lakes. A lake front site is owned in the Chicago district where National eventually will construct another large mill.

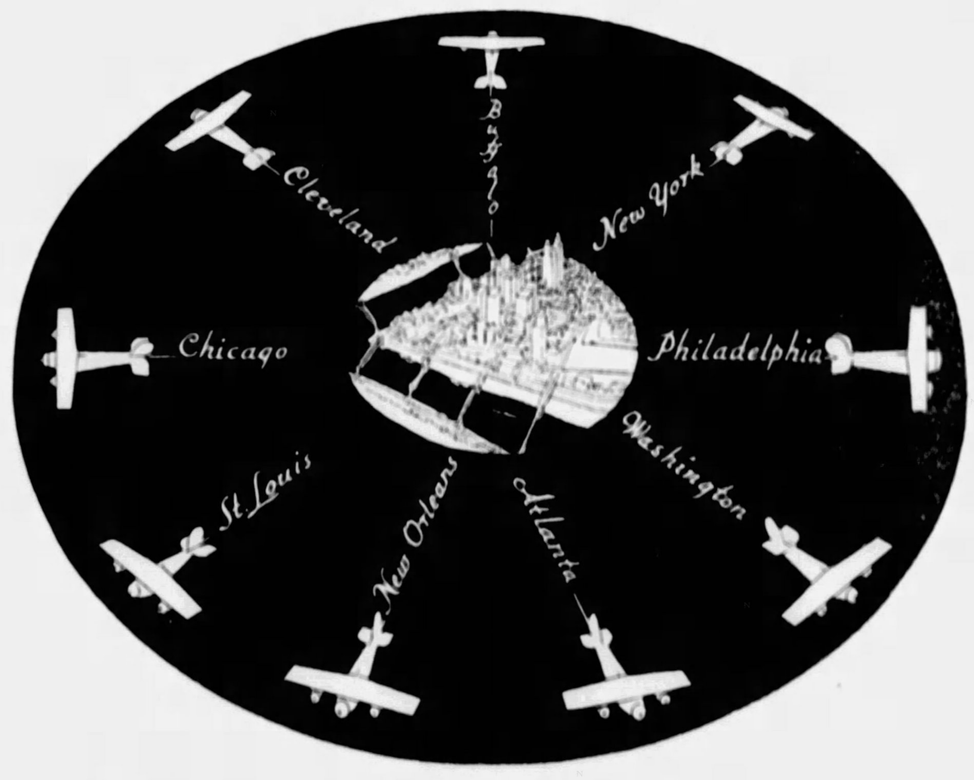
Bond Interest Covered Two and One-Third Times

PROFIT BEFORE deducting depreciation, depletion, interest and taxes was $2,024,655 in the first quarter of the year. Reserves for depreciation and depletion amounted to $785,560, which left $1,239,094 available for bond interest. This was 2 1-3 times the interest requirements for the three months.

In the full year of 1931 net profit was $4,443,323 or $2.06 a share, which covered the $2 dividend rate in effect at that time. In 1930, net profit was $8,415,822, or $3.91 a share.



PITTSBURGH'S AIR TRANSPORTATION

THIS week marks the Fifth Anniversary of Pittsburgh's air transport services. Since inception in 1927 they have grown until Pittsburgh is now the hub of over 10,000 miles of daily scheduled flights, and is connected directly by air lines with every other major city in the United States.

With foresight and courage, millions of dollars have been spent in the Pittsburgh District developing radio, weather stations, beacons and landing fields until the airways which converge on Pittsburgh are among the finest in the country.

Our city is now receiving its dividends in the form of faster business intercourse with other cities, as well as through the production of large quantities of materials used by airplane manufacturers and air lines.

Pennsylvania Airlines, Inc., pioneer of air transport services in this section, is to be congratulated on the success achieved during the past five years, and we wish it constantly increasing growth and prosperity.

STOCK MARKET TUMBLES TO LOW LEVEL

Numerous Leaders Tumble To New Minimums; List Shows Better Resistance

NEW YORK, April 29.—(AP.)—The stock market slid back to around the bottom level of 1929-32 decline today.

The list showed a little better resistance to pressure than it did during the flurry late yesterday, but losses of 1 to 2 points or more were numerous by early afternoon. Tangible news developments to account for the latest slump were lacking.

Among issues declining 1 to 2 points to new minimum levels for recent years were American Telephone, American Can, Allied Chemical, DuPont, Union Carbide, Eastman, Sears, Case, Electric Autolite and New York Central. The decline embraced all important groups, including the rails, which had acted somewhat better of late. Bethlehem Steel reacted 1½ to 38, a new minimum, despite maintenance of the 7 per cent dividend rate. National Lead and Brown Shoe dropped several points in a thin market.

Wall street was somewhat mystified as to the source of the latest selling, which in two days has wiped out virtually all of the gains of the preceding four days. Bankers were inclined, however, to regard the continued uncertainty surrounding the matters of federal taxation and budget balancing as bringing out further discouraged selling. Furthermore, some quarters detected institutional selling.

Suspension of the St. Louis Stock Exchange firm of Mark C. Steinberg & Co. was presumably an adverse factor, but there was an inclination to minimize its influence in view of the fact that it was explained that a receiver was sought merely to wind up the business.

The Federal Reserve credit expansion program failed to reflect any further loosening up of credit on the part of the New York members in the weekly statement. While these banks are completely out of debt at the Federal Reserve, and their balances at the federal increased $125,000,000 in the past week, they curtailed their loans to customers by $50,000,000 and increased investments by only $7,000,000. Some commentators were inclined to the view that taxation uncertainty was hampering the Reserve system's credit expansion plan through making financial quarters cautious.

The weekly mercantile reviews reported a little belated seasonal stirring in business. Bradstreet's said there had been a small upturn in department store and other merchandising centers, and noted a little improvement in industrial activity in a few cities in the central region.

COTTON PRICES TAKE DROP

NEW YORK, April 29.—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 3 to 7 points on liquidation, promoted by the easiness in cables. July sold at 6.06.

The decline extended to 6.04 for July, with all active months except May making new lows for the month and with the general market showing net losses of about 8 to 10 points at the end of the first half hour.

Prices yielded another few points later in the morning under continued liquidation and scattered selling, some of which may have come from the South. A few stop orders were uncovered on the decline to 6.00c for July, but they were absorbed by covering or trade buying and the market at midday was quiet and steady at net declines of about 10 to 12 points.

LIVERPOOL, April 29.—Cotton, receipts 15 bales, including 6,700 American. Spot moderate business done, prices 8 points lower. Quotations in pence. LOAN WILL AID P.R.R. WORKERS

NEW YORK, April 29 — (AP.) — If the Reconstruction Finance Corporation acts favorably in the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's application for a $58,000,000 loan the road will guarantee employment for 28,000 workers and at the same time will place substantial orders with numerous firms here affiliated with the railroad industry. Railroad interests are said to believe that the chances of a favorable decision on the loan have been considerably enhanced by the action taken by the road this week in omitting its dividend.

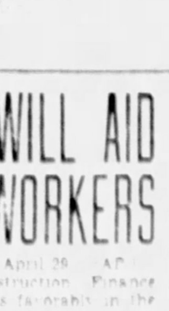
Senate's Tax Schemes Are Chimerical

By B. C. FORBES



Mr. Forbes

OUT OF THE House frying pan into the Senatorial fire. That's the fate befalling taxpayers.

Our tax levelers assuredly are not exhibiting common sense. Governed by selfish motives many are indulging in what they regard as vote-catching tactics. Actually they are chasing rainbows.

TAKE THE Senate's latest income tax proposals.

Any and every man who has so mastered his job as to be paid $100,000 or more a year would have to hand over half his pay to the government. In other words, for six months each year he would be doomed to forego his pay, the government would take all of it.

But in the case of some second-generation leaflet bequeathed an income of $100,000 or more a year, he could—and doubtless would—go untaxed. If he hasn't already done so, all he would have to do would be to invest his money in tax-exempt securities. Billions of such securities are available.

NOW, HOW CAN any senator or anyone else defend such discrimination? The man who has to earn his large salary by the sweat of his brain becomes, in effect, a slave working for the government six months a year without any pay from the government, but for the privilege of handing over to the government $50,000, while the individual who has neither to toil nor spin but sit back and clip coupons doesn't have to pay a nickel.

SENATORIAL SOLONS also want to increase the tax on corporation profits to 14 per cent.

This week the Pennsylvania Railroad, always regarded as the premier railroad of the world, stopped paying dividends for the first time in 85 years. The United States Steel Corporation not only stopped dividends this week on its common stock, but is falling short of earning its preferred stock dividend. It is unusual rather than usual for American businesses to be able to maintain reasonable dividend payments.

Yet our lawmakers propose to penalize more than ever any corporation still able to keep out of red ink.

THE TRAGEDY is that such plans for raising taxation are chimerical. Bluntly they cannot and will not produce the revenue expected by the tax levelers.

It was all very well to call upon individuals and corporations to hand over large sums when these individuals and corporations were enjoying generous earnings, but deplorably few individuals and corporations are now enjoying large earnings.

Obviously, therefore, the amount collectible in taxes will be the reverse of large. You cannot extract blood from a stone.

SENTIMENT HAS swung overwhelmingly toward the mild manufacturers' sales tax. Many who shortsightedly objected to it have since become convinced that the alternatives proposed by Congress are infinitely more objectionable.

Indeed, it was the rebellious rejection of the sales tax in the House which precipitated the frash wave of disastrous nervousness and destruction of market values. The country gave every promise of moving forward before the House ran amuck.

Since then security and commodity prices have fallen to unprecedentedly low levels. The shrinkage in the market value of securities alone has been treble the nation's total deficit.

MEANWHILE THE wiseacres who, theoretically are our servants, but who have constituted themselves our incompetent masters, have shown no eagerness to obey the nation-wide demand that governmental extravagance be stopped. Manifestly, more joy is taken in increasing taxes than in reducing needless governmental expenditures.

That there is imperative need for cutting the cost of government in nation, state and city is made plain to every taxpayer—but not apparently to tax levelers—by the staggering fact that one-fifth of the people's income is forcibly taken from them to support governmental agencies.

Not even this richest of all nations can stand such a burden.

FRISCO TO GET R. F. C. LOAN

WASHINGTON, April 29 — (AP.) — E. N. Brown, chairman of the board of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway, announced last night that the Interstate Commerce Commission has approved and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will make a loan to care for the immediate requirements of the line.

The amount of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's loan was not stated. The railroad had applied for a loan of $12,717,814.

WASHINGTON, April 29 — (AP.) — The Interstate Commerce Commission today issued a final order making it possible for the St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company to complete financing of its loans due on June 1.

The order closely followed an application by the Southern Pacific for permission to carry out a commission requirement that it unqualifiedly indorse a loan of $18,000,000 to the St. Louis Southwestern.

The company was authorized by the order to issue not to exceed $4,500,000 of promissory notes in payment of half of a series of bank loans due June 1. The issuance of promissory notes and pledging of security to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for other loans also was authorized.

MURDER OF THE NIGHT CLUB LADY :-: :-: By ANTHONY ABBOT

CHAPTER XX.

In a department car, I was soon being rushed back to Center street. All during that dark ride, through wind and drizzle and dark, my mind revolved the riddle of this baffling case. I tried to figure the significance of the oddly assorted objects I carried with me. But I was only groping in the dark: I got nowhere.

Within half an hour after reaching headquarters I had performed my several and diversified errands. The hypodermic syringe was in the hands of a department chemist, yanked from between warm sheets and called to the cold glare of the Center street laboratory. To him was also entrusted the buckled strap which Colt had found and to which he attributed such enigmatic importance. Finally, I had turned the photograph over to Gavin, the telegraph manager. When the grizzled old operator heard what was wanted he looked at me with a skeptical squint.

"Telephoto—to Paris?" he repeated in a nasal tone full of complaint. "And with the government tying up the wires trying to argue with the French about money!"

He leaned forward and grabbing my shoulder, fixed me with an eye as glittering as the Ancient Mariner's.

"So the commissioner wants me to send that photo to Paris, eh? Does he know what that means? Of course he does not! You tell him for me that to wire this picture to Paris it has to be specially prepared chemically. Never thought of that, eh? Then it has to be exposed a minute area at a time to a transmitting device by means of which the line current is varied proportionately—never thought of that either, did you? The fastest time we've ever made is two hours. And they've got to get ready over in Paris—if we can do the job at all!"

GOES TO COLT'S PLACE

"The commissioner said it had to be done." I cut in impatiently. "Telephone him when the picture is over there."

Gavin eyed me dourly. But I knew he would do it. Such men—there are lots among the police veterans—are never able to do their best work unless they have a free tongue to grouch. Any of them would give his life for the department.

On my desk at headquarters I found several messages from my home. I looked at my watch. It was deep in the morning now. I wondered if Betty had fallen asleep. Poor kid! Police work is exciting, but not for wives. I decided it was better not to risk waking her. My tasks at headquarters were done and I returned uptown in a department car. In quick time I arrived at the gray-stone house with the green trim on West Seventieth street that used to be called "Little Headquarters" because Thatcher Colt transacted so much official business in his own home. Arthur, Colt's dusky Jamaican butler, greeted me with an ivory smile and led me to the vast library occupying the third floor of the house. There, in easy-chairs before the fire, I found the chief and the District Attorney. Beside them were whiskys and sodas and a third chair was drawn up for me with a tall drink waiting and undefiled. A bright fire of logs crackled and sparkled in the open grate. On Thatcher Colt's shoulder crouched a Siamese cat with blue eyes and blue-pointed ears—Judas was his name because once he had scratched his master. Now they were great friends.

When I entered the room, Colt was talking on the portable telephone beside his chair to the Rochester police chief. Their conversation was brief.

"Tony," the chief drawled as he hung up the receiver, "the brother of Christine Quires received a telegram from New York early yesterday afternoon. The Western Union won't disclose its contents without a court order. However, I expect to find out what was in the message just the same. But we do know Edward Quires and his wife left at once for New York—around 10 o'clock last night. Find out what train is due to arrive in New York from Rochester. Have one of our men board the train at Harmon and page Mr. Edward Quires. Bring him and his wife to headquarters."

As I relayed these messages to Flynn, still over at the penthouse and functioning from there, Colt and Dougherty conversed in low tones, their voices almost obliterated by the cry of the wind in the dark street below. But presently Flynn told me something which seemed so startling to me that I held the inspector on the wire while I relayed his discovery.

In Eunice's room, under a mattress, Flynn had found a box of writing paper and a small bottle of ink. Both were identical with the materials of the death note. On being questioned about it, Eunice admitted that she had bought the paper and ink, but could give no satisfactory reason for having them under the mattress. In fact, she even denied having put them there.

"Tell Flynn to send the bottle and paper down to headquarters at once," ordered Colt. "Get the finest print men busy on them, and leave a personal report on my desk."

These instructions I conveyed to Flynn, asking him at the same time if he had any further news. What he had to tell was none too encouraging. Mrs. Carewe had been given a sedative by Dr. Baldwin who had been called back to the apartment at her insistent demand. Now she was peacefully sleeping with Dorothy Lox sitting at the bedside and detectives guarding all the doors and terrace windows. As Colt had instructed, detectives from the homicide bureau were busily checking on the past life histories of all involved. In quest of Christine Quires' background three men from our department were already in a police airplane flying to Rochester to work there in connection with the local police. Meanwhile, a large corps of men had been checking through the diaries and correspondence down at headquarters.

The results were meager. Unlike some of the diaries which have been made public in recent New York murder cases, the self-kept record of Lola Carewe betrayed nothing except trivialities. There was no mention of love affairs or financial transactions. A number of prominent men were mentioned, but only casually. They would be questioned within the next 12 hours. But we did not expect much from them. The same lack of clues was evident in the letters of Christine and Lola.

"One thing more," I told Mr. Colt, snapped the bluff voice of Inspector Flynn. "I checked up on that actor Everett's story. No car like his went on the Parkway after 12 o'clock tonight. I checked all the entrances. Everett was lying like hell!"

"Thank Flynn," called Colt. "Tell him I'll question Everett again later today. Keep me posted."

(To Be Continued Tomorrow.)

Synopsis

Following the receipt of a death threat, Lola Carewe, known as "The Night Club Lady," is mysteriously slain in her penthouse apartment at 3 a. m. New Year's. Dr. Hugh Baldwin reports death due to heart failure. The only clue to the murderer is a medical laboratory specimen box found outside Lola's window. Police Commissioner Thatcher Colt attaches importance to the young man whose photograph is found in Lola's room, and whose identity Lola had refused to reveal beyond his first name, "Bas." At the mention of "Bas," Mrs. Carewe, Lola's mother, becomes hysterical. It is known that Lola quarreled with Guy Everett and Vincent Rowland, a lawyer, over investments. Eunice, the maid, confesses she was employed by Everett to report the goings on in the apartment. The mystery deepens with the finding of the body of Christine Quires, Lola's guest. Christine had been killed before Lola and her body hidden until an opportune moment arrived for the murderer to place it, soaking wet, in Lola's room. The findings are similar to those in Lola's case except that Christine's neck was bruised after death. Everett, Christine's last escort, claims he left her at the apartment elevator at midnight New Year's Eve, and then went for a ride on the Motor Parkway, alone, arriving home after 3 a. m. Mrs. Carewe informs Colt that Christine lived with a brother, Edward, in Rochester, and was to receive her inheritance shortly. Colt orders Basil's picture telephotoed to the Paris police.

Now Go On

She denied having put the paper and ink under the mattress.

Heart of a Wife

By ADELE GARRISON

Mary Sends a Cryptic Message From the Brixton Home

Katie's lips put the tremulous query that I was mentally framing.

"Vat you tink Meeses Graham? I better vake her oop and have her talk? You tink something happened?"

"Of course not, Katie," I said, trying to assure myself as well as my nervous little maid, "and I will talk to Mrs. Brixton myself."

As I picked up the receiver I found my throat so dry that I could hardly voice Helena Brixton's name.

"Lillian?" her voice was sharp. "Your voice doesn't sound right. Have you a cold?"

"This is Mrs. Graham," I said quickly. "Is there anything wrong?"

"Oh! no, indeed." Helen Brixton's musical voice held a note of amusement. "But where is Lillian?"

A vague unreasoning resentment stirred in me to her query. Did I imagine it or was there a subtle snub in her question? I knew that a foolish jealousy of Lillian's friendship for Helena Brixton was the cause of my resentment.

"She is asleep," I answered, "utterly worn out with." I stopped aghast as I realized that I must not speak over the telephone of the presence of the wounded Chinese in our home.

"With a toothache which has driven her nearly wild for a week," I hastily substituted.

CONCERNED ABOUT GIRLS

"Oh, I'm so sorry." Mrs. Brixton's voice was genuinely sympathetic. "Of course, you mustn't disturb her, yet I don't know how to manage without her, knowing what I want of her. You know how strict she is about having Marion return from a visit at the time she has set, and we want to keep Marion and Mary several days longer. What am I going to do?"

I had been thinking rapidly and I spoke with decision.

"I shan't bother Lillian with it at all," I said. "Harry is here and I know that she has the fullest confidence in his judgment. I don't know where he is just now, but as soon as he comes in I'll get his verdict and call you back."

"You're sure that Lillian won't think I should have consulted her?"

"I am positive of it," I answered, and hoped that she did not notice the acidity of my voice.

"Well! I suppose that's the best that can be done," she said a bit grudgingly, or so I imagined. "But when you talk to Mr. Underwood will you please tell him that Mary and Marion are apparently having such a good time that it would be a shame to have them come home? And there is an especial party we are planning for this week-end which will be completely spoiled if they are not part of it."

"I'll do my best," I promised, and she uttered a perfunctory "thank you" and then spoke more briskly.

"Oh! yes, dear, right here. Take the receiver. I have to run anyway."

FEARS EAVESDROPPERS

The next instant Mary's lilting voice came over the wire to me.

"Hallo there! Aunty Madge," she said. "I meant to get you on the 'phone some time today anyway and when I heard Mrs. Brixton talking to you just now, I jumped at the chance to talk to you. Wait till I close the door. Mrs. Brixton left it open when she went out into the garden and there is nobody else in the house but me, so it's up to me to do the chores."

As plainly as if she had said it in so many words I understood that she was not able to talk to me without fear of eavesdroppers and that there was something which she wished me to know.

I looked around to see that the doors near me were shut and then spoke cautiously.

"Is everything all right?"

"Yes, and no," she replied.

"Is something worrying you?"

"Yes, I am afraid you'll call us home," she said, "but I have a reason stronger than the good time I'm having."

"Can you tell it to me over the phone?" I asked anxiously.

"If you can read cryptograms," she said.

"Let me hear them," I said.

"Do you remember your Kipling?" she asked, "especially the Stalky stories?"

"Yes."

"Then will you fix your mind upon this proverb?" she said. "The bleating of the goat attracts the tiger."

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS JUNIOR KOMIC CLUB

"I pledge loyalty to my country, obedience to my parents, love for my fellow playmates. I will be honest and truthful in school, on the playground wherever I may be. I will respect my elders, help the aged and do my best to spread good cheer."

The above pledge of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club will be repeated tomorrow by thousands of boys and girls when the Grand Jesters call the regular weekly meetings to order in the 17 Warner theaters.

HOME TALENT

Most of the talent will come from the members themselves. It's surprising how many of the youngsters with just a little encouragement from the manager of the theater will get upon the stage, sing or dance, or recite a poem they have learned in school. In fact most of the managers have a waiting list of anxious youngsters that want to entertain at these regular weekly meetings.

If you are not a member of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club, go to any of the theaters listed here at the time of the regular meeting and enroll. the manager will give you your membership card and button. Or if you are unable to attend the meetings tomorrow send your name and address, name of your parents, school you attend, date and year of your birth to the Secretary, Junior Komic Club, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa., and a membership card will be mailed you.

Playing Pork-Barrel Politics With Misery

Instead of reducing federal expenditures and improving the federal service, the House Economy Committee has reported an omnibus bill which would increase many federal expenditures and irritate the federal service.

Instead of providing for an intelligent reorganization of the executive branch of the federal government, the House Economy Committee has reported a bill that deals with only a few governmental activities, and deals most unintelligently with many of these.

Instead of attempting to eliminate waste and duplication in the federal service, the House Economy Committee has reported a bill which creates many new offices in one part, and in another provides for the dismissal of thousands of experienced employes, thereby adding to the millions of citizens already out of work.

For these reasons the House acted wisely when it rejected the "gag" rule under which the authors of this legislative freak attempted to force it through the House without radical revision or adequate debate.

For these reasons this false economy measure should either be recommitted for revision in committee, or defeated by the House.

It would be false economy of the most fatuous sort to create a public works administration and place it under the control of the President.

It would be false economy of the most dangerous sort to abolish the offices of Assistant Secretary of War for Aviation and Assistant Secretary of Navy for Aviation unless they are to be replaced by a secretary for aviation with a seat in the cabinet.

It would be false economy of the most expensive sort to abolish the Army Transport Service and the Naval Transportation Service and compel the Secretary of War to dispose of the valuable docks and other shipping facilities of the War Department at panic prices to the greedy shipowners that are responsible for this provision in the so-called economy bill.

It would be false economy of the most brutal sort to legislate out of office, in the present emergency, 100,000 experienced federal employes in order to create new offices to be doled out as political pork by Congressional candidates for renomination and re-election.

In suppressing the hearings which it held upon the false economy bill now before the House, the special economy committee seems to have been more concerned with concealing from Congress and the country the real facts about its proposed legislation than in helping the Congress to legislate intelligently upon this question in the light of all the facts obtainable.

In view of the secrecy with which it was drafted and the injurious effect which its enactment into law would have upon the federal service and the public confidence, the sooner the House disposes of this uneconomical measure, either by recommitting it for revision or defeating it outright, the better it will be for federal economy, federal efficiency, and the experienced personnel of all branches of the federal service.

There is enough human misery abroad in the land today without adding to it by playing pork-barrel politics with the federal service under the false pretense of effecting economies in the national government.

A 'Backlog' of Bonds

Council Will Be Wise in Not Borrowing for Unemployment Relief Until All Else Fails.

The people of Pittsburgh have authorized Council, by a narrow margin, to issue $2,000,000 of bonds for public works on which the destitute can be employed, and $3,000,000 additional for distribution as alms.

It is said unofficially that Council probably will sell the $2,000,000 of work bonds at once, but will hold the $3,000,000 in reserve. This will be a wise policy.

This newspaper did not favor the bond issues because they will necessitate an increase in the tax rate on real estate, already too highly taxed. It was our opinion that the city would do better to furnish work relief through the construction of the subway, which would take nothing from the taxpayers for at least three years, and to depend on the state and the county and private charitable contributions for whatever additional help may be needed.

We hope, accordingly, that the unofficial statement that Council will save the $3,000,000 as a "backlog" is true. It may be that we will be able to get along without it. Gov. Pinchot has promised to call another special session of the Legislature to provide unemployment relief, and the state has many resources for raising money.

People of small means are having a hard time paying their taxes. Thousands are losing their homes through inability to pay. Consequently it is of almost as great importance that the tax rate shall be kept down as that municipal relief expenditures be increased.

By taxing something else besides real estate, the state can help the unemployed and save small property owners from the loss of their homes.

Opera for Pittsburgh

The Fine Arts Should Not Be Wholly Neglected Even In Times Like These.

For the first time in many years Pittsburgh has had no grand opera, not even by the cheap road companies, during the season now drawing to a close. The explanation no doubt can be found in the economic situation.

Yet Cleveland, with a metropolitan district population considerably smaller than ours, enjoyed four performances by the Metropolitan Opera Company last week. This is the ninth year in which the Metropolitan has played there.

Pittsburgh should make an effort to have a brief season of grand opera by the ablest company next year. The fine arts should not be wholly neglected, even in times like these. Grand opera has a cultural and educational value, and no community of a million or more people can afford to do completely without it.

The best grand opera cannot be obtained unless a box office guarantee is given. To assure our having at least a few performances next season it would be well if a committee of sponsors were formed.

It is none too early to start the formation of such a committee.

Thanks to the Pittsburgh Orchestra Association we have had annually for 17 years concerts by the best symphony orchestras and soloists. The supporters of the orchestra concerts would be doing something well worth while for the city if they would also pledge their support to a brief season of grand opera.

'One for All' Needed

All willing workers, each in his own particular field, nevertheless these three cooks need a directing head, a coordinator of their efforts, when all three set out to prepare a meal.

Each one has his own ideas as to what the boiling pot requires. And if each were to be permitted to carry out his own ideas, untrammeled, it wouldn't be a pretty dish to set before the waiting king.

There are intense rivalries, natural but costly; waste, extravagance, duplication of effort, overhead and service, and the national safety is endangered.

All three branches of the national defense must be developed rationally, equally; one must not be permitted to suffer at the expense of the national security.

For that reason the Hearst newspapers long have advocated the creation of a single headed Department of National Defense, with appropriate representation for each of the three arms of the service.

Once Overs

By J. J. Mundy

It is generally those who have not succeeded in getting where they wanted to go who resort to back biting.

Thwarted ambition in one way or another sours.

Then these mean souls seek a way to tear down and stamp on the very thing they most wish and the persons who take the places they want.

If they knew how transparent such tactics are to an observer they would not be so free with criticism.

None is exempt from misfortune.

None is always successful in making a longed-for goal.

If you want your friends to withhold the favors they might otherwise turn your way, just develop this "sour grapes" attitude.

Any group is better off without a backbiter.

There is nothing gained in keeping in touch with the catty.

Some folk think it very amusing to others to hear these little mean stabs and that is because most people laugh at such sallies.

But that laugh is not indicative of respect.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, April 29. — Thoughts while strolling Lavender and old lace ladies knitting under Central Park's wisteria bowers. The pungent scents from the zoo. The goat cart man on the Mall. Old men with sun parasols toddling about the croquet grounds. Grace George spins by in a limousine.

Theodore Roosevelt once saved this park from real estate marauders. Yet I see no monument for him. Sedate ladies who still ride side-saddle. Mrs. Phillip Kip Rhinelander. Her name has the cadence of New York, New Haven and Hartford to me. Sailors in rowboats. Sparrow cops.

Who remembers the Studebaker wagon show room on Broadway? And the American Horse Exchange where the Winter Circus is? Nobody can look so pontifical as Dudley Field Malone. Sign on private house: "Free graphs of your psychic oscillation." Back view, Stephen Rathbun, a ringer for Francis Wilson. Grace Tibbett.

The hubbub of W. 72d street. Once "the" residential street of the West Side. The apartment house where Frank Tinney put on the act with "Bubbles." Overheard: "And was I beered . . .?" A fluffy puppy dragging a broken violin bow. Channing Pollock, a Washington, D. C. boy, who made good in the city.

No city so radiant as New York. None so shabby. Thirty years ago everybody was reading Petroleum V. Nasby. The Danbury News Man and M. Quad. People who take quick, long breaths before diving into the subway. Which has the longer face—Julius Tannen or Lew Fields? George D. Buckley stepping along.

No institution offers the mellow relationship of an old book shop. Everybody on tip-toe, awhisper and beaming good will. Nathan Burkan, Chaplin's lawyer. Queenie Smith looks a Tom Boy. But is as shy as a pigeon. Ziegfeld's English instructor—Prof. Sobel.

Tough guys around the coffee pots. Yeah, boss. Who think up kidnapings. John V. A. Weaver, the poet. Ruth Raphael. Conquering Don Juans of the hotel foyers. Furtive fellows who hang around the garages. Ray Chapman Andrews could pass for Clive Brook. Broadway chiffoning into its evening pink.

Joe Frisco's verbal brilliancies are as widely quoted as those of any wit in town. Yet Frisco's theatrical engagements are far apart. Sometimes he seems trapped by his own loquacity—a habit often fatal to the professional career of comedians. Here is a great artist gypseying through life, diffusing his art free when it should be making him rich.

George Spelvin is a fiction character of the theater programs known chiefly to the consistent theatergoer. When an actor is called to play more than one role he is billed in the lesser part as George Spelvin. This season produced a Georgette Spelvin, a lady who played quite an unusual role. The curtain revealed her as a corpse in full view of the audience the entire first act. She has not always, however, played such motionless parts having once graced a pony ballet.

Perhaps the most enduring joke ever played on a writer was perpetrated by Cripple Creek some years ago with Julian Street as the target. He was touring the country for material magazined as "Abroad at Home." In Cripple Creek his descriptions were confined largely to a section called Myers avenue, a red light thoroughfare of gambling halls and bagnios. An outraged town council read the piece and held a special meeting. Myers avenue was re-named Julian street.

To me there is a monastic contentment about those stoop shouldered and tittupy venerables with skull caps, gray seersucker coats and half spectacles who bend over ponderous ledgers. Their frugal lunch is usually an apple and afterward they stroll some quiet street in studious reflection. Plodders of the world and clinging to elementals. I wonder if they are not the happiest.

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

You are not happy, you say? You wonder if you ever will be happy again. I do not know. I can only tell you something I have discovered about happiness. Perhaps that will help.

I have learned to build my happiness, collecting it bit by bit.

Once I did not need to do this. Once happiness came without effort or plan—as naturally as the sunrise, the song of the bird, the sweep of the glittering tide.

I had youth. I had curiosity and conceit. Best of all, I had love—someone to work for.

Then suddenly all that was swept away. Life became a brooding desolation. Nothing spoke. Nothing shone. Everything was over. My happiness was gone.

And at first I did not care.

But life does not let us stay that way. Life demands that we shall go on living, go on desiring.

And so I began to wish that happiness would come back to me. But I wished as a paralyzed man might wish for movement.

The paralyzed man thinks of motion coming back to him in a sudden miracle. I thought of happiness coming back to me in that way.

I felt that I, myself, could do nothing about it. It would just have to happen without my volition, and I waited for it to happen.

I waited for happiness to come sweeping back again like a glittering tide; like the song of a bird; like sunrise. But it did not come. Weeks, months, years I waited, but happiness did not happen. And my life was going stagnant. It was becoming a malignant thing, because I was not happy.

Then dimly I began to perceive that I was wrong. Happiness would not, could not, ever come back that way; for that sort of involuntary happiness was part of something that had gone forever.

EVEN IF A TRAGEDY HAD NOT BEFALLEN ME, I WOULD HAVE LOST THAT SORT OF HAPPINESS.

For it was part of youth, part of the exuberance and ignorance of youth, part of youth's irresponsibility; and it could not possibly continue when life became older and wiser and more responsible.

That did not mean, however, that happiness was over. It simply meant that one had to be grown-up about happiness, as about everything else.

I was no longer a care-free child in any other department of my life. I had learned to earn my living, to make my own decisions, to take care of my business, my property, my body. Now I would have to learn to take care of my happiness.

Things were not given to adults freely, without thought. Neither could happiness come freely, without thought, to a really grown-up person. Happiness must be planned for, fought for, achieved.

And so I learned to build happiness.

I NO LONGER WAITED FOR HAPPINESS TO HAPPEN. I MADE IT HAPPEN.

I realized I had to be happy.

I decided to be happy.

I decided to find happiness, and I began looking for it.

I began looking for it in every common incident of my life.

I took joy wherever I found it—in trifling experiences, in fleeting moods, in brief glimpses.

It wasn't easy at first. It was dreadfully hard. It was like going through a complicated tiresome, senseless drill. My heart was heavy as lead. My imagination refused to budge. I longed to retreat into the easy refuge of grief and despair—but I persisted.

And gradually something began to stir in me; warm in me, and I saw that my life held happiness again!

Not the radiance and ecstasy I had once known, but a deliberate delight which could find food for joy in the most barren places, and which no grief or loss could ever again shake.

So I came to build happiness. You can, too, if you will.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS

Spring Longings

O, ho! for a gypsy life,
Away from care and strife
And all the city's clamor;
Away from toil-filled days,
Away from crowded ways
And futile folly's glamor!

To follow the trail of a dream,
To chart by a white star's gleam
The road my feet would wander;
Ah, that is the life for me,
As free as the wind is free,
With golden hours to squander!

Oh, ho! for a life set free
From every boundary,
As free as the sea waves flowing;
And ah! that all lands seemed home,
Wherever I might roam,
Though far as the sea winds blowing!

Text For Today

A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them.—Ezekiel, xxxvi:26, 27.

In Honor of President James Monroe

By Claude G. Bowers

Author of "The Struggle for Democracy in America," "Founders of the Republic," "Jefferson and Democracy," "The Tragic Era" and other important works, now writing for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

This week an heroic sized statue of James Monroe was unveiled on the grounds of his home just out of Charlottesville, Va. This home, which he called "Ashlawn," is steeped in history of the early days of the republic. I have seen the house often. It falls far short of Monticello, the home of Jefferson, in magnificence and architectural beauty; or of Montpelier, the imposing brick mansion not so many miles away where James Madison lived with Dolly.

This one at "Ashlawn" is a frame house not imposing in dimensions. For unlike his friend and political mentor, Jefferson he never possessed a fortune. At the time of his marriage he wrote Jefferson of his desire to have a home very close to "Monticello" because of his devotion to its master. I have seen the letter to Jefferson, after Monroe had acquired some goodly acres in the valley quite close to the hilltop on which Jefferson built his home, asking the former to plan the new house, and warning him of the rather meager means for the purpose. And so Jefferson, one of the best of our early American architects, drew the plans.

It is easy to see Jefferson's genius as an architect at a glance at Monticello—still one of the most beautiful and artistic houses in America. To appreciate the resourcefulness, the inventiveness of the architect, however, one must visit "Ashlawn" and note the queer little devices through which he made every inch count to the best advantage.

A Lost Opportunity For a Portrait Painter

Monroe had one idea about the house—it should so be built that he could sit at the window day or night, and see his friend's house upon the hilltop. A more devoted friendship than that between these two great Americans would be impossible to find. Monroe had studied law under Jefferson; and thereafter he was a disciple, like Madison. Back from his official travels in Europe, Monroe brought a Norwegian pine which still stands; and some boxwood which he planted and is today worth going miles to see.

There, for many years, lived Monroe, and during these years the two friends saw each other frequently. It was in the days when the battle to make this a democratic instead of an aristocratic Republic was being fought; when fights meant broken bones and bloody noses; when the Federalists were jailing democratic editors. Many times Jefferson sat with Monroe on the lawn of the latter's home planning the battles, offensive and defensive.

In 1799, when the supreme campaign to end the Federalist regime was approaching, the three great friends, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe, found it wise to meet and plan the strategy. It was the intent naturally, at first, to meet at Monticello. But there was danger there. Secrecy was thought important and Monroe's house was more remote from prying eyes.

Thus that epochal conference was held at Ashlawn. What a conference! There was the author of the Declaration of Independence and the philosopher of democracy; there was Madison, the "Father of the Constitution;" and there was Monroe, destined to immortality as the father of the Monroe doctrine. What a lost opportunity for a portrait painter!

Monroe Was a Two-Fisted Fighting Man

Of the three men, Monroe was the fighter. Jefferson relied much on the finesse of diplomacy. He was incomparable as a strategist. Better than any man in American history, he could plan a battle. And he had a genius for finding just the right men for each place in the battle line. But he was usually remote from the fighting—like the commanders of great armies today.

Madison was a shy man, conciliatory, and he found quarrels and fights distasteful. In this particular he resembled Jefferson. When, in the battle over the ratification of the Constitution, it became necessary for him to discontinue writing on the Federalist to take the stump in Virginia, it was torture. He hated crowds.

But Monroe was a two-fisted fighting man; and he dealt hard blows. He was hated by the Federalists because of their bruises, and some of this hate has crept into "history."

The Execution Of Robespierre

No human being was ever accorded more dastardly treatment than that accorded Monroe in his embassy to revolutionary France—but that is a long story. Because of the treachery to which he was subjected, he wrote on his return a book, defending his action. Nowhere I think, is to be found a more graphic description of the effect of the execution of Robespierre. Monroe landed at Havre a day or so after the dictator had paid the penalty of his tyranny.

The American drove to Paris, and on the day, and after he reached the city, he talked with men of all classes, studied the expressionss of the people, and in his report to his government, in the most interesting of accounts, he concluded that everyone was happy that Robespierre was gone. Though he had been in France but a few days his analysis of the conditions reads like the conclusions of a present day historian.

The Federalists in America had been picturing Jefferson and Monroe as devotees of Robespierre—because they were with the French against the combination of the kings, seeking to crush the revolution. The cod-fish aristocracy here had actually worn mourning after the execution of Louis XIV.

But here, in this report of Monroe, we learn that he looked upon Robespierre as a monster whose death would be a godsend to France.

Saved Mme. Lafayette From the Guillotine

When he reached Paris he was importuned by the friends of Thomas Paine, and of Mme. Lafayette, the wife of the friend of America, to intercede for their release from prison. Since Paine was an American, there was ample justification for active and official intercession in his behalf. But Mme. Lafayette was French. Her people had been executed just before. Lafayette was hated. There could be no justification for official intercession here; but Monroe agreed to do all he could with propriety.

And cleverly he did it. With Mrs. Monroe he called on Mme. Lafayette in her prison. As she heard steps in the corridor she assumed that her summons to the guillotine had come. Thereafter, day after day, Mrs. Monroe called; and each day as she left she instructed the doorkeeper or jailer to inform the head of the prison that "the wife of the American minister will call on Mme. Lafayette tomorrow at 3 o'clock." This manifestation of friendship on the part of the American minister, whose country's friendship was wanted by the French, saved the life of the wife of our benefactor. Her first act on being released was to call at the American legation to express her appreciation.

The next time Monroe saw Lafayette it was, in the role of President, to welcome the French nobleman to America.

Monroe Was Neglected

It is far from creditable to American historical scholarship that until this hour there is no adequate, or even remotely adequate, biography of Monroe. Imagine such neglect in England—or France—or anywhere else! During the many years when the Federalist school dominated the writing of American history, Monroe was neglected—for never was he a favorite with that tribe. Now at length a definitive biography in two volumes is promised for the fall. And we are informed it will smash some of the favorite libels of the "histories"—particularly in reference to the near-duel with Hamilton.

What an outrage that in "Alexander Hamilton," the Arliss picture, the American people permit the vicious libel of Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe!
